GIRL WIFE IS DEAD AND HUSBAND BELIEVED DYING AS SHOOTING CLIMAXES LONG SERIES OF QUARRELS

Mrs. J. R. Hornady Elected Head of Woman's Club

GOODMAN FORCES LOSE BY 30 VOTES; LONG FIGHT ENDED

NO DEMONSTRATION DEVELOPS AT POLLS

Judge Humphries To Hand Down Order This Morning, Declaring Mrs. Hornady New President.

Mrs. John R. Hornady is the choice of the Atlanta Woman's club for president of that organization.

This was definitely established Wednesday afternoon when supporters of Mrs. Hornady outvoted the group led by Mrs. Charles Goodman by a margin of 30 ballots, in a court-supervised election. The result of the election, announced to a score or more of club members who had been awaiting the returns since the polls closed, produced the only demonstration of the day at the club, when those receiving the news of the election gave voice to cheers.

The returns of the election, given to the members at the club by Mrs. R. I. Reed, acting president, were 222 votes for Mrs. Hornady against 192 for Mrs. Goodman. Two votes were thrown out because of improper marking, thus making a total of 416 votes cast out of a total of 591 members qualified to vote.

Election Orderly.

Conduct of the election was orderly and in strict keeping with the instructions of Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton superior court, who had charge, under a decision of the state supreme court which ordered the special election. Counting of the ballots required approximately an hour, as a triple check was instituted in order to make absolutely sure of the result.

The election returns will be certified to Judge Humphries this morning by Robert Ramspeck and Hugh Burgess, who were appointed by the court as Judge Humphries' represen-

Clark Howell Issues Statement Emphatically Denying Rumor That Constitution Has Been Sold

TO THE PUBLIC:

The report reaches me in New York while attending a meeting of directors of the Associated Press that a rumor is in persistent circulation in Atlanta that The Constitution has been sold or that negotiations are pending for a sale, and that I am here on that business.

So generally has this report been circulated that I make the statement now that there is not a word of truth in it.

The Constitution is not for sale and no proposition for whatever amount would be given a moment's consideration.

The Constitution is more than a Georgia newspaper; it is a state institution. And so long as I live it will never pass out of the hands of its present ownership.

This report no doubt originated in negotiations which brought my son, Major Clark Howell, Jr., here with our advertising director, Mr. Herbert Porter, concerning a change in our national advertising representation, and a contract has just been closed with the Kelly-Smith company by which that well-known organization will hereafter represent The Constitution in the national field, with Mr. J. R. Holliday retaining his position as national advertising manager.

CLARK HOWELL,
Editor The Constitution.

RAILROADS SLASH RATES TO MACON

Bus Lines Also Announce Reduction in Fare; $2 One Way and $3 Round Trip After February 1.

Simultaneous with the disclosure that both the Southern railway and the Central of Georgia planned to decrease the passenger fare between Atlanta and Macon to $2 one way and $3 a round trip, bus lines operating between the two cities Wednesday announced that they would make a new rate schedule with reductions in comparison to those of the railroads.

The sharp reductions in passenger fares between Atlanta and Macon and intermediate points over the Central of Georgia and the Southern will go into effect February 1. Notices of new tariff schedules have been filed with the state public service commission by the Southern, an action which followed a similar procedure on the part of the Central, while J. C. Steinmetz, southern manager of the Greyhound bus lines, said that his company had decided on new rates several days ago previous to hearing anything in regard to a similar action on the part of the railroads. H. W. Pierce, of the Pierce Motor lines, said that in all probability his company would meet the reduction in the near future.

The new railroad rate between Atlanta and Macon will be $2 for a straight fare and $3 for a round trip with a ten-day return limit. Fares between intermediate points will be reduced proportionally, J. A. Perry, chairman of the public service commission, said Wednesday.

Mr. Perry said that his information was that the railroads were trying the new rates as an experiment

INJUNCTION HALTS FUNDS FOR PARKS

City appropriations totaling $167,402.18 were tied up in Fulton superior court Wednesday, when injunction proceedings seeking to prevent the city from making alleged illegal expenditures of money on park purchase notes, charitable institution donations and equipment payments were instituted by C. M. Towery, W. N. Acree and W. C. Wilkerson. A temporary restraining order signed by Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy requires the city to show cause on February 5 as to why the injunction prayed for should not be granted.

The trio of petitioners filed the injunction suit as citizens and taxpayers against the city of Atlanta, I. N. Ragsdale, mayor; B. Graham West, city comptroller, and J. H. Ewing, Jr., city treasurer. Following service of the papers by a deputy sheriff Wednesday afternoon, Mayor Ragsdale and City Attorney James L. Mayson declined to comment upon the matter, except that Mr. Mayson declared that the suit would be resisted vigorously by the city.

Appropriations Listed.

The suit names the following appropriations listed in the January finance sheet, adopted by council Monday night, as the basis for the suit:

Purchase of two Elgin sweepers for the sanitary department, $13,363; purchase of six automobile trucks for the sanitary department, $20,700; balance due on purchase and installation of a steam boiler at Battle Hill sanitorium, $4,639.87; purchase of two 3 1-2-ton trucks for the street department, $9,700; purchase money due on Eleventh ward park, $6,000; purchase money due on Washington park, $3,000; interest on notes of John A. $75,000,000 ROAD ISSUE IS INDORSED BY COUNTY HEADS

The plan to amend the state constitution so as to permit a bond issue of $75,000,000 for the completion of the state highway system was given unanimous approval at a meeting here Wednesday of the executive and highway committees of the Georgia Association of County Commissioners, a subcommittee from the Macon Chamber of Commerce, together with representatives of the Georgia legislature, the Georgia Automobile association and others.

Machinery for setting the plan into motion was not perfected, however, pending final indorsement by full membership of the association at its annual meeting in Augusta on April 17, 18 and 19. If accepted there a resolution will be drawn and the matter placed before the state legislature.

The highway situation has been somewhat clarified within the past few days through the appointment of another commissioner, Walter D. Stewart, chairman of the Fulton county commissioners, said in opening the joint session.

Work Is Clear-Cut.

"It seems that our work is clear-cut," he said, "and that we now have to decide whether to push the bonds, decide on how much the issue should be, and how to bring about its indorsement by the legislature and the people."

W. Cecil Neill, legislative leader, expressed belief that a statewide campaign to create sentiment for the bond issue was necessary. Personally he was in favor of the state issuing bonds, he said, but thought there would be considerable opposition. He had always considered the state highway problem a state problem, he said, and believed that money expended on state and federal roads by counties should be refunded to them. He promised his "hearty support as in the past" to any movement to bring about rapid completion of the highway system.

Numerous committee members spoke in favor of the plan, including Assemblymen Hamilton McWhorter, of Lexington; E. M. Williams, of Monroe, and W. H. Key, of Monticello. Mr. Key said that while he was favorable to the bond issue that he considered it necessary to "get to work immediately if we hope to get action by June." Many parts of Georgia have been "hard hit" during the past few years, he said, and putting over a bond issue would be difficult.

Others who addressed the meeting include Miss Emily Woodward, of

Congress Members Call at White House To Get Support for Smith-Fulmer Measure.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

Washington, January 23.—Calling at the white house today, a delegation of southern members of congress, including Senator W. J. Harris and Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, strongly urged President Coolidge to approve passage of the pending Smith-Fulmer bill, providing a fund of $15,000,000 for the relief of southern farmers suffering injury to crops from storm and flood conditions during the past year.

The bill has already been passed by the senate and is now before the house agricultural committee for consideration. It is estimated that a large number of Georgia farmers and others would benefit by the loan provisions of the measure, which would open the way for financing of spring crops.

Acting as the spokesman for the Georgia group Senator George told the president that unless federal relief were forthcoming many farmers of the section would be severely handicapped in their operations.

He pointed out that several precedents are of record in support of the proposed aid and urged that the southern states affected be accorded similar treatment.

President Coolidge, it was stated, was found sympathetic to the proposal, but is understood to have withheld his indorsement until the condition of the treasury, with respect to the threatened deficit, is fully determined. It was indicated that part of the fund might be recommended if not all.

CREW OF ITALIAN SHIP IS RESCUED

Captain Fried Once More Writes Name in Epic of Sea by Saving Imperiled Men on Freighter.

New York, January 23.—(AP)—Captain George Fried, of the United States liner America again wrote his name into an epic of the sea tonight when he rescued the 32 members of the crew of the disabled Italian freighter in a roaring westerly gale 700 miles off the Virginia capes.

No details of what must have been a thrilling battle with the sea were given in the laconic message which the quiet mannered little man, who always seems to be around when there is heroic work to be done, sent to his line's offices here telling of the rescue. His message said:

"Rescued full crew Florida. Total 32. Chief Officer Harry Manning in charge. Whole westerly gale. Lifeboat lost. Proceeding. More details later."

Old shipping men, reading those words "whole westerly gale" could visualize what must have been a terrific job. A "whole gale" means a 75-mile an hour wind, and mountainous seas which must have been tossing the little disabled freighter around like a cork. How Captain Fried maneuvered his great liner in those seas, lowered a lifeboat and got it safely alongside the Florida and then back safely to the America remains to be told.

CO-ED WHO HELD UP BANK FOR "THRILL," GETS A NEW TRIAL

Austin, Texas, January 23.—(United News.)—Becky Rogers, former University of Texas co-ed, who robbed the Farmers' National bank, of Buda, Texas, "for a thrill" and was subsequently sentenced to 14 years imprisonment, was granted a new trial today by the court of criminal appeals.

At her trial, two bank officers identified Mrs. Rogers as the woman who held them up with a pistol and locked them in the bank vault while she escaped with $1,000. Mrs. Rogers said she thought the pistol was unloaded.

The money later was recovered in the Austin postoffice, where she had mailed it to herself.

Dementia praecox was the defense offered when Mrs. Rogers was tried a year ago.

Inquires of Republican Leaders Reasons for His Success in Breaking Ranks of Solid South.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Miami Beach, Fla., January 23.—(United News.)—President-elect Hoover began today—his first in his Florida vacation—to draft plans to build up an effective republican political organization below the Mason and Dixon line.

He started by inquiring of southern republicans leaders the reasons why, in the presidential election, he broke the hitherto solid south.

He asked for an assessment of the election in the south from Stuart W. Cramer, of Charlotte, N. C., prominent textile manufacturer, who took a leading part in Hoover's southern campaign and subsequently has been mentioned for the cabinet.

Cramer said after his luncheon conference with the president-elect at the J. C. Penney estate, that he did not discuss cabinet matters and when informed he had been mentioned as likely secretary of the navy, asked:

"Is that all fixed? Nothing was said to me about it."

Hoover will have a conference tomorrow morning with Dwight W. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, who will arrive here from Nassau at 8 o'clock and have breakfast with the president-elect.

The president-elect showed a keen interest in the republican party situation in the south in his conference with Cramer and his line of inquiry today is expected to be followed with other visitors from this section of the country.

"He was really interested in the controlling factors of the election," Cramer said.

"He wanted to know the probable result in the state if you deduct religion, prohibition and Tammany. I told him I thought he was deducting too much. I informed him that North Carolina is ready for a determined effort and ready to respond to it."

Cramer said he considered the situation in North Carolina especially favorable for the republican party, explaining that the party had won one-third of the assembly.

"That is getting down to the grass roots," he said, "and is a good foundation for building up the party."

Cramer, who is president of the Southern Textile Manufacturers' association, is a graduate of the Naval academy. He was in the class with Secretary of Navy Wilbur, and retains an interest in naval matters.

MRS. EICH'S NOTE RELATES HER PLAN TO LEAVE HUSBAND

SIX SHOTS FIRED, FOUR FIND MARK

Young Couple, Married for Only Ten Months, Had Been Separated Five Times.

In their ten months of married life, 17-year-old Elizabeth Eich and her 18-year-old husband, Ernest, quarreled and separated five times. They had their sixth quarrel Wednesday night. Mrs. Eich is dead. Her husband is at the Grady hospital, dying. The police say their investigation shows the girl shot her husband three times in the stomach and herself once through the heart. The The other two went wild.

The shooting took place at the home of Eich's parents, 283 Washington street. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Eich, and D. J. Enix, a roomer, heard the couple quarreling but they did not enter until after hearing the six shots in rapid succession. They found the girl on the floor dead and the boy attempting to get her pistol, a 32 caliber automatic, from beneath her body, saying that he wanted to "finish the job" himself.

Girl's Letter Found.

That Elizabeth was planning a permanent separation from her husband was evidenced by a communication found by police in the room where the shooting occurred.

Written on the cardboard back of writing tablet the note read:

"Well, Ernest, I guess this ends it. You told me to let you know when I was tired of you and so I am tired of your way of doing now so I am leaving in a good humor. I mean to stay gone for good and I mean to stay away this time. I mean I am through—you can go out with who you please and won't have anyone to tell you to stay at home or not go out at night and not to drink because I know you want to drink and I will not keep you from it. Maybe the next time you marry you will get someone who will not care for your drinking, gambling or going out night.

"So be like you want to. Now you won't have to tell a story about having a girl; all you will have to do is to go and come back when you want. Don't you like this better. I do.

"I have been cursed enough and not a pleasant word from you for what I do. You carry all the money around in your pocket as scared some one will get a penny of it or either put it in the bank in your name after you said you would change it. So be like you want to and I will do the same. I am just leaving in a good humor so don't think I am mad. Just have enough. So have the time of

BROOKHAVEN SLAYER GIVEN 5 TO 7 YEARS

Remus Johnson Found Guilty of Manslaughter in Brown Death.

Remus Johnson, of Brookhaven, Wednesday night was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to from five to seven years by a Fulton county superior court jury. Johnson was charged with having murdered G. W. Brown on November 25.

Trial of the case occupied the entire day in Judge E. D. Thomas' division of criminal courts, the jury receiving the case around 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Johnson pleaded self-defense as his motive for shooting Brown. The defendant claimed that the deceased Brown jumped on him and knocked him down, Johnson shooting while Brown was on top of him.

Testimony by J. R. Brown was that he and his brother went to Johnson's house for liquor, and that Johnson got mad at them and shot G. W. Brown. Brown claimed that he and his brother had been to Johnson's house and bought a quart of liquor two hours previous to the killing.

In his statement to the jury, Johnson denied having sold the Browns liquor, and said that they came to his home and asked for whisky, jumping on him when he told them that he did not have any liquor.

Johnson is represented by H. A. Allen and J. C. Miner, while the prosecution was conducted by Assistant Solicitor General J. Walter LeCraw.

Indiana Court Denies Petition For Ballot Recount

Indianapolis, Ind., January 23.—(AP)—The Indiana supreme court here today denied a petition by Ralph Updike, representative in congress from the seventh Indiana district, to mandate Judge Linn D. Hay, of the superior court here, to appoint commissioners to conduct a recount of the ballots cast in the election last November. Updike was defeated by Louis Ludlow, his democratic opponent.

Judge Hay decided several months ago that Updike's protest of Ludlow's election was not well founded and dismissed the case.

It was reported that Updike might take the contest to the house of representatives.

BREAD appears on your table so often, in so many varied forms, that it ought to be good bread. In more and more homes here, "good bread" means Oboy bread. It was dedicated first to boys and girls, but all the family enjoy it now. Its flavor is distinctive—and delicious. Its crunchy brown crust and its firm white heart are appetizing always. 19 Die as Trolley Crushes Bus

Associated Press Telephoto.

Nineteen of the 32 passengers on a motor bus, bound for Pittsburgh, were killed and the others injured when an interurban car struck the bus during a snowstorm near Bellevue, Ohio.

Bellevue, Ohio, January 23.—(AP)—Official and private investigators will confer here tomorrow to set a date for an inquest into the collision of an interurban car and a bus which tonight had left a toll of 19 deaths and 15 persons injured.

A series of investigations began today with preliminary statements and an examination of the scene of the crash, but they were temporarily halted because many of the passengers whose testimony is wanted were physically unable to tell their stories.

Five of the 19 dead remained unidentified.

Death Toll Mounts.

The death toll mounted to 19 today with the deaths of Teddy O'Browski, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Richard Freeman of Cleveland. Having a premonition of death, O'Browski, according to Chief of Police Charles North, confessed to a nurse that he had participated in bank robberies in Detroit and San Francisco. He said that two of his companions were shot and killed in the Detroit robbery in which he and the other men escaped with $46,000, which they hid somewhere in Connecticut. The San Francisco robbery he said, occurred in 1920. He gave no other details.

Another May Die.

George Gould, of Toledo, attorney for the Greyhound lines, today sent to the Greyhound headquarters at Chicago a statement signed by two passengers on the bus corroborating the story of the driver, Edward Butler, of Cleveland, that he came to a dead stop in a snowstorm about 15 feet from the crossing where the tragedy occurred, got out, looked in both directions, and wiped off his windshield before continuing across the tracks. Gould did not name the passengers.

Statements obtained here and at Sandusky by officials of the Lake Shore Railway company also indicated that the interurban crew observed the usual safety precautions. Two of the injured passengers, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Warnick, of Flat Rock, Pa., were released from the hospital.

EPISCOPAL COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS TODAY

Diocese of Atlanta To Close Macon Conference With Morning Luncheon.

Macon, Ga., January 23.—(AP)—Election of officers tomorrow morning and a luncheon will end the annual session of the council of the diocese of Atlanta of the Protestant Episcopal church. The council and the woman's auxiliary of the diocese opened its annual meeting at Christ church here last night.

The sessions were marked by three principal addresses: That of Bishop H. J. Mikell in the morning and of Robert S. Barrett, of Alexandria, Va., and Rev. H. W. Foreman, secretary of rural work of the national council, at night.

The bishop presented a resume of the activties of the year in the diocese national and international field. He made reference to the resignation of Rev. Randall Thomas Davidson as archbishop of Canterbury and the accession of Rev. Coso Gordon Lang as 95th archbishop.

"Archbishop Davidson," he said, made the see of Canterbury the rallying point of non-Roman Catholicism and extended the spiritual influence more than any other who preceded him."

In America, the outstanding event of the year, he found to be the general convention in Washington with its completion of the revision of the prayer book. The revised prayer book, he expected, would be ready for distribution by Easter.

In the diocese, Bishop Mikell made special reference to St. Luke's church, Atlanta, of which Rev. N. R. High Moor is rector.

"This church," he reported, "presented for confirmation the largest number that has been brought before me in any one parish since I became bishop." The progress of the enlargement of the high and industrial school, at Fort Valley, was also mentioned, two buildings having been completed during the year.

Several pages of the report were given to recognition of work performed by ministers and churchmen who had died during the year.

Mr. Collier, the new president, was formerly a resident of Barnesville. He moved to Athens several months ago to become president of the Southern Manufacturing company. His election to the presidency of the chamber of commerce is regarded as a fortunate move on the part of that organization and during Mr. Collier's tenure of office it is believed by those who know him that he will inaugurate and carry forward a constructive program.

MoreOccasional Showers Today, Forecast Says

More occasional showers accompanied by a moderate drop in temperature is the weather outlook for Atlanta and vicinity today, according to the forecast of C. F. von Herrmann, head of the local United States weather bureau. Rain is probable at any rate, he stated.

The temperature drop is not expected to be anything drastic, as the cold waves in other parts of the country will not reach Atlanta after all, Mr. von Herrmann stated. Another Texas disturbance is said to be responsible for the continued unsettled conditions here.

Wednesday's temperature extremes were 59 and 67, while today's will be from about 36 to 38 up to 50, Mr. von Herrmann figures.

PROFITS OF FRENCH GAMING PALACES INCREASE $1,000,000

Paris, January 23.—(AP)—Wealthy foreigners in France, especially Americans, risked their money more freely on the gaming tables in 1928 than ever before, say casino managers.

For proof they point to the fact that the profits of the 116 legal casinos in the country last year reached the sum of $16,500,000, an even million more than the previous banner year, 1927.

Letouquet, Deauville and Cannes, the particular happy hunting grounds of English and American gamblers, showed the greatest receipts. Nice, with its six casinos, was a close fourth.

Of the total casino profits, a little more than one-half went to the state revenues. An additional $1,000,000 also went to the state from the taxation on casino admissions and on playing cards.

Lack of School Budget Forces Officials To Delay Payments for December

Complications Hold Up Remittances of Teachers as Rumors of Reductions Are Dissipated.

Complications in payment of salaries of 1,200 school teachers for the latter half of December developed Wednesday, when Mayor I. N. Ragsdale and B. Graham West, city comptroller, were advised that a meeting of the Atlanta board of education to ratify salaries would be necessary before payment could be made.

Dr. McIntosh M. Burns, vice president of the board, declared he would call the board into session as soon as the salary requisition has been made, and added that the board would ratify it and send it to the mayor and Mr. West for approval.

The complication has developed because of charter provisions stipulating that the mayor, the comptroller and the board shall administer funds of the department until a budget shall have been submitted to and approved by the mayor.

Mayor Vetoes Budget.

School department heads offered Mayor Ragsdale a budget several weeks ago, calling for expenditure of $3,726,485, but Mr. Ragsdale vetoed it because the finance committee had not made its appropriations at that time. Since then the finance body has allocated $894,000 less than the figure asked by administration officials and the board, but no formal revision of the school budget has been made.

George W. Powell, president of the board, is out of the city and will not return until about the middle of next week. Dr. Burns will call the meeting to meet the pay roll emergency, however. He stated Wednesday night that the teachers would be paid on time despite the technicalities of the law which must be met.

Raymond R. Ritchie, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business affairs, and other administration officials of the school department are working on a revised budget. It was stated Wednesday night that it has been slashed to about $50,000 of the revenue which the department will receive for the year for operation and maintenance, and that just as soon as the figures balance a board meeting will be held. It is expected, however, that the special session to act on the budget will not be held until Mr. Powell returns to the city.

Salary Cuts Unlikely.

Reports that the administration department would be forced to slash salaries of teachers in order to bring the revised sheet in the budget limit were dissipated when it was learned that they could not be cut.

Teachers are under civil service, and the department has no authority under the law to cut the salaries of such employees while they are working under a fiscal year with a stipulated price for their services. If a salary reduction is necessary, it can not become effective, therefore, until September, when the new fiscal year in the school department begins.

Every one of the administration officials declared that congestion in junior and high schools will be relieved in the revised sheet. This congestion has been a serious problem in the system, and has caused official of the Southern Association of Colleges to threaten to strike the Atlanta high schools from the accredited list. If such action were taken, it would force all graduates from Atlanta schools to stand entrance examinations before they were permitted to matriculate in any accredited college or university in the country.

Yarbrough Company Presents "Champions," Record Run "Talkie"

The greatest victory over time and space in the history of transportation has been utilized to provide the climax for the new Fox Movietone production "Champions." This unique sound photoplay, which will be presented on Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 6 p. m. to 10 p. m. at the Yarbrough Motor company, 560 West Peachtree street, and will be open to the public without admission charge.

The speed record climax is the 30,000-mile run of the Studebaker President Eight. It is presented with the complete accompaniment of all the sounds incidental to the event. The full-throated roar of the motors, conversations of such well-known racing drivers as Ab Jenkins and Ralph Hepburn as they change shifts at the pits, all are faithfully recorded.

Those who thrilled at the accomplishment of these cars in winning every official speed and endurance record for fully equipped stock cars, regardless of power or price, will experience a new sensation in viewing the actual running of the race.

An added dramatic touch is furnished by Quin Ryan, famous as the voice of radio station WGN, who radiocasts the high spots of the run and "covers" the event in the same manner in which he has reported scores of athletic contests and race meets at the Indianapolis speedway.

LABOR UNITS OPPOSE TEACHERS' PAY CUT

Resolution Against Rumored Reduction Passed by Federation.

Declaring definitely against any attempt to "balance the budget" of the Atlanta public schools by reducing teachers' salaries, the Atlanta Federation of Trades at its meeting Wednesday night adopted resolutions protesting against the periodical intimation that teachers' salaries are to be cut in order to meet the financial needs of the school for the year.

"It is the sense of the federation that the wage scale of the teachers of the Atlanta public school system is fair and reasonable," the resolutions declare, "and that the people of Atlanta are willing that their money be spent in such a way that the teachers and employees are adequately paid and do not suffer on account of any uncertainties or threats of salary cuts."

The executive committee of the federation was instructed to appear before the proper authorities and present this view with vigor.

Another resolution relating to the school situation was adopted, also on recommendation of the legislative committee, opposing any proposal to change the operation and control of the public school system. The federation went on record as declaring that the abolition of the board of education and the vesting of control of the schools in city council or a body named by council would be fatal to the educational system of the community.

"The federation records itself as being unalterably opposed to any movement or action that has for its direct or indirect aim the taking away from popular control of the operation of the public school system," says the resolution. "The federation believes that in the interest of the education of our children that the control of the public school system should be vested in the people themselves."

$75,000,000 ROAD ISSUE IS INDORSED

Vienna, president of the Georgia Press association; Baldwin Martin, of the Macon Chamber of Commerce, representing the special committee appointed to meet the commissioners; John M. Graham, of Rome; A. W. McKeand, executive director of the Georgia State Automobile association, and Leland Henderson, secretary of the Atlanta Motor club and the Georgia State Automobile association.

Mr. Graham listed three principles which he believed must be taken into consideration before a bond issue could be successfully launched. First the people must know that the highway board had a chairman who would go ahead and wisely spend the money obtained, second they must have confidence that the bonds be retired in a way not to call for anything but the automobile and gasoline tax, and third counties must be assured that money already spent on the highway system would be refunded.

The plan in the form of a resolution will be presented at the Augusta convention. Dates for that meeting were set today by the executive committee of the association. Word was received from Senator Walter F. George late today that he would be unable to address the opening session at Augusta as had been planned, due to heavy congressional duties.

TARIFF FIGHT WAGED OVER FIVE-CENT CIGAR

Manufacturer of Cheap Smokes Seeking Reduction in Duty.

Washington, January 23.—(AP)—With most of the argument centering around the future of the 5-cent cigar, pleas for both increases and decreases in the import duty of $2.10 a pound on Sumatra wrapper tobacco were heard today by the house ways and means committee considering tariff revision.

Manufacturers of the cheap cigar sought a reduction in the duty to $1.50 a pound, contending the imported wrapper had a superior flavor over that grown in Florida and other sections of the country in the manufacture of the 5-centers. They were joined by growers of filler tobacco in Wisconsin, whose representatives argued a lower tariff would permit an increase in the manufacture of the cheap cigar and consequently boost the demand for filler.

Producers of stalk tobacco in Connecticut also supported the request for a reduction, declaring they had lost money under the existing rate. Opposing the reduction and seeking an increase to $4.62 a pound, shade-grown tobacco producers of New England argued that their industry was in a deplorable state, and that the higher duty was needed to meet higher production cost.

They conceded that a higher duty on wrappers might hurt the manufacturers of 5-cent cigars, but voiced the opinion that sufficient quantities of good quality wrapper could be produced in Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Massachusetts and Connecticut to meet domestic requirements.

Agriculture Schedule.

At an afternoon session the committee concluded the taking of testimony on the tobacco schedule and cleared the way for hearings on what has been described as the "heart of the tariff act." Tomorrow it will take up the agriculture schedule, interest in which is attested by the fact that 150 witnesses have been listed for appearance.

Representatives of the York county, Pennsylvania, cigar manufacturers association, comprising 90 factories with an annual production of 600,000,000 five-cent cigars, sought a $4 a pound duty on imported wrapper tobacco. Seventy-five per cent of the wrappers used in their product, they said, came from Florida, while from 5 to 10 per cent were Connecticut wrappers.

Georgia Asks Relief.

Representatives Yon and Green, democrats, Florida, joined in the appeal for higher duties, while J. H. Malone, on behalf of the Florida and Georgia Tobacco Growers association, declared that "unless some relief were given the shade grown producers it will not be long before we will have to pass the hat around."

The same condition faced by the Connecticut shade growers, Malone said, was confronting the southern producers and he favored a rate which would close the door to the Sumatra product.

J. J. Love, Quincy, Fla., supported the $4.62 rate on unstemmed, and a $5.25 duty on stemmed wrappers. Te latter is now duitable at $2.75 a pound.

The proposal for an increased tariff was joined in by Henry C. Butcher, on behalf of the National Fertiliber association, who declared the fertilizer producers were interested in increasing the purchasing power of the farmer. It was opposed, however, by the Tobacco Merchants association, of New York, which in a brief asked reductions to $1.50 and $2.15, respectively.

New Member of Exchange

:: J. GOODWIN HALL AN AIR HERO OF WAR ::

Had Colorful Youth Here

BY ERNEST RUBIN.

The meteoric appearance of J. Goodwin Hall, native Atlantan, as one of the nation's high financiers, brought to the attention of the public through his recent purchase of a seat on the New York stock exchange for the record price of $595,000, has been reflected in Atlanta in the awakening memories of many who knew him as a likely lad and schoolboy.

Goodwin Hall, as he was best known, was the elder son of Dr. James G. Hall, former city physician for a number of years preceding the world war, and member of an old Georgia family residing in the vicinity of Atlanta. According to Atlanta kinsmen and erstwhile neighbors of the Halls, Goodwin grew to be a handsome young man of ability and magnetic personality, characteristics that may have formed the foundation for his heroic career as an aviator during the wars and subsequent romantic appearance on Wall street as one of the most successful of the youthful brokers in the fniancial district.

Lived on Cleburne Terrace.

For about five years prior to the war, the Halls lived on Cleburne terrace. Mrs. Hall was formerly Miss Annie Virgin, of Macon. There are two sons, James Goodwin and Claude, who is now said to be traveling in work for the Y. M. C. A. During the world war Claude joined the navy, while Goodwin, impatient of over the United States delay in entering the lists of battle, joined the French air service and served as a pilot in the 111th esquadrille, bringing down three enemy planes and winning the croix de guerre decoration with three citations. Later he joined the American regular army and served until 1923.

It was while stationed in California that the young aviator was himself picked off by a dart from the proverbial Cupid, marrying a daughter of a wealthy California family, it was disclosed in fragments of Mr. Hall's life history recalled by acquaintances here. Mr. Hall now is the father of one son, residing with his family and his mother in New York.

Of Mr. Hall's youth in Atlanta, it is recalled that he pursued his preparatory studies at the Calhoun Street school and Boys' High school. He is thought to have later attended Georgia Tech, prior to entering upon his aerial conquests.

Associate of Coffin.

In the financial field Mr. Hall until recently was connected with certain of the Howard Coffin interests, and is believed to have amassed a fortune while affiliated with Mr. Coffin. His latest adventure in finance is seen in organization of the brokerage firm of Collins, Hall & Peckham, in connection with Mr. Hall recently purchased a seat on the exchange. He will go on the floor of the New York Stock exchange for the first time today as a member.

Though primarily a broker, Mr. Hall still is an ardent flier, having his own plane which he flies for sport. In the quest of game he has made several long distance flights to remote places in United States and Canada. An incident connected with Mr. Hall's aerial activities, and one which caused considerable concern to his friends and relatives here, occurred last summer when Mr. Hall was lost for nearly a week in Canada, where he had piloted his plane with a friend.

"ACE" PENDLETON ALLEGED BANDIT LEADER CAUGHT

El Paso, Texas, January 23.—(AP) Asa (Ace) Pendleton, alleged leader of a gang of southwest bank robbers, was arrested here today and a short time later admitted his identity.

Pendleton, accused of taking part in a series of bank robberies in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, in which several officers were killed, was taken into custody with two women on a downtown street.

He refused to admit he was the much sought robber who last week disappeared at El Dorado, Ark., after giving $2,000 bond in connection with a charge that he perpetrated a daylight bank holdup in Junction City, Ark. The women with Pendleton were released.

Pendleton is wanted in Butte, Mont., on charge of murder and bank robbery, Oklahoma City state identification records reveal. Fort Worth, Texas, also wants him for asserted participation in the attempted robbery of the Stockyards National bank in September, 1927.

Men and women injuring themselves by starvation diet

THE passing fad of dieting to reduce weight is permanently injuring the health of girls, women and men in the opinion of eminent medical authorities. How dangerously serious dieting has become may be judged from the following statement by a famous doctor. He says: "Many young women to whom motherhood has been denied have come to me to learn the reason why. I have to tell them, only too often, that they have sacrificed their children for the sake of a boyish figure." This doctor goes on to show that many adults, both men and women, do injury to themselves by starvation diets from which they can never recover.

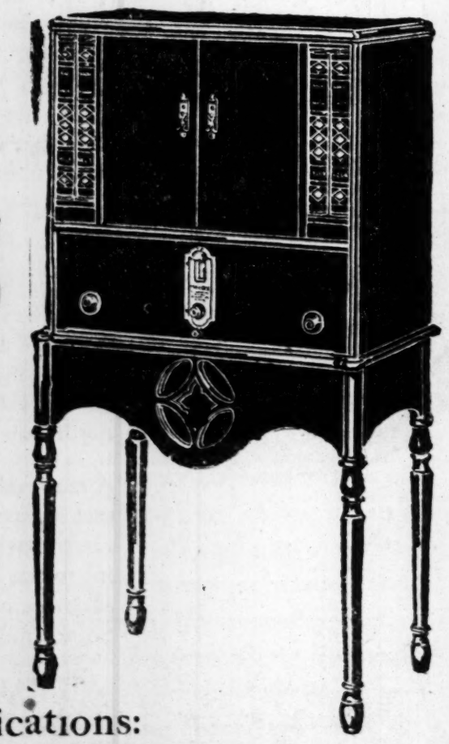

It is time to call a halt in this dangerous practice. Whoever said that two persons could have the same standard of weight? Medical science now declares that standardization in the weight of human beings is impossible, as well as undesirable.

Eat enough of a great variety of foods and enjoy them. Remember that sugar is the ideal flavorer of other foods and that it adds greatly to the zest and pleasure of eating. Sugar is also a food—the most inexpensive and purest known. Don't be afraid to sweeten grapefruit, oranges, cereals, dried fruits, and all canned vegetables. Delightful flavors demand sugar. Enjoy eating.

EXPERT GIVES FARMERS HINTS ON MARKETING

Eugene Talmadge, State Agricultural Commissioner, Delivers Address.

Athens, Ga., January 23.—(AP)—Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture, in an address here today at farmers' week and marketing conference, urged growers to pay more attention to getting their produce in better marketable shape.

He spoke of the better results which would be realized by the farmers if they followed such a plan. He touched on the work being done to eradicate the phony peach disease in Georgia, speaking of the cooperation his department had received from the agricultural college.

A plea that monies levied annually for the common school system be paid more promptly was made by M. L. Duggan, state school superintendent, who also deplored the small salaries paid to county school superintendents in Georgia.

Forrestry and soils will be subjects tomorrow with B. M. Lufburrow, state forrester, leading the discussions. Thomas D. Burleigh, head of the forestry division of the college, will discuss forest nursery; Dr. J. H. Stallings, head of the agronomy department, Penny Farms, Fla., will talk on "Soil Type and Crop Adaptation," and Floyd G. Newton, one of the 12 master farmers, Madison, will discuss "Readjusting Farm Production for Middle Georgia Conditions." Other addresses will be made by Professor Duepee Barrett, specialist of the college; Hal M. Stanley, state labor commissioner, and J. A. Evans, of the United States cooperative extension work.

The afternoon session will be devoted to dairying and live stock. Dr. M. P. Jarnigan, head of that divsion of the college, will preside and discussions will be made by J. H. McClain, United States department of agriculture; C. W. Wheeler, county agent Wilkes county; L. H. Marlett, cheese expert state college; Frank W. Fitch, dairy specialist, state college; W. G. Owens, swine specialist, state college, and L. H. Young, Horse Association of America.

EXPERTS GIVE ADVICE ON SHIPPING PRODUCTS.

A. J. Nitzschke, president Georgia State Horticultural society and formerly county agent, Fannin county, recommended the stimulation of production of Irish potatoes on the bottom and cove lands in the mountain counties of Georgia to supply the fall and winter demand within this state, in an address on "Irish Potatoes from the Georgia Mountains," delivered at the conference this morning, presided over by J. W. Firor, director of the college marketing division.

Mr. Nitzschke pointed out that every car of Irish potatoes available from Fannin county was sold in Macon at the market price, during the past season when Irish potatoes have been excessively abundant in the United States as a whole. He said the competition favors the Georgia grower, because the northern growers have been discourged by the low returns. "For example," he said, "a car from Chicago netted the shipper only 2 1-2 cents a bushel at Chicago which probably meant 10 cents a bushel for the farmers. On this same market price potatoes would net the Georgia growers 70 cents per bushel.

W. F. Turner, horticultural agent, Central of Georgia railroad, presenting a paper on the "Transportation of Perishable Farm Products," traced the history of this development in Georgia, stating that progress has been made during the last 50 years in transporting Georgia peaches. As refrigeration has developed, it is interesting to note that the peach industry has expanded, Mr. Turner said.

Atlanta alone offers a splendid market for vegetables, annually unloading 3,172 car loads of which only 400 are furnished by farmers of the state, T. H. McHatton, director of the horticultural division, declared that "we have a market for a large quantity of truck right here at home." Professor McHatton declared that the peach industry is in Georgia to stay, that early summer varieties of apples will build up a market for early apples from this sections, that the pecan industry continues to develop and will become "one of our leading horticultural enterprises," and that there is no reason why "proper organization and cooperation should not expand the trucking business in this section at a profit to the producers."

Results of experiments conducted by her with fifty children between two and four years' of age, have convinced Mrs. Katherine Shaw Michael, psychologist of the nursery school, State College of Agriculture, that children are able to think as young as two years of age, she told the research conference in an address, "The Age of Reason."

Mrs. Michael pointed out that not only has the current concept changed educational methods for the primary school but that the parent in disciplining and handling the child should realize that he is dealing with a reasonable person. Parents should explan and help the child to understand, for the youngster already possesses the fundamental ability to do so, Mrs. Michael said.

It was the philosophers idea that the ability to reason did not appear until adolescense at least, Mrs. Michael said, citing Plato and Kant, while the Romans based the assumption of the toga denoting citizenship on the idea that at a certain age the youth suddenly attains wisdom, she stated. "Not only have religion and politics based their policies on a set age for the attainment of the ability to reason, but education has designed its program on the same belief for many years," Mrs. Michael said, referring to the system "of education that stressed memory-work, and drill during the early school years, and did not until adolescence allow the use of original thought."

The present-day psychologist, who has studied and experimented with young children is inclined to believe that the ability to reason, to think, is more nearly a question of slow development from birth to maturity, Mrs. Michael said.

Professor J. T. Wheeler, of the vocational education division of the college, in a paper, "Have the Brains Left the Country?" challenged the assertion that the rural sections are losing the best brains to the city. He recommended an investigation to ascertain the accuracy of such a contention. If it is so, "we ought to know it," Professor Wheeler said, "in order that we may set about to remedy the situation."

DUGGAN PLEADS FOR PROMPT PAYMENTS.

M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of schools, in an address today at the farmers' week and marketing conference at the College of Agriculture, pleaded for more prompt payment on the part of the state of the money levied annually for the common school system.

He said that over two million dollars is now due on 1928 salaries and the teachers do not know when they will get it. About one and one-half million dollars of this amount comes from the general tax fund, he said.

He also deplored the small salaries paid county school superintendents in the state, the average, leaving out five large city counties, being less than $1,600, with many below $900 and many as low as $600 annually.

NEW TRAFFIC CHIEF SEEKS PUBLIC AID

Cooperation of Citizens Is Needed, Lieutenant Jack Malcom Says.

In a statement issued Wednesday Lieutenant Jack Malcom, recently appointed head of the police traffic activities, made a strong appeal for public cooperation with the police in their drive against traffic law violators.

The work is being done, Lieutenant Malcom pointed out, to make Atlanta safer, to cut down its appalling accident death rate and prevent property loss and suffering. Increased vigilance at the wheel, courtesy to other motorists and to police and a careful observance of warning signs erected by the city were given as guides to the motorist who wishes to cooperate.

To further aid the motoring public Lieutenant Malcom issued a list of "don'ts" which are here reproduced:

1. Don't park beside curbing painted yellow.
2. Don't park in sections described by erected signs as non-parking zones.
3. Don't violate the ordinance prescribing one-hour parking.
4. Don't make complete turns in the middle of the block.
5. Don't cross street intersections on any light other than green.
6. Don't ignore boulevard stops.
7. Don't drive an automobile at night with only one headlight.
8. Don't take an automobile out of the garage, even to park it, if the taillight is not burning.
9. Don't travel faster than ten miles per hour through school zones.

The recorders who pass on traffic cases, A. W. Callaway and Murphy M. Holloway, have already indicated their approval of the drive and their intention to cooperate by cheerfully taking on overloaded dockets and meting out justice to the best of their ability.

In the week or more than the stringent program has been in force several hundred cases have been made and many of these have already paid fines totaling more than $1,000.

WIDOW ASKS $61,800

Mrs. Pearl Favati Sues Alleged Slayer of Mate.

John Kirk, of 238 Central avenue, S. W., Wednesday was named as defendant in a suit for $61,800 in damages, brought by Mrs. Pearl Favati for the death of her husband, Samuel Favati, whom she alleges died as the result of a blow struck by Kirk on May 3. In a trial on January 11, Kirk was found not guilty of perjury in his testimony before the coroner's jury investigating Favati's death, and an indictment charging him with involuntary manslaughter in the death of Favati is still pending.

In her petition, filed by S. Thomas Bulfamante as attorney, Mrs. Favati alleges that Favati and Kirk were partners in the fruit and produce business at 236 Central avenue, and that when Favati became engaged in an altercation with an employee, West Plevey, known as "Shorty," Kirk interfered and struck Favati a blow with his fist under the left ear. The petition alleges that the blow caused Favati's death. The suit was filed in the city court of Atlanta.

SUPERIOR COURT BAN ON BARBECUE STAND OVERRULED

An injunction forbidding the Pig'n Whistle Sandwich Shop, Inc., at Ponce de Leon and Argonne avenues, from operating between the hours of 11:30 p. m. and 6 a. m., was dissolved Wednesday when the state supreme court reversed the decision of Judge E. E. Pomeroy, of Fulton superior court, who had issued a permanent injunction against the company after hearing a petition brought by J. L. Keith, a resident of 310 Ponce de Leon avenue.

The supreme court held that the lower court erred in granting a permanent injunction at an interlocutory hearing.

Keith, in his petition, claimed that the noise of employees of the company and patrons in the early morning hours interfered with the sleep and comfort of his household.

The high court decision held that there is no law to prohibit the proper conduct of a sandwich shop at an hour of the 24 and that Judge Pomeroy had no authority to absolutely prohibit conduct of the business but could have merely enjoined the company to so conduct its business that it would not be a nuisance.

Painter Almost Dies Gas Presses Heart

Mr. G. Dumbleton, a painter expected to die, stomach gas pressed so on his heart. Since taking Adlerika, he says, stomach gas never troubles him.

The simple mixture of glycerin, buckthorn bark, etc. (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLE action. It acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes foul matter that poisoned the system for months. It clears GAS and sourness from the stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis and rheumatism.

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

It will surprise you the great amount of poisons Adlerika brings out—you would never believe they were in your system. In chronic constipation, GAS, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists. Send for FREE checkerboard. ADLERIKA, Dept. K-37, St. Paul, Minn.—(adv.)

"I light a Lucky and go light on the sweets

Al Jolson

Something sensible. "Better to light a Lucky whenever you crave fattening sweets." It brings to men the health and vigor that comes with avoiding overweight. To women it offers a slender, fashionable figure.

20,679 physicians have stated that Lucky Strike is less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes. Very likely this is due to toasting which removes impurities. This same process, toasting, improves and develops the flavor of the world's finest tobaccos. This means that there is a flavor in Luckies which is a delightful alternative for the things that make you fat. That's why "It's Toasted" is your assurance that there's real health in Luckies—they're good for you!

Keep fit—reach for a Lucky instead of a fattening sweet. That's what many men have been doing for years. They know the evidence of prominent athletes whose favorite cigarette is Lucky Strike and who say Luckies steady their nerves and do not impair their physical condition.

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

MMEDIATE INFLUX TO SOUTH FORECAST

Biltmore Representatives Expect Heavy Travel to Section in Near Future.

Colonel William M. Walker, of New ork, representative of the Bowman-iltmore hotels, who is spending a ew days at the Atlanta Biltmore, aid Wednesday that travel southward ould be unusually heavy during the ext few weeks. According to Colonel Valker, his duties bring him in close ontact with railroad passenger agents ho advise him they have more ad-ance reservations to the south than sual.

"Businessmen around New York," olonel Walker remarked, "are watch-ng Atlanta more than other sections f the southeast, attracted no doubt by tlanta's advertising. In the east, we ave been rather amazed at the tre-endous industrial expansion of the outheast. Big business interests first considered the southeast relative to sales expansion, then as a location for factories and branch plants; now many engineers are planning the development of Georgia's mineral supplies and other undeveloped resources.

"Not the least of the attractions to important executives are Atlanta's golf courses. I believe they are better known in the east than any others in the world. The city that produced Bobby Jones and Alexa Stirling has an unsual attraction to wealthy easterners; particularly at this season of the year, when the northern courses are frozen. Many of them will never die happy until they have had a chance to play over the self-same course where Bobby Jones learned the game, in the hope of absorbing some of Jones' wrist wizardry."

The body will be sent to Brooklyn tomorrow.

ROLAND HAYES TICKETS WILL GO ON SALE SOON

Seats Reserved for Colored on Sale Saturday and for White Patrons Tuesday.

Seats for the half of the auditorium reserved for colored when Roland Hayes, world-famous negro tenor, sings here next Friday night will go on sale on Saturday morning at the Yates & Milton pharmacy, on Auburn avenue.

The other half of the auditorium, reserved for white patrons, will be placed on sale Tuesday at the Cable Piano company box office.

It was thought advisable, in view of the heavy demand for seats, to open the sales a little earlier to allow everyone ample time to make their reservations in comfort, but at the last minute it was found impossible to open the white seat sale before Tuesday. However, white patrons may secure their seats by mailing their checks and applications to the offices of the Southern Musical bureau, in the Wynne-Claughton building.

S. Russell Bridges, president of the bureau, in remarking on the unusual interest already displayed in the Hayes engagement, remarked Wednesday that it was fortunate that the auditorium had been available, inasmuch as its vast size assures everyone of an excellent seat.

"One of the beautiful features of Hayes' voice," Mr. Bridges added, "is the fact that even in so large a place as the auditorium, the shading of its exquisite tones reaches clearly and fully to every corner of the place. There is not a singer living, including the greatest stars of opera, whose voice is more 'listenable' than Hayes'."

It is four years since Hayes, a Georgia-born negro, last sang in Atlanta. In the interim he has added to his previously tremendous fame as a vocalist, not only in America, but by tours which have carried him all over Europe and into practically every important city of both continents.

John Duncan, 16, Reported Missing; Two Others Gone

The yearning to see the world in general and Florida in particular is believed to have been responsible for the disappearance of John Duncan, 16-year-old Hoke Smith Junior High school student, who Friday left his home at 364 Central avenue and has not since been seen.

According to the boy's father, G. F. Duncan, a veteran employee of the Southern railroad, he left his home Friday morning presumably to go to school. Mr. Duncan stated that he had learned that John and a companion sold their bicycles to a local dealer Friday for $27, presumably to raise funds for the journey. Mr. Duncan expressed the belief that the companion accompanied his son, but could not give the second boy's name.

Police Wednesday also were asked to aid in a search for Paul Baxter, 14, and Howard Kalb, 17, both of 1304 DeKalb avenue, who are believed to have left their home early Wednesday morning for a long journey. The supposed objective being California. Police at the same time were asked to look out for Jim Smith and Sam McCall, 14-year-old boys from Clover, S. C., who ran away several days ago and are now believed by their parents to be in Atlanta.

JUMPING SAW KILLS CITY HALL WORKMAN

Carpenter Is Fatally Injured While at Work on New Municipal Building.

R. O. Kelly, a carpenter, 652 Bryan street, was killed Wednesday at the site of the new city hall when a saw, on which he was working, jumped from its sockets and struck him on the right leg just below the hip, causing a deep gash and severing a large artery.

All efforts of his fellow workmen to check the flow of blood before the arrival of the ambulance from Bazemore's proved of no avail and he died while en route to the Georgia Baptist hospital. Officials of the company in charge of the work said that the accident was caused by the fact that the safety guard on the saw had been moved beyond the danger point.

Mr. Kelly is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie Kelly; three daughters, Mrs. R. S. Craig and Mrs. A. J. Goulden, of Atlanta, and Mrs. A. J. Ferguson, of Jacksonville, and one son, Oscar L. Kelly.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock today from the chapel of the T. C. Bazemore company. The Rev. H. C. Hale and the Rev. L. B. Crawford will be in charge and burial is to be in the Carnes Creek cemetery at Toccoa.

Catarrh Is Most Common Cause of Colds and Flu

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with chronic catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing thus preventing proper oxygenation and purification of the blood by the lungs and also absolutely prevents restful, refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to all germ infections such as colds, flu, pneumonia, etc.

Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested for the relief of catarrh, none has given such uniformly successful results to the physician or attained such popular favor as the prescription of Dr. Runion, known to your druggist as Runion's White Wonder Salve. Applied in the nostrils, morning and night, "White Wonder" gives quick and most delightful relief. Clean, greaseless and absolutely stainless, White Wonder is a perfect example of the finest pharmaceutical art—a joy and comfort to everyone who suffers with nasal catarrh.

CALHOUN FALLS, S. C., TO CELEBRATE FRIDAY

Governors of Two States To Aid in Opening of "Model City."

Elberton, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)—Cities of the Savannah river valley in Georgia and South Carolina alike are declaring tomorrow (Friday) a holiday to do honor of Governor Hardman and Governor Richards when they visit Calhoun Falls to preside at the organization of the Georgia-South Carolina Piedmont federation, and the simultaneous launching of two ambitious projects at the state line, an ideal industrial city on the South Carolina side, and a resort for northern pleasure seekers across the river in Georgia.

Friday has been declared a holiday and for days the town has been undergoing a house cleaning. Streets and sidewalks are being repaired, store fronts repainted and lavish street decorations are being placed by an Atlanta firm. Calhoun Falls will entertain 300 delegates from neighboring cities and anticipates 10,000 visitors from the surrounding zone to greet the chief executives of the two states. Schools will be closed, a feature of the program being open air choral singing by the entire student body.

Abbeville, S. C., and Elberton have adopted similar programs and the routine of 16 other cities will be adjusted to the occasion.

The Georgia-South Carolina Piedmont federation, consisting of 18 cities which have qualified through their chamber of commerce, board of trade, or some other civic body exercising similar functions in their absence, has for its purpose united action for the benefit of the zone. A number of other cities are in process of qualifying for membership, but it is doubtful if they will be accorded seats at the charter convention tomorrow.

The latter has a minor prototype in principle in three adjoining Georgia cities on the Bankhead highway which have pooled their tourist campaigns, Athens, Royston and Hartwell. This new federation, however, is sectional and interstate in scope and is undertaking a more comprehensive schedule for the betterment of the zone and to attract tourists, winter residents and industries.

The exercises will open at 10 o'clock with a reception to the delegates, tendered by the newly formed Calhoun Falls Chamber of Commerce. Half an hour later Governor Richards will arrive from Columbia by motor via Abbeville, where the school children will be massed in the gaily decorated public square to greet him with song.

Governor Richards, on his arrival in Calhoun Falls, will be tendered a brief reception and will then be escorted to Memorial bridge, which connects the two states, where Governor Hardman will await him. The two governors escorted by a delegation and a band from the chamber of commerce of Elberton, will proceed to the site of the industrial city development, where Governor Richards will break ground for the project, manipulating the levers of a giant steam shovel.

Rev. S. L. Morris, secretary of the Presbyterian board of home missions of Atlanta, will deliver the invocation and addresses will be made by both governors, Senator Fred D. West, of South Carolina; S. S. McClure, chairman of the board of Calhoun Falls, Inc., and Philip Miner, its president.

The party will then parade back to the Georgia side, to the community center of the resort, where similar exercises, with the same personnel will follow. Governor Hardman will then leave for Athens to preside at exercises at the University of Georgia and Governor Richards will return to Calhoun Falls to dine with the committeemen.

This luncheon and a banquet in Governor Richards' honor in the evening, will be served in the motion picture theater. The business session of the federation will be held in the auditorium of the high school throughout the afternoon, closing with the election of officers and the banquet.

Big Tax Refunds' Public Hearings Voted by Senate

Washington, January 23.—(AP)—Public hearings by a committee of the treasury department on tax refund cases involving more than $10,000 was voted today by the senate as a provision to the first deficiency supply bill which carries $75,000,000 for the refund of taxes.

The decision to make the larger tax refund cases open to the public was a compromise on a proposal by Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, to turn over the refund cases to the board of tax appeals. This suggestion was opposed strenuously by Secretary Mellon and by numerous senators during the debate and Senator McKellar finally adjusted his amendment to provide for public hearings by a treasury committee. The provision would require that the decision of the treasury committee be printed as a public document.

The total amount of the deficiency bill as it passed the senate was $126,178,112 in comparison with $84,130,000 as approved by the house.

Couzens Hits Board Plan.

Debate upon the McKellar proposal caused a renewal of the argument for and against publicity of income tax returns, and of tax refunds. The discussion developed a general desire to have the tax records considered public documents but without necessarily implying broad newspaper circulation of tax payments.

One of those who opposed McKellar's plan to put the income tax cases in the hands of the board of tax appeals was Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, who declared, however, that he also was opposed to secret adjudication of tax refund cases.

Because of his opposition and that of Senator Norris of Nebraska, Reed of Pennsylvania, Warren of Wyoming, republicans, and Glass of Virginia, democrat, as well as others, to overloading the tax appeal board with more work, McKellar offered his amendment for public treasury hearings which was agreed to by all those engaging in the debate.

Wants System Changed.

Senator Couzens argued the way to handle refunds was for the treasury first to assert the claims of individuals and corporations; then make the documents ahving to do with the case public and after that ask congress to appropriate the necessary funds.

Under the present system, he said, whereby congress appropriates first, and then the treasury pays the refunds without making public the records in the case, it would be possible to perpetuate fraud and injustice without any chance of retaliation.

Senator Norris also assailed what he said was the secret functioning in handling tax cases. He declared he was not criticising an individual and he believed that no other senator was, but that the idea of a great government department acting in secret on a question of such magnitude was detrimental to the public interest.

Cites Mellon Notation.

Senator Norris asked Senator Couzens, who was a member of the senate committee which investigated the internal revenue bureau, whether any of the papers of the tax refund cases which came before the committee had any "notations" on them concerning Secretary Mellon.

Couzens replied that one of the papers bore the notation: "This is a Mellon case," but the Michigan senator explained that he did not believe that Mr. Mellon had a financial interest in the case.

"Secretary Mellon might have had some other and personal interest in the case," Senator Couzens said, "but not a financial interest."

Senator Norris observed that the unfortunate feature of such a notation was that some "underling" in the treasury might see it, and let himself be influenced in the adjudication of the particular case in the hope that he would curry favor with the head of his department.

MILLEDGEVILLE NURSE KILLED BABY, CHARGE

Milledgeville, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)—Trial of Miss Darnell Seals, a nurse at the Georgia State sanitarium, on charges of murder in connection with the death of a newly born baby on January 3, set for tomorrow in superior court here, but tonight indications were that it would be delayed a day or two at least.

Miss Seals was indicted by the grand jury, after a coroner's jury in a closed investigation of the death of the infant returned a sealed verdict recommending that she be held.

Major Tien Lai-Huang, formerly of the Chinese army, or an aerial stopover here Wednesday, en route to Macon, announced to a group of chamber of commerce officials that he intended to fly back to his native land some time this year, attempting the east to west flight, with brief pauses at Hawaii and the Midway islands. He stated that he would take a crew of four, in which America and probably Germany would be represented, in addition to his own China.

Major Tien, who is 27 years old and a member of a prominent Chinese family, has been flying for three years and now is conducting a lecture tour of the United States in which he is gathering material in regard to American aeronautic problems which he expects to utilize in a book. He stated that the exact date for the flight had not been determind but that it probably would take place before the seasonal unfavorable weather sets in on the Pacific.

A plane carrying 15,000 pieces of mail hopped off Wednesday for Houston from New Orleans, inaugurating airmail service between the two cities and forging a new link in Atlanta's chain of routes. Airmail planes are scheduled to leave New Orleans at 11:30 o'clock each morning for the Texas city, providing connection with the Atlanta-New Orleans plane. Elaborate ceremonies were held at New Orleans in celebration of the new service.

Information has been received at headquarters, Fourth Corps area, Fort McPherson, from the war department to the effect that the final competitive examination of qualified fliers for appointment as second lieutenants in the air corps, regular army, will be held during the week of March 18-23, this examination to be held to fill approximately 100 vacancies. In the fourth corps area, comprised of eight southeastern states, all examinations, both preliminary and final, will be held at Maxwell Field, Alabama.

HOUSTON IS LINKED WITH NEW ORLEANS ON AIR MAIL ROUTE

New Orleans, January 23.—(AP)—New Orleans and Houston were linked on an air mail route this afternoon when a mail plane, which left Houston this morning, arrived at Alvin Callander field with a cargo of mail from the Texas city.

The plane, scheduled to take off at 11:30 a. m., waited more than an hour longer for the mail plane from Atlanta so the mail from the north could be taken on to Houston. The plane had not arrived at 12:32 p. m., when the trip to Houston was begun.

Fire Costs Several Lives.

Palatka, Fla., January 23.—(AP)—Several men were believed to have lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the Wilson Cypress company's saw mill here late today. Trapped on the second floor of the main building those who escaped were compelled to jump a distance of about 60 feet to safety, and at least two were seriously injured in making their escape. J. I. Bunch, substituting for his son on the second floor today, broke his back when he jumped from the second floor. Will Davis, negro, broke both feet when he jumped.

MISS FRANCES PORTER ARRIVES IN ATLANTA

Former Atlantan To Confer With Lawyer on $250,000 Whitehead Suit.

Miss Frances Porter, former Atlantan and New York showgirl, arrived in Atlanta Wednesday night from Havana, recently the scene of a clash between her and C. P. Whitehead, millionaire Atlanta sportsman.

Miss Porter, beyond stating that she will confer while here with J. Mallory Hunt, her attorney, would not comment on the Havana harbor episode, nor the suit for $250,000, which she recently filed against Whitehead.

She did say, however, that she has contracted to write her version of the affair for a newspaper syndicate and is considering at least one offer of a vaudeville contract. She is staying with friends here and will leave soon for Washington, D. C. She indicated that if she accepts the vaudeville offer she will continue to New York to start her engagement within the next few days.

Miss Porter and Mr. Whitehead gained considerable publicity recently when they engaged in a disagreement while aboard Mr. Whitehead's yacht "Malvern." The man claimed that Miss Porter had stuck him with pins, beaten him with a slipper and generally disturbed his peace. He forthwith went ashore and swore out charges against her in a Havana court.

The charges not having been pressed, Miss Porter soon returned to the United States and made her way to Washington. Some days later suit was filed against the Atlanta millionaire for a quarter million dollars, in which it was alleged that he had beaten her, falsely imprisoned and humiliated her, as well as having done other objectionable things. Her recent trip to Havana, where she spent several days, was for the purpose of gathering data in connection with this suit.

20 PASSENGERS BELIEVED DEAD AS BOAT SINKS

Bogota, Colombia, January 23.—(AP)—Twenty passengers are believed to have perished in the destruction of the Magdalena river boat Socia, which followed upon a boiler explosion. The bodies recovered were badly burned. Some persons were rescued and taken to Baranquilla.

PROPER PRECAUTIONS PREVENT THE SPREAD OF COLDS AND INFLUENZA

The faith of health officials in the intelligence of the public has been justified. Rather than taking drastic measures, these officials, in most centers hit by the present epidemic have been content to issue warnings. The readiness with which the advice has been followed speaks well for the common sense of all of us.

Colds and influenza are prevented by living a sane and normal life. Regular sleep, regular meals with wholesome food, plenty of water—inside and out, exercise in the open—these are among the best ways to keep up the body's resistance to disease of all kinds. Health experts strongly recommend the avoidance of crowded places.

Many thousands are becoming educated to the regular and frequent use of Vapex. This concentrate, obtainable from your druggist in the little square dollar bottle and the package with the green triangle, is the most modern way to prevent and to stop a cold. Each bottle contains 50 treatments. Merely put a drop on your handkerchief, breathe the healing vapor. It is refreshing and will keep your head clear. The strength of one application lasts for an entire day.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT GETS BIG FUND TODAY

Motor Vehicle Board Expects To Turn Over Million in Collections.

The Georgia state highway department will be richer Thursday by $1,446,425, deposits to made to its account with the state treasury for $1,000,000 from license tags sold by the motor vehicle department and the balance being its share from the gasoline and kerosene tax collections for December, made in January.

At the same time the department has drawn out this week $165,000 from its previous tag funds for construction and maintenance, and the highway board held a meeting Wednesday to apportion the million and a half among outstanding obligations on various road building projects.

Vehicle Check Delayed.

Secretary of State George H. Carswell had expected to turn his check for the million dollars in license tag funds over to the treasury on Wednesday, but the work of checking the fast accumulating funds in the motor vehicle office delayed the actual delivery of the check until Thursday.

Collections under the gasoline and kerosene tax for December sales, which were made in January, totaled $734,280.23, of which $713,005 20 came from the four-cent per gallon tax on gasoline and $21,275.03 from the one cent per gallon tax on kerosene.

After the highway department share of this fund is paid part of the balance goes to the individual counties and, subject to a pending decision in the supreme court, the balance to the school equalization fund.

Holder Gratified.

Mr. Holder said:

"It is gratifying to know that the secretary of state has deposited motor vehicle funds in the treasury for the use of the state highway board. This action upon his part will be of great assistance to the board in paying estimates to counties and to contractors. Of course, the amount is not sufficient to meet all the obligations of the state highway department, but it will go a long way towards it.

"In this connection, under the new motor vehicle act, the secretary of state will appoint the patrolmen of the highway department as enforcement officers as far as the automobile tag law is concerned and these employees will receive a letter from the state highway board within a few days which will tell them of this cooperation and instruct them to render every possible assistance to the secretary of state in the collection of motor vehicle tag taxes."

Mr. Holder also announced that work would begin immediately on the extension of paving on the Macon-Milledgeville highway from Gray to Milledgeville.

The Macon-Gray road has been practically completed, Mr. Holder said, and the same contract has been extended to include the remaining section to Milledgeville. The distance between Macon and Milledgeville was said to be approximately 30 miles and the cost of the additional work slightly more than $200,000.

GOOD ADVICE FROM GOD—Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place.—Jeremiah 7:3.

ENFORCE OR MODIFY.

Whether congress will go ahead and appropriate the $24,250,000 for fuller prohibition enforcement is yet to be seen, but in any event Senator Harris did a good thing in proposing that measure. He has aroused widespread interest in the aggravating situation and serious discussion of what should be done to ameliorate and better it, if that be possible.

The general feeling seems to be that the prohibition policy set up in the constitution should be enforced with sincerity and vigor, or common sense and honesty should be applied to such changes of the enforcement law and administration of it as will command for them the rational respect and support of the people generally.

The issue presented by the prevalent reign of liquor lawlessness is not one to be handled and settled by doctrinaires; it calls for wise and practical statecraft. Up to date very little statesmanship has been applied to the problem by either congress or the national administration. The idea governing both has been to keep both the dry fanatics and the wet revolters as quiet as possible.

By that tactic they have led up, after nine years, to the present intolerable state of prohibition affairs. No intelligent citizen is satisfied with the liquor conditions that now prevail or wants them to continue and daily grow worse.

The Glass amendment to provide $250,000 for a full, expert and nonfanatical investigation of prohibition conditions, by a commission chosen by the incoming president, is a wise measure. Recommendations made by such a commission ought to be worthy of high acceptance.

It was Thomas Jefferson who said: "The real friends of the constitution in its federal form, if they wish it to be immortal, should be attentive, by amendments, to make it keep pace with the advance of the age in science and experience."

And it was Andrew Jackson who said to the 21st congress that "Evils which can be clearly traced to an organic defect in the constitution ought not to be overlooked."

Those are wise counsels of yet living value and should be taken into account in dealing with the existing status of federal prohibition.

A $10,000,000 CROP.

Georgia's income during 1928 included $10,594,765 received for her tobacco crop. This figure was made public on Tuesday when the department of agriculture gave out its annual report on sales in Georgia tobacco warehouses.

It is only a few years since the first tobacco for the market was grown in Georgia. Within less than a decade the crop has grown in productivity until today it forms one of the major money-making crops in a wide section of the state.

Which is just another striking illustration of the manner in which Georgia agriculture is breaking the shackles of the one-crop system. Not long ago the area which now sells more than $10,000,000 worth of home-grown tobacco in a single season, depended almost entirely upon cotton as a money crop. If cotton failed, the entire section failed.

Then came the boll weevil, at first a terrific scourge but later recognized as a blessing in disguise.

The insect pest forced Georgia farmers away from the economic slavery of the single crop and made them develop other branches of their craft. The tobacco crop is one among the many.

The future will undoubtedly see tobacco production far greater than that of today. In the meantime, however, it is no small item in the state's economy, when it brings to her farmers, her business men and her industry, in a single season, more than ten millions of outside money.

MIAMI'S WELCOME.

Miami on Tuesday welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoover on behalf of herself, the state of Florida and the entire south. The president-elect and his retinue were met with a wholehearted display of enthusiastic hospitality that happily blended the classic fame of the old south and the happy camaraderie of the new.

It is significant that the next president will go to his inauguration on March 4 from a southern state, carrying with him the physical vigor to start him well upon the arduous four-year term that awaits and to call him back to its healing clime whenever the need for rest and recuperation impel a vacation from the heavy duties of the chief executive of the nation.

There could be no mistaking the sincerity of Miami's greeting to her distinguished guests. That sincerity, however, was but the local demonstration of the feeling of warmest friendship which the entire south, with the rest of the nation, feels toward Mr. Hoover.

Florida, of course, voted in the republican column in the election last November. That fact, however, neither increases nor decreases the warmth of her welcome today. The welcome would have been just as warm in any southern state and Mr. Hoover doubtless realized that fact and heard, back of the Florida cheers, the unspoken gladness of the whole south that it was permitted to extend its hospitality to him and to Mrs. Hoover.

Meanwhile, in another Florida city, another welcome, perhaps not so vociferous, but equally sincere and heartfelt, is extended to Mr. Hoover's late rival, former Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York.

Whether as president-elect or as private citizen, there is a heartfilling hand of friendship always extended by the south to those who visit us.

WATSON AT THE WHEEL.

The president-elect may not become enraged enough to kick a panel out of the front door of his office, but he is certain not to grow hilarious over the certainty that Senator "Sunny Jim" Watson is to become his party's leader in the senate.

It is always desirable and partisanly profitable to have the leadership in that body in the hands of one whose loyalty to the chief is twenty-four-karat pure. But so much cannot be said for the large and loosely-geared senator from Indiana. He is about as hard-boiled a political poker player as has sat in the senate since the epoch of Matt Quay. When the new president comes to deal with him he will find that "Sunny Jim" always has big cards tucked up in both sleeves.

Formally, at white house conferences and levees the big Hoosier will still wear his well-known smiles and throw his snappy wittiicisms, but the incidents of the 1928 primaries and presidential campaign are sure to color mordantly his inner emotions and temper his treatment of pet presidential preferences.

It is not at all likely that Watson has jettisoned his hopes of occupying the white house himself some sweet day and as clever a politician as he is not likely to work hard to keep a tenant in and postpone until too late the chances of his own entrance in succession.

The peace pact allows the countries to carry warships in their budgets and friendships in their agreements.

The Kellogg pact at Washington is not to be confused with the Kellogg pack at Battle Creek.

Now if some genius will devise a way to refuel automobiles while in motion the life of the speeder will be complete.

The politician who claims he has an ear to the ground better stay in that position, for he may be due for a fall.

We are now assured eternal peace if no pieces are broken.

No wonder the temperature dropped in California with Mr. Hoover date-lined from Florida.

We are advised by the press that Mr. Hoover will "find time to fish while on his vacation." It will be a good trick if he does it.

Listening to the voice of some of the movie stars, we should say offhand that they were talking themselves out of a job.

Now that we have peace on paper we trust that there will be no more scraps.

If the country was as much concerned about the prevention of automobile accidents as about the prevention of flu we wouldn't be so badly run down.

French Credulity.

Not only the financial scandal, the Hanau affair, which reveals that thousands of Frenchmen fell for the bait of 50 per cent interest offered by Madame Hanau, but also the sensational tricks of a faker, who claims to be immune from pain are taken by observers as evidence of French credulity. And another piece of news, tending in the same direction concerns a young scientist of Lyons who has gone further than the alchemists ever succeeded in doing, for he has found the philosopher's stone. He can transmute base metals into gold. His first studies in chemistry, he has frankly confessed to an interviewer, were made by correspondence only, with a school in Paris. He was evidently a ready pupil, however, for he soon took up advanced stages of his subject at Geneva. He then came back to Lyons, and at 26, he set up in the alchemist business. Almost immediately, according to his own account, he succeeded in obtaining, from a mixture of silver, sulphide and arsenic and sulphide of antimony (the prescription of the old alchemists), a metal, which as he cautiously says, if it is not gold, at any rate it has the same properties. Nevertheless, he confesses that he cannot produce gold every time, and, as he declares himself to be a practical man and not an artist, he is devoting himself rather to the production of synthenic iron, lead, sliver, copper and platinum, of all of which he declares that he can make a certainty. But that does not prevent crowds from gathering wherever he appears in public.

Sermons To Live By

BY ELAM FRANKLIN DEMPSEY

Text: "The just shall live by faith." Rom. 1:17.

Professor Hugh Block says:

"Faith is of a piece. It believes about the future what it believes about the past; for God to it is the same yesterday, today and forever.

"We cannot live by faith now, and look forward to the fruition of faith in the days to come, unless we also interpret the past by faith.

"God's dealings with us are consistent. There is no break in His providence.

"His grace is not intermittent. It is past and future as well as present."

"Whatsoever is not of faith is sin." Mighty believers, unremitting believers in the Christ of God are the only constantly right and happy souls to be found anywhere at any time.

"Build thee a little fence of trust
Around each day;
Fill the space with loving work
And therein stay;
Look not through its sheltering bars
Upon tomorrow;
God will help thee bear what comes
Of joy or sorrow."

MRS. HORNADY NAMED WOMAN'S CLUB HEAD

tatives. On the receipt of the returns, Judge Humphries will hand down a formal order relieving Mrs. Reed as acting president and declaring Mrs. Hornady elected, he said Wednesday night. Mrs. Hornady will serve until the annual election in May. Mrs. Goodman held the presidency of the club for eight months under an injunction granted by Judge Humphries.

No Personal Triumph.

In a statement issued Wednesday night following her election, Mrs. Hornady said: "The majority has spoken, and I feel sure that the membership as a whole will accept the verdict in good faith. In no sense do I construe the result as a personal triumph, the issues involved having overshadowed individual candidacies.

"I am sure the vindication of the principles for which we stood will be generally approved and our great organization will receive the cordial support of the community as it forgets its differences and returns wholeheartedly to its constructive labors for the common good.

"During the brief time I am to serve as president I shall delight in contributing what I can to the promotion of the spirit of harmony and cooperation. I am sure that the disposition of the membership will be to forget all differences and strive unitedly to make the club increasingly effective as an instrument for community service.

Appreciation Expressed.

"I wish to express my deep appreciation of the wonderful support given me and assure the membership as a whole that my sole interest is now and ever has been the permanent welfare of the club."

Mrs. Goodman said that she had no statement to make regarding the result of the election.

The dispute over the presidency of the club arose last May, when Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, retiring president, declared that the nominations were closed with Mrs. Goodman as the only candidate. It was contended that Mrs. Goodman was elected president when the secretary was ordered to cast the ballot for her. An uproar arose in the meeting, and Mrs. Alonzo Richardson took over the chairmanship when Mrs. Smith left the meeting. Mrs. Hornady then was nominated and elected. Mrs. Goodman took the matter before Judge Humphries and obtained an injunction to prevent Mrs. Hornady from interfering with administration of the club's affairs. Quo warranto proceedings instituted by Mrs. Hornady's supporters failed to oust Mrs. Goodman, and the case was appealed to the state supreme court, the higher court declaring that neither Mrs. Goodman nor Mrs. Hornady was president, and ordering a new election. The supreme court held that nominations from the floor were always in order, and that Mrs. Hornady's nomination from the floor at the May meeting should have been allowed.

Australian Ballot Rules.

Under strict court orders as to the conduct of the election, a large percentage of the club membership moved through the club's ballroom all through Wednesday afternoon as the voting proceeded under the rules of the Australian ballot system. Only the official tellers, the managers for the two candidates, and the members casting votes were allowed in the ballroom.

Solicitation of votes at the clubhouse was taboo under the order by Judge John D. Humphries. The nomination meeting was presided over by Mrs. R. I. Reed, acting president, who took great care in closing the nominations to make sure that all of the nominations were in, but only the two candidates were offered for the presidency.

Election Officials.

Officials at the election were Robert Ramspeck and Hugh Burgess, appointed by Judge Humphries as representatives of the court, and the following tellers: Mrs. Arthur Hazzard and Mrs. Irving Thomas for Mrs. Hornady, and Mrs. Nannie Woodward Westmoreland and Mrs. Eva Corrigan for Mrs. Goodman.

Mrs. Goodman was nominated by Mrs. Shepard Bryan, while Mrs. Frances Whiteside nominated Mrs. Hornady. Following nominations, a motion to have Mrs. Goodman and Mrs. Hornady escorted to the stage of the auditorium drew protests and was ruled out of order.

The rules of the election were explained to the club members by Mr. Ramspeck in a short talk following the closing of the nominations.

to regain traffic lost to motor traffic and that the railways can restore the existing rates on publication three days in advance of the restoration of the present tariff. Tickets, under the rate, will be good in day coaches only, and passengers who desire to travel in parlor or Pullman cars will be required to purchase tickets under the present tariff, Mr. Perry stated.

The railroads first asked permission of the commission to discontinue some trains on the Atlanta-Macon run, he said, on the showing that they are carrying practically no passengers, a situation attributed to the growing use of motor busses as a means of transportation. Later, however, this petition was withdrawn and in place of this the new schedule of rates, effective February 1, was filed. At the same time the roads were granted permission to restore the present rates at any time on three days' public notice.

Busses Plan Action.

Mr. Steinmetz declared that the reduction in fares of that company were decided upon at a conference of high officials held Sunday here.

"We did not know of a railroad cut in rates until advised of it by The Constitution," Mr. Steinmetz said. "Our motive was to give the traveling public the benefit of a lower rate because of the large volume of business we are handling. Then, too, our equipment is the best and most modern available, maintenance costs are cut to a minimum and we are able to make the reduction because of these savings.

"Our company has voluntarily filed with the Georgia public service commission a bond aggregating $6,000,000 to insure commuters on our lines against accident. The bond covers 30 of our large busses at $200,000 each, and the remaining number are automatically protected under the policy. We operate 100,000 miles daily throughout the United States, and since we began the service three years ago there has been only one fatality."

Pierce Delays Revision.

"General reduction on all our routes to a charge of two cents a mile will be made just as soon as schedules and prices can be arranged. This was the policy adopted at the officers' meeting Sunday. Effective at once, the price of the trip from Columbus to Atlanta and from Chattanooga to Atlanta and vice versa will be $2.50 and $3, respectively."

Mr. Pierce said Wednesday that while he had not heard before of the contemplated reductions, he felt sure that they would be met by his company. Their present rates between here and Macon are $2.50 one way fare and $3 round trip and the only reduction would be the lowering of the one way fare to $2, he said.

Your Broadway and Mine

BY WALTER WINCHELL.

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The Atlanta Constitution

New York, January 23.—True to his promise after his defeat for the presidency that he would fade from the "scene," Alfred E. Smith and Mrs. Smith arrived at a New York theater the other premiere at 8:05 and took their seats. No one saw them arrive and the distinguished couple remained in their chairs between the acts instead of frequenting the foyer, where they might have been cheered by admirers.

Few other public men or celebrated persons would have done the same thing. The urge to be finger-pointed or ooh'd or ah'd at possesses too many of the "important." You know the types—the types Sidney Skolsky says should take a walk through a cemetery—where all tombstones look alike!

EXPOSE.

Far be it from us to be a romance-buster, but too many of the lassies appearing in the musical shows have been getting away with a cute little stunt. In Philadelphia, frinstance, when they are breaking in with a new lad-de-dah and expect long distance phone calls from their New York sweethearts, they do not remain in their rooms for the calls if they can go to another hotel where some one is chucking a party.

So they slip the operator at their own hotel a few dollars and tell her what room they are visiting at another hotel. The lad in New York phones and is none the wiser when his baby coos: "Honey boy, I'm so lonesome, but I'll read myself to sleep, sugarpie, don't worry." The big cluck in New York swells with pride, believing that he has her groggy over him, so he is relieved.

Of course we don't mean your girl!

INSIDE STUFF.

Several months ago Irving Berlin prepared a ditty at the request of Al Jolson. It was to be the theme song for Jolson's "Singing Fool," and Berlin named his chune "Little Feller." Jolson liked it until De Sylva, Brown and Henderson demonstrated their "Sonny Boy."

Although a little hurt, Berlin has since conceded that Jolson knows a hit song when he hears one.

NOVELTY.

An admirer of Greensboro, N. C., recently wrote a letter to Will Rogers, who stars in "Three Cheers" with Dorothy Stone. The sender addressed the letter in an unusual manner. He clipped a half column cut photo of Rogers from a newspaper and then pasted it in the center of the envelope, under which he penned: "God Knows Where."

Rogers displays it proudly to his friends, and says he wouldn't part with it for a million dollars, but he probably would.

DON JUANITA.

The new Maxwell Anderson drama, "Gypsy," which Richard Herndon brought to the Klaw, might have been christened "Like Mother, Like Daughter:" or, better still, "Bad Girl," for that's what Ellen was.

In the advance notes, Mr. Anderson explained that his heroine was not a gypsy girl, "but a girl with a gypsy heart," and as she was revealed last night you only sympathized with her. You didn't like her.

Ellen's mother was restless, too. She had married three times, and then deserted her husband to run away again, this time with a traveling salesman. Then she committed suicide in Canada. Ellen feared that she had inherited her mother's frailties, and she had. When Ellen married David, just to even matters with a hotel detective in St. Louis, she discovered too soon that she had to be free, independent, and do as she pleased. She was most unhappy.

It was interesting enough until the third act foundered. The adroit craftsmanship of the author didn't falter here, for he kept consistent, and it flattened. It didn't hold you. It became less engaging. It wasn't better than so-so. Therefore, the indications are not for a robust engagement, even with its small but very capable group of troupers and its amusing enough passages earlier in the proceedings.

REASON ENOUGH.

An actor who appears in a local show features exaggerated sideburns. For years the "mob" has been puzzled. "He's handsome enough without them, isn't he?" some one said.

"Mebbe he is," was the retort, "but most fellers these days sport sideburns to hide the scars where their faces were lifted."

26 HEROIC ACTS RECEIVE REWARD

Pittsburgh, Pa., January 23.—(United News.)—Twenty-six acts of heroism in the United States and Canada were recognized here today by the Carnegie hero fund commission at its twenty-fifth annual meeting.

Silver medals were awarded in two cases and bronze medals in 24 cases.

Nine of the heroes lost their lives and to the dependents of five of these pensions aggregating $3,660 a year were granted by the commission also to a dependent of one the sum of $1,600 was granted for educational purposes as needed.

To the dependents of three of the nine heroes the sum of $2,500 was granted to be applied as the commission may sanction.

In addition to the money grants awards aggregating $9,600 were appropriated for educational purposes in six cases and in nine cases awards aggregating $7,000 were made for worthy purposes as needed.

Attorneys filing petitions were W. J. Laney, C. E. Presley and George P. Whitman.

The petition alleges that the city has no right to make appropriations to charitable organizations, that the appropriations for the park payments are illegal because one council cannot bind another council's actions and that installment purchases by the city are illegal, and that the 1928 council had no right to bind the 1929 council in the purchase of equipment, the petition contending that the equipment involved was bought and installed last year.

$25,000 Expended.

White park has 107 acres and $25,000 has been expended by the city and county on improvements, together with $10,000 as payments on the purchase. Chosewood park has 64 acres and between $8,000 and $10,000 has been expended on improvements, while $10,000 has been paid on the purchase price.

The Eleventh ward park has 30 acres and no money has been expended on improvements or purchase price. It was stated at the city hall that the city owes nothing on the purchase price of Washington park, but that the $3,000 appropriation attached by the petition is for improvements. The city has a lease on White park executed by the owners last December, it was said.

900 U. S. MARINES ARRIVE AT SHANGHAI

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

HAVE NEGROES BETTER TEETH?

It is the common belief that negroes have finer teeth than white people. Has this belief any foundation in fact? Or is it a fancy based on the contrasting whiteness of the teeth against the brown pigment of the negro skin? If negroes have better teeth than white people, how come? Do negroes take better care of their teeth than white people do? Are negro children more carefully instructed in the regular brushing of the teeth than white children are?

The census showed that there were nearly ten and one-half million negroes in the United States in 1920. Of these, two and one-half million were between 5 and 14 years of age. In 1925-26 federal, state and city health department cooperated in a study of the physical and mental status of 5,170 negro school children in Atlanta, 4,885 of whom had lived in the city most or all of their lives, so that they fairly represented the urban negro child.

Thirty-one per cent of the 5,000 negro children were entirely free from dental caries (decayed teeth, cavities). Compare this remarkable showing with a group of negro children in South Swaziland, South Africa, of the Bantu tribe, only twenty-five per cent of whom were found free from dental caries. The doctors who studied the native children living in Kraals believe the evidence favors the view that the diet of the mother before the child is born and the diet of the child in infancy and early childhood are responsible for the poor teeth of the negro children in Africa.

Of the 3,400 Atlanta negro school children with defective teeth 33 per cent had only one or two small cavities. Ordinarily we consider teeth that show only one or two small cavities good teeth, so that it is fair to assume that 64 per cent of the negro children living in cities or towns have excellent teeth, and probably such children living in the country have still better teeth.

The examiners who gathered the data say nothing about the standard of care of the teeth among these children. Probably the rite of brushing the teeth is here, as among children generally, more honored in the breach than the observance, like washing behind the ears. Negro children are singularly fortunate in both respects.

Such dental surveys or tabulations are interesting and stimulate speculation, but I shall draw no inferences now. This is a good time, however, to remind prospective mothers of some salient facts in the newer knowledge of the teeth.

1. The theory that brushing or daily cleaning of the teeth prevents decays (caries) is unsupported by scientific evidence.

2. The diet of the expectant mother has much to do with the quality of teeth the child will develop.

3. The most important essential of this diet is an adequate supply of Vitamin D (antirachitic), which enables the body to utilize calcium (lime). This vitamin is present in butter and in egg yolk, but nowadays it is a good custom for the expectant mother to take a daily dose or two of cod liver oil, which is the richest known source of Vitamin D.

4. A liberal quantity and variety of foods containing calcium (lime) must be included in the diet of the expectant mother, and here are some of the best: Cheese, milk, eggs, cabbage, beans, turnips, carrots, prunes, oranges, oatmeal, peanuts, almonds, walnuts.

SHOOTS HUSBAND, THEN KILLS SELF

Married in March.

Ernest and Elizabeth were married March 20, 1928. She was just past 16 and he a year older. The outlook was rosy. They took a small cottage in Almand Park and for a few, a very few weeks, life was a bed of roses. He was a clerk in the circulation department at the Georgian and his pay was enough to keep two.

They bought nice, shining new furniture—on the installment plan. They had a graphaphone, a fine cedar chest and everything the young couple needs to go housekeeping. It isn't paid for and now that tragedy had wrecked the home it will go back to the dealer, Eich's father said.

Then they had their first quarrel. Elizabeth went to the home of her mother, Mrs. C. D. Barrett, 115 Simpson street. He went to his parents' home.

They went back together and they quarreled again. A second, a third, a fourth and a fifth separation followed. The fifth one ended Wednesday night shortly before the sixth quarrel began.

According to Mrs. Barrett, Elizabeth had been at her home and it was upon her solicitation that the girl decided to make one more effort to continue life with her husband and rejoin him at the Eich home, where after moving the furniture about considerably, he had finally placed it permanently.

Ernest was cruel to his wife and caused the separations by the treatment he accorded her, Mrs. Barrett says. The boy's mother lays the blame for the domestic rift on the girl or, at least equally on the boy and the girl.

Her Final Effort.

Elizabeth left her mother's home shortly before dark Wednesday night. She was going back to her husband. Mrs. Barrett walked to the car line with her and gave her the mother's advice on how to "try to make a go of it." She kissed her daughter goodbye. The next she heard was that Elizabeth was dead.

The police could gather very little concerning the events in the Eich home Wednesday night. The boy's parents say all had retired when the quarrel ensued. They thought it was one of the couple's regular tiffs and did not interfere.

When they heard the shots Mr. and Mrs. Eich and Enix said they entered the room. The girl's body, they said, was on the floor near the door. The boy was staggering about the room, muttering that he wanted the gun.

Emergency Patrolmen C. C. Harper and R. E. Carroll answered the call. They found the room badly torn up as if a bitter hand to hand scuffle had taken place before the shooting.

The boy's father was moaning the tragedy that had come into the life of his "baby" boy. Ernest's mother was at his side in the hospital.

On the operating taible at the hospital Ernest made a statement to the police in which he said that his wife had done the shooting. His statement is borne out fairly well by the position of Elizabeth's body and the location of the pistol beneath it, Patrolmen Harper and Carroll said.

Coroner Paul Donehoo was notified and announced that he would conduct an inquest today at the undertaking establishment of J. Austin Dillon where Mrs. Eich's body was taken.

Besides her mother, Mrs. Eich is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Walter Venable, 26 Woodlawn avenue, N. W., Evelyn and Vera Buchanan and a half-sister, Ethel Barrett, all of 115 Simpson street, and two half-brothers, Sidney Barrett, a member of the United States navy and Charles Barrett, of her mother's home. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Thieves Will Multiply When the Law Exempts the Receiver of Stolen Goods

By Robert Quillen

Mr. Durant's offer of $25,000 for a plan to make the "dry law" effective served to enrich a former dry agent and accomplished nothing more.

It failed, as all such prize offers fail, because contestants were shrewd enough to forget the purpose of the contest and devote themselves to the business of impressing the judges.

As a critic and composer of music recently won an international contest by copying the works of the masters, so the winner of the present contest snared the judges by offering a plan already in use.

It is not a mere plan, but an entire campaign—technical, comprehensive—obviously the work of an expert.

Its one fault lies in the fact that it doesn't work.

The judges, asked to select the best plan to make the dry law effective, picked one that has failed to make it effective.

So much for the worth of contests and the gullibility of judges.

There is a way to make the dry law effective—a simple way, a legal way, an unfailing way. It is known to all officials.

And the only reason it isn't used is because officials know it would make the dry law effective and offend the millions who talk dry and act wet.

Here, in brief, is the plan and the logic of it.

The purpose of the prohibition law is not, primarily, to stop the importation, manufacture or transportation of alcoholic beverages, but to stop consumption.

The spirit and purpose of the law are not completely violated until the alcohol is consumed. Manufacturers and dealers are but accessories before the fact of final violation.

In short, one man alone cannot violate the purpose of the law unless he manufactures the beverage he drinks.

A completed violation of the spirit and purpose of the law requires conspiracy—one man to manufacture or import, one to transport, and one to consume. Then, and then only, is the purpose of the law completely violated.

It is obvious, then, that the drinker, being a party to the conspiracy and the inspiration of it, is equally guilty with the manufacturer.

In law and in common sense, all conspirators are equally guilty and deserve equal punishment.

When officials desire to enforce prohibition, and visit equal punishment on all parties to a conspiracy against it, the law will be effective—but never until then.

A man will risk jail to make a great profit. A "respectable citizen" will not risk jail to get a drink.

There is your plan, Mr. Durant. But it wouldn't impress judges. It is too simple and effective.

Jungle Huntress in Tears

:: DOESN'T REMEMBER WOUNDING HUSBAND ::

As She Tells of Shooting

New York, January 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Esther Wilson, jungle huntress and Washington society woman, testified in her own defense today that she had no recollection of shooting her husband, Dallett Wilson, Fifth avenue lawyer and politician, last March.

"I sat down across from him at his desk," Mrs. Wilson testified in relating her actions at the time of the shooting. "He was very rude to me. I told him I wanted to have a definite understanding about money matters and he was perfectly dreadful. I never saw him so angry in my life. Three or four times he tried to put me out of the office. The minute Mr. Wagman (a lawyer employed by Wilson) went out of the office Mr. Wilson made a jump at me, put his hands up as though to grasp my neck, and cursed me, saying '——you, you're killing Miss Rice!'"

There was no explanation of the identity of "Miss Rice" and at this point in her testimony Mrs. Wilson began to laugh hysterically.

"I don't remember shooting him," she concluded her account, laughing and then suddenly bursting into tears.

Under cross-examination she acknowledged that she had a revolver without a permit, although she knew this to be against the law. She carried it in a handbag, she said, to protect her jewels. She couldn't be positive whether it was in her bag when she called on her husband because she had no occasion to look in the bag as she never carried a handkerchief and seldom used powder.

Wilson, who was wounded twice and spent two months in a hospital, testified as a state's witness that he believed Mrs. Wilson had shot him by accident.

EX-STATE LAWYER HIT IN RUM TRIAL

East St. Louis, Ill., January 23.—(AP)—Witnesses in the Williamson county, Illinois, liquor conspiracy trial today accused Arlie O. Boswell, former state's attorney, with having been apathetic toward the liquor racket and crime reign of Charlie Birger gang of gunmen.

Oren Coleman, bulky college graduate-sheriff of the county, said he he told Boswell that the liquor racket was the seat of all the trouble and that "if we drove out the bootleggers we could drive out the criminals and gangsters." He declared that Boswell failed to co-operate with him and was lax in the performance of his duty.

The sheriff testified that he had advised Boswell to request National Guard protection for the primary election of April, 1926, in which six men were killed in a riot in Herrin, and that Boswell did nothing. That was before Coleman became sheriff.

John Ford, former deputy circuit clerk, whose brother was slain in the Herrin riot, testified that when he persisted in his attempts to compel Boswel to bring the case before a grand jury he was waylaid by Birger gangsters and threatened with shotguns.

Other witnesses testified that they had paid "protection money" in liquor operations to George Bell, former coroner, Hezzie Byrn, former chief of police of Johnston City; and Thomas Boyd, former chief of police of Marion, who are accused with Boswell.

GIRL, FOUND HERE, WILL BE RETURNED TO ALABAMA HOME

Montgomery, Ala., officers are expected in Atlanta today to return Mary Alice Kennedy, of that city, to her father and to take B. L. Summers, of Atlanta, to the Montgomery jail to face charges in connection with Miss Kennedy's continued absence from her home.

The pair was apprehended by Atlanta police following a call from the girl's father, E. A. Kennedy. Mr. Kennedy claimed that a letter from his daughter stated that she and Summers had been married at Selma, Ala., but that an examination of the records there revealed that no such marriage had been performed. He stated that Montgomery officers and warrants would follow the call.

Sybil Jacobs, of Montgomery, was held with Summers and Miss Kennedy. Police would not comment on her detention beyond saying that she was being held "in connection with the case."

THREE BANDITS LOOT VIRGINIA BANK OF $1,500

Richmond, Va., January 23.—(AP)—The first daylight bank holdup in the annals of the Richmond police department was successfully staged shortly before noon today when three unmasked men entered the Liberty Bank & Trust Co., here, with flourishing pistols and escaped with about $1,500 in cash.

Police said tonight that they were convinced that the affair was the work of local men whom they described as the "drug store sheik" type. Escape was made after the robbery by an automobile in which a fourth man was waiting in front of the bank building. Police said they had obtained a description of the car which they believed would aid in the investigation.

REALTY EXPERT URGES SELLERS GIVE FACTS

Birmingham, Ala., January 23.—(AP) Charles H. Sandford, of New York, in addressing the brokers division of the National Association of Real Estate Boards here today, declared big business wants facts, not silver tongued salesmanship, when they seek locations for their various enterprises. Sanford's assertion was in support of his plea for the application of sound principles to the business of selling real estate to business firms.

Instead of painting word pictures of huge profits that would occur from proposed business locations, Sandford suggested that the prospect be supplied with such information as the percentage of traffic past a given location as determined by a stopwatch count, and the purchasing power or quality of the traffic. Other main elements to be considered, he said, is type of location—a men's location can best be found near clothing, shoe and sporting goods stores, while that for women should be convenient to department stores.

Sanford, who is in charge of locations for a national chain store, declared "the option epidemic and the inflated rental disease, are the present plagues of chain store expansion. They must be eradicated if sound real estate values are to be secured and legitimate chain store expansion is to continue."

The brokers were one of several divisions of the national association meeting this afternoon. The morning session was devoted to welcoming addresses by Governor Bibb Graves, Commissioner W. E. Dickson, of the Birmingham city commission, and the response by Henry G. Zander, of Chicago, retiring president of the association.

HENRY C. BEERMANN, AGED ATLANTAN, DIES

Henry C. Beermann, 69, native Atlantan and one of the city's best known residents, died Wednesday night at his home on Roswell road, after an illness of about two weeks. He is survived only by a daughter, Mrs. F. L. Turner, Jr., of Chicago.

He had been retired from active business for a number of years but for many years was proprietor of a tobacco shop at Five Points. His father was the first manager of the Kimball House hotel and one of the early settlers in Atlanta.

He was widely identified with fraternal and social orders, being a member of the Masonic lodge, the Ynarab temple of the Shrine, the Old Guard and the Pioneer School Boys' club.

The body is being lield at the chapel of Sam R. Greenberg and company pending the completion of funeral arrangements.

GEORGE DENIES VOTING TO CONFIRM ROY WEST

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

Washington, January 23.—Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, today repudiated a published roll call of the senate in which he was reported to have cast his vote for the confirmation of Roy O. West, of Illinois, as secretary of interior.

The nomination of Secretary West, appointed by President Coolidge some months back to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Hubert Work, was confirmed by the senate in executive session Monday after heated opposition on the part of democratic and progressive leaders. Under rules of the chamber proceedings in executive session are held in the strictest secrecy, but one of the press associations published this morning what was purported to be the roll call on the West confirmation.

After finding his name listed among those who voted for confirmation the Georgia senator repudiated the accuracy of the published roll call. He explained that while under the senate rules he was strictly forbidden to reveal what actually took place, he held it to be his right to announce he had been misrepresented.

This was taken to mean that he voted against confirmation along with Senator W. J. Harris, of Georgia, and other democratic members whose opposition was announced previously.

Joining briefly in the discussion which took place on the floor of the chamber today following publication of the alleged ballot. Senator George said that regardless of the strict rule of secrecy he felt that any member should be free to correct his position in the face of such misrepresentation.

The opposition to Secretary West was based on his former close legal connection with Samuel Insull, Illinois utility magnate, who was revealed to have largely financed the successful senatorial campaign of Frank L. Smith, elected to the upper chamber from the state two years ago but subsequently denied a seat. West, it was charged, was financially interested in utility companies which might seek further water power rights under the administration of department of interior affairs.

During hearings on the nomination the new secretary of interior stated that he had relinquished all of his former utility holdings.

The fight against his nomination was not regarded of particular importance in view of the fact that his appointment was good only for the remainder of the Coolidge administration and it would have been possible for him to continue at his post in any event.

GORDON ST. MAN FEELS FINER THAN IN YEARS, HE SAYS

J. H. Tarvin Says Sargon Did Him More Good in Two Weeks' Time Than Everything Else Put Together.

"There was never a time in my life that I felt better than I have since Sargon ended my trouble, and my general health has improved in every way," says J. H. Tarvin, well-known

J. H. TARVIN.

"Ever since I had the 'flu' a year ago I have been run down and nervous and suffered so much from indigestion that sometimes the gas in my stomach and chest would be so bad I had to gasp for breath. I would be so weak after these spells that I could hardly stay on my feet, and no matter how careful I was about my diet I suffered just the same. I had had dizzy spells and headaches and had to take strong purgatives continually for chronic constipation. This trouble had held on so long in spite of all the treatments and medicines I took that I had given up hope of ever getting rid of it. Sometimes I would go for three or four days without relief.

"Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills are different from anything I ever tried and did more good in two weeks than everything else put together. The indigestion and shortness of breath are entirely gone. Just last night I ate pork sausage for supper and never had a bit of trouble afterward. My appetite is fine, I sleep like a top, and am gaining weight. My color is better, and I am so much better and stronger in every way that I feel like a different man.

"The Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the best treatment for constipation I ever saw. There is no griping or nausea and you can reduce the dose without losing the effect, instead of having to increase the dose all the time like you do with most laxatives.

"It is not only a pleasure but a duty to let others know about a medicine that does as much as Sargon has done for me, and I hope others will be benefited by my statement."

Mr. Tarvin is an employee of the New South Bakery and a staunch member of the Baptist church. He has a wide circle of friends throughout his section, and his word is accepted without question by all who know him.

Why Sargon accomplishes such amazing results is being explained by the Sargon representative at Jacobs' main store, 6 and 8 Marietta St., where hundreds are calling daily to learn more of the powers of the medicine. Sargon may also be obtained at the other Jacobs' Stores all over Atlanta.—(adv.)

Macon, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)—Macon's floating debt is being wiped out, it was revealed at last night's meeting of city council.

R. G. Jordan, chairman of the finance committee of council, revealed last night that these pay rolls have been reduced to $124,000, of which more than $40,000 has been paid since the first of the present year.

JADWIN URGES U. S. AID IN FLORIDA FLOOD TASK

Chief of Engineers Sees "Serious Problem," He Tells House Body.

Washington, January 23.—(AP)—The participation of the federal government in the work of controlling the flood situation in the Lake Okeechobee and Caloosahatchee and St. Lucia rivers drainage area in Florida was urged today by Major General Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, before the house flood control committee.

Testifying on the Drane and Sears bills to authorize $7,500,000 expenditure, to be met by equal state contributions for this work, General Jadwin said the flood condition was "a very serious problem."

Declaring that 2,000 lives had been lost in Florida, the general recommended higher and heavier levees in the section to prevent a recurrence of the floods that occurred during the 1928 hurricane.

"We should put something there that will not break," he added. He said that if confidence through flood protection were restored in the area the population would increase, while if another flood similar to that of 1928 came there would be a possibility of 10,000 deaths if adequate protection were not provided.

Representative Sears, democrat, Florida, urged the committee to take quick action so the measure could be enacted by congress at this session.

Rome Prisoner Will Not Wed By Telephone

Rome, Ga., January 23.—(Special.) Miss Edith Alvis, Cincinnati nurse, and Ervin L. Trusty, who is being held in Floyd county jail on several charges, will not wed, it is said.

Miss Alvis wired Trusty two weeks ago that she was making arrangements for the marriage to take place over long distance phone and the confident bridegroom has been waiting for the summons to the phone ever since, inasmuch as he had gotten Uncle Tom Tolbert, jailer, on his side and his promise to help the story have a happy ending.

Now, according to a story in a Cincinnati paper, Miss Alvis says she finds the ceremony cannot take place.

Then, too, she confided she was just trying to help Ervin, who had been kind to her when she had a sick sister. Trusty, however, behind prison bars, will not be disillusioned and has faith in Edith's love or his own allurement. When told about the story in the Cincinnati paper he said: "Aw, that's not like Edith. Sure we are going to be married just as soon as it is possible for her to come to Rome. She writes me all the time and says so."

FORMER RUSSIAN JURIST ADDRESSES TRADE BODY HERE

A talk on "Red Russia as an International Factor," by Dr. Pierre Porrohovshikoff, former member of the supreme court of Russia and also a state counsellor, featured the luncheon meeting of the Atlanta Foreign Trade club at the chamber of commerce building Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Porrohovshikoff stated that at the present time, the government of Russia did not represent the whole nation, a population of 140 million being ruled by less than fifty million. There is no political freedom in the country, he stated, those in power maintaining their position by means of the Red army. "Never in the world's history," he declared, "has there been a political system which has so successfully kept the mass of the people from having any share in the government."

He spoke of himself as belonging to Russia's past.

The committees and their chairmen for the year were announced as follows: Educational, George A. Bland; entertainment, C. H. d'Ardussey; finance, Robert Hecht; membership, I. W. McMillen; program, Croom Partridge; publicity, William A. Dunlap; reception, B. S. Barker; southeastern conference, Harry O. Mitchell, and transportation, W. H. Herrin.

CASHIER ADMITS TAKING $135,000 FUND ON SURRENDERING

Jackson, Miss., January 23.—(AP)—J. A. Logue, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Jackson, late today signed a statement that he had appropriated approximately $135,000 of the bank's funds, and voluntarily appeared bofore R. B. Rickets, United States commissioner, for arraignment on federal charges of embezzlement.

The defaulting bank employee went before the commissioner with his plea of guilty before a warrant was served. The affidavit for Logue's arrest was sworn to by W. M. Lammond, federal bank examiner, charging him specifically with embezzling $9,500 of the bank's money on a transaction dated December 8, 1928.

Logue's statement declared "no one helped me embezzle or appropriate or steal said bank's funds or property and I alone am guilty of and responsible for said embezzlement."

Over 250 ministers and laymen and visitors, representing church leaders, business men of holdings from various sections of the state and church, educators of the schools and colleges are present, presenting an aspect of "new thought in church life."

Much of the church work has suffered great loss from the effects of the recent floods in Florida, which will be emphasized in reports during this session of the conference, it is said.

The ministry and laymen of Florida have assured the bishop of their faith in his Christian leadership and that the work of the church in Florida will grow and flourish.

Mrs. Donaldson Needs Guardian, Doctors Assert

Appointment of a guardian to handle the affairs of Mrs. Bert Donaldson, widow of the investigator attached to Solictor General John A. Boykin's office, murdered several years ago, was ordered Wednesday afternoon by a commission which heard charges that Mrs. Donaldson is incapable of managing her estate.

Judge Thomas H. Jeffries, Fulton county ordinary, announced that he will attend to the appointment of the guardian today. William Schley Howard, attorney for Mrs. Donaldson, said that an appeal will be filed in Fulton superior court in an effort to have the commission's verdict set aside and the guardianship voided.

The commission, composed of Dr. John W. White, Dr. T. D. Longino and James L. Moore, found that Mrs. Donaldson is of unsound mind and incapable of managing her affairs. Hearing of testimony in the case occupied three afternoons. The proceedings for the appointment of the guardian were instituted by Houston White, son of the late Woods White, who was the original administrator of Donaldson's estate. Woods White was succeeded by Miss Lucille McGinnis, his secretary, as administratrix, on his death.

Testimony in the hearing was to the effect that Donaldson's estate amounted to approximately $30,000. It was alleged that Mrs. Donaldson had deeded away practically all of her property to a relative. Those testifying before the commission as to Mrs. Donaldson's mental condition included physicians and a number of friends of the late Bert Donaldson, as well as neighbors of Mrs. Donaldson.

OKLAHOMA HOUSE VOTES ANOTHER CHARGE

Assert Governor Unlawfully Called Out National Guard in 1927.

Oklahoma City, January 23.—(AP)—The house investigation committee that is looking into impeachment charges against Oklahoma's suspended governor, Henry S. Johnston, heard evidence today purporting to show that road contractors rallied to the chief executive's support when impeachment threatened him in 1927.

While this evidence was being heard the seventh of ten articles of impeachment pending against Johnston was voted by the house. It charged that he unlawfully called out the national guard in 1927 to suppress the attempted impeachment session of the legislature.

Testimony that Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, the suspended executive's confidential secretary, had sought to arrange the intoxication of a hostile house member in an attempt to obtain information from him, was another high spot of the mass of evidence taken by committees of the senate and the house.

E. J. Franklin, Tulsa insurance agent, testified before a senate committee investigating rumors that money was employed to bring an end to the impeachment session of December, 1927, that he contributed $500 toward a fund to employ attorneys to represent Governor Johnston in a supreme court case testing the validity of the session. He said the money had been solicited by two contractors whose names he could not remember.

Franklin admitted that among the contractors his company wrote bonds for were C. S. Beekman, of Oklahoma City and Harry Cannady, of Tulsa, who had been mentioned in previous testimony as being in a group named by Mrs. Hammonds as being instrumental in preventing Johnston's impeachment. O. P. Slack, vice chairman of the state fish and game commission, an appointee of Johnston, testified regarding Mrs. Hammonds before the house investigating committee.

Beaten Unconscious, Ohio Woman Later Dies in a Hospital

Cincinnati, January 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Ivy Pearl Denman, 39, of California, near here, who separated from her 83-year-old husband four years ago, died in a hospital today several hours after she was found beaten and unconscious in her home.

Police said Mrs. Denman was slain. A possibility existed, officers said, that two large dogs the woman kept as bodyguards might have attacked her. Police arrested a middle aged man in connection with the case and held him without charge for investigation.

Mrs. Denman's death was directly due to a fractured skull. The woman's body bore bruises made with a blunt instrument.

JAMES A. HOLLOMON IS SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

But Editor Also May Be Injured Internally, His Physicians Report.

James A. Hollomon, associate editor of The Constitution, who was injured in a fall Tuesday night at the Henry Grady hotel, was slightly improved Wednesday night, his physicians reported. Mr. Hollomon is at the Georgia Baptist hospital.

Mr. Hollomon was able to talk late Wednesday afternoon, and for the first time give the cause of his accident. He had been walking ahead of and talking to C. P. Byrd, he explained, and failed to realize the fact that he had reached a stairway. He made a misstep and fell two floors into the well of the stairway.

Mr. Hollomon was starting for home after a conference with officials of the proposed agricultural congress, to be held at the state capitol on January 30. Had it not been for the chairs he would probably have been killed on the tiled flooring.

Mr. Hollomon suffered several severe fractures, including his hip, knee and jaw, and doctors feared that he might also have internal injuries.

He was rushed immediately to the hospital, where X-ray examinations disclosed the extent of his injuries.

WILLEBRANDT LIKELY TO ESCAPE CENSURE

Reference to Official Beyond Scope of Survey, Says Ohio Representative.

BY BASIL MANLY.

Washington, January 23.—Representative John G. Cooper, of Ohio, chairman of the special house committee investigating prisons in Atlanta penitentiary and other federal prisons, has definitely thrown his support against any censure of Assistant Attorney-General Mabel Walker Willebrandt in the forthcoming report of the committee, it was learned here today.

Cooper himself confirmed the fact that he opposed any reference to Mrs. Willebrandt, declaring it as his opinion that censure of her official acts is "beyond the scope" of the committee's survey. Cooper declared that the republican members of the committee who were in a majority will support him in the position he has taken.

The chairman of the committee has for years been one of the spokesmen for the Anti-Saloon league on the floor of the house and was known to be in close sympathy with the pronounced stand taken by Mrs. Willebrandt during the recent presidential campaign on prohibition.

A tentative draft of the report omitting any mention of Mrs. Willebrandt was published yesterday, but Chairman Cooper said the final report would not be available until Friday and that a number of changes would be made as heretofore given out.

Minority members of the committee led by Representative John J. Boylan, democrat, of New York, have taken the ground that Mrs. Willebrandt's alleged methods in attempting to bring about the removal of Warden John W. Snook should be censured. The minority members have not yet decided on the advisability of submitting such a finding to the house in the form of a minority report.

BY THE DIAL TWISTER.

Vaughan De Leath has moved a part of Broadway to Fifth avenue and her particular place on that triumphal thoroughfare of presidents and heroes she has named Main street.

For the first woman to be heard across the Atlantic in song is now one of the acknowledged leaders in radio at the spacious studios of the National Broadcasting company, and she sees in the small city there, at 711 Fifth avenue, the spirit of Main street rather than sophisticated New York. When Vaughn De Leath added Forhan's Song Shop to her list of featured radio events, January 10, she had gone a long way from the day, back in her pig-tail age, when she directed an orchestra as a child of 12 at Riverside, Cal. A star of the air, she looked back at a procession of events wich had brought her through the stages of child orchestra leader and composer, woman radio station conductor, concert singer and one whose songs have been heard in every civilized country in the world.

Vaughn De Leath.

A familiar figure at the N. B. C. studios, where Forhan's Song Shop is broadcast each Thursday night, is this genial crooner of songs to America's radio millions. Her week now is made up of recording for four record companies, of participation in and rehearsals for her radio work, and finally a week-end on her farm, where her chief diversion is "to cook a good meal." Her voice, says the critics, "has an affinity for radio." And if that is true the letters of congratulation received by the Forhan company when she was announced for its weekly event, must mean that she, herself, has an affinity for many thousands of fans.

"I ought to know my A, B, C's in radio," declares Caroline Andrews, the young and very attractive prima donna of the air, who will appear as guest soloist of the Hoover hour tonight at 7:30 o'clock, over WSB and the N. B. C. system.

"I have sung everything, I think, from grand opera to burlesque. But, of course," she corrected herself in the same breath, "not including burlesque."

Under Roxy's direction Miss Andrews was one of the first artists to project personality into radio entertainment. And it was against her will that she made her first radio appearance five years ago as the leading lady of the original Roxy gang. The response was terrific. Miss Andrews says that after that experience she has taken radio seriously.

Scottish music predominates in the coast-to-coast broadcast by the Seiberling Singers to be heard through WSB and a nationwide network of the N. B. C. system tonight at 8 o'clock.

A medley of Scotch Folk songs opens the program of this date and the same atmosphere of thistles and heather is borne out by a transcription of "Annie Laurie" for the piano duo and the traditional Scotch air, "Mary of Argyle," as a tenor solo. Classical features of the same period include a repeat performance of d'Hardelot's "Because," requested by the radio audience, and a characteristic arrangement by Frank Black, of Tschaikowsky's Barcarolle, "June," for the "singing violins."

A variety program of dance music and entertainment will be broadcast over the Columbia system at 11 o'clock tonight, for the benefit of all night hawks and insomniacs.

The latest current musical and song hits, both vocal and instrumental, will offer a worth-while inducement for all those to stay up whose bedtime is usually an early one.

"Aunt Jemima" will broadcast her hour over the Columbia system tonight at 8 o'clock when she will be heard in her real old southern setting, flipping tunes as they flips pancakes.

The Higbee plantation will be the scene of her activities, where she and her husband, "Uncle Ned," who is butler, take care of the Higbee family. Other old retainers, sitting in their nigger shacks, will also be heard in this hour, strumming and crooning old darky songs and negro spirituals, first alone and then harmonizing them together.

All in all, "Aunt Jemima" will institute an hour of music as heard on an old southern plantation, with settings and characters faithfully reproduced.

KEYES DEFENDS COURSE IN TRIAL OF JULIAN CASE

Los Angeles, January 23.—(AP)—Testifying in his own defense in the bribery case growing out of the alleged "fixing" of the Julian petroleum fraud trial, former District Attorney Asa Keyes today denied that he had "laid down" at the last minute in the prosecution proceedings. Keyes is accused of accepting bribes from two men, among the Julian dependants, who are codefendants with the former district attorney in the present trial.

Charges against three other defendants in the bribery trial were dismissed yesterday, at which time the state closed its case.

Keyes testified that he moved to dismiss the Julian conspiracy case against Ed Rosenberg, now a defendant, because he "believed that no conviction could be obtained against Jacob Berman and S. G. Lewis without the aid of Rosenberg's testimony.

"I was faced with a tired jury," Keyes testified when asked for an explanation of the brief closing argument he made to the jury in the Julian case. "They had been argued to by counsel from May 2 to May 22, and I thought a long technical argument would hurt my case. Harold L. Davis and Julian Richardson already had covered the state's views of the law and facts, and I thought a short, snappy talk would be the best."

STUDENT PLEADS GUILTY TO BURNING BEDFORD SCHOOL

Bedford, Va., January 23.—(AP)—Waiving trial by jury James Potter, of Alliance, N. C., 17-year-old student at Randolph-Macon academy here, pleaded guilty today in circuit court before Judge H. S. Dillard to a charge of setting fire to the school the night of January 12.

Judge Dillard delayed passing sentence, however, until the court receives a reply from officials of the Virginia School for Boys, where an effort is being made to have young Potter committed, rather than to the penitentiary. Reformatory officials have received application from Potter's parents for his imprisonment there and are considering the youth's case.

The fire Potter set, lighting gasoline he poured on the basement floor, was discovered while a basketball game was being played at the school. The damage was estimated at $5,000. Potter was arrested early last week and following a confession he made to police was indicted by a special grand jury.

R. C. A. TO ESTABLISH SHORT WAVE SYSTEM

BY MARTIN CODEL.

Washington, January 23.—Radio Corporation of America, now busily engaged in segregating its communications' business from its various other lines of activity, will press its claim for enough short waves to establish a domestic radio telegraph system. It wishes to be free from dependence upon the wire companies as inland "feeders" for its transoceanic radio circuits.

Colonel Malcolm Davis, vice president and general attorney of the R. C. A., declared today that his company was not concerned about the grant of 40 short waves to the Universal Wireless Communications company for the establishment of a nation-wide wireless system. As the pioneer in American radio communications, the R. C. A. only asks for the right to engage in the domestic field as well, he said.

The matter of the short waves is being brought before the house committee during its current hearings on radio. Colonel Davis has asked to be heard on behalf of his company. Meanwhile, an American delegation is at Ottawa discussing the division of the continental short waves. Several members of the federal radio commission have indicated they will favor a grant of channels to the R. C. A., providing enough of the exclusive frequencies are allotted to this country at the Canadian conference.

DR. MILLER NEW HEAD OF SCOUTS' COURT OF HONOR

Dr. Harold C. Miller, who has long been active in Atlanta scout work, Wednesday night was chosen as president of the court of honor of the Atlanta Council, Boy Scouts of America. Dr. Miller succeeds E. J. Hardin in this office.

The court of honor is made up of a number of Atlanta business and professional men and plays an important part in the scout work in the city. It is divided into four divisions, one of which meets each Monday night and examines scouts who are applying for the various merit badges of the organization.

COOLIDGES NAMES HALSTED L. RITTER AS FLORIDA JUDGE

Washington, January 23.—(AP)—Halsted L. Ritter was nominated by President Coolidge today to be United States district judge for the southern district of Florida. At the same time the nomination of Crate D. Bowen for that post was withdrawn.

WILL ACCEPT POST IF CONFIRMED.

West Palm Beach, Fla., January 23.—(AP)—Halsted L. Ritter, 60, West Palm Beach, who was nominated by President Coolidge today to be judge of the southern Florida district, is a republican and has been practicing law here for the past three and one half years. He said he would accept the post if the nomination is confirmed by the senate.

Mr. Ritter, who said he never held a federal position, has been a lawyer for 34 years, coming here from Denver, where he had practiced for 30 years. He was an unsuccessful candidate for governor in the Colorado primary election in 1912. He served as Colorado railroad commissioner from 1908 to 1909 and in the latter year he also was president of the Denver Bar association. In 1924-25 he served as national president of the Community Chest.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION FUND GIVEN APPROVAL

House Committee Makes Several Changes in Senator George's Bill.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

Washington, January 23.—Favorable action was taken by the house rules committee today on the bill sponsored by Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, providing a fund of $500,000 for promotion of vocational education in the various states. Passage of the measure was effected in the upper chamber at the last session.

Several minor changes were ordered in the bill, as originally approved, chiefly one which limits to four years the period in which federal aid to vocational education will be extended. Beginning with the next fiscal year provision is made for the $500,000 appropriation to be increased a half-million dollars annually. Previously it had been proposed to have the federal aid program extended over a period of eleven years.

"While I regret that the committee on rules did not accept the bill as it passed the senate, I am highly pleased that we have progressed this far," the Georgia senator stated. "My information is that sentiment in the house is overwhelmingly in favor of the measure and I feel that by passing the bill, as changed, it will be possible before the expiration of four years to provide, by appropriate legislation, additional funds with which to complete the work of vocational or farm training in every rural high school throughout the country. I shall watch this legislation with interest and shall undertake to follow it up until we can obtain sufficient funds for furthering the activities provided in my original bill."

Under the terms of the George bill, one-half of the funds appropriated will be allotted to the states in the proportion that their farm population bears to the total farm population of the nation, to be used for salaries of teachers, supervisors and directors of agricultural subjects. The other half of the fund will be allotted to the states in the proportion that their rural population bears to the total rural population, to be used for teachers, supervisors and directors in home economics.

The funds supplement the $3,000,000 annual appropriation now made by congress under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes act.

BOOTH IS URGED TO GIVE UP POST BY ARMY OFFICIAL

San Francisco, January 23.—(AP)—A telegram to General Bramwell Booth, urging him to yield to the Salvation Army's high council and "accept the kindly offer to retain your honors and surrender the responsibility to the wisdom of the council and their choice," was dispatched yesterday by John L. McNab, chairman of the Army's advisory board here. McNab has been advisory chairman for western America during the past 14 years.

"America honors you, but is pained beyond expression that your noble career should now be dimmed by defying the high council composed of the greatest minds of the Army," said the telegram, in part. "Our people feel that the name of Booth can still be the spiritual force behind the Army in the person of your beloved sister, Commander Evangeline Booth. Americans, whose vast donations to the Army entitled them to recognition, look to her for leadership in this critical hour."

HOOVER GOOD-WILL JOURNEY IS HAILED AT ROTARY FORUM

Miami, Fla., January 23.—(AP)—Transportation, trade relations and international friendship is drawing the Americas more closely together than they have been at any time before, William A. Reid, of Washington, foreign trade adviser of the Pan American Union, told the first annual Rotary forum here.

He pointed particularly to the "rising tides" in the growth of nations of the western hemisphere, describing them as "new presidents," the people who are accomplishing things in the world, who are traveling. He also declared the Rotarianism, world-wide in scope, is aiding in the extension of national friendship.

Mr. Reid reminded the Rotarians that the Argentine, Costa Rica, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Honduras, Mexico, Panama, Paraguay and the United States elected new presidents in 1928, while the year previous saw new chief executives in Chile, Guatemala, Uruguay and other countries of South America.

President-elect Hoover has met the most of the other new presidents, he said, and has cemented a friendship that would have been impossible through any other means than by that adopted by Mr. Hoover.

Investigates Report Of Influenza Epidemic In Everglades District

West Palm Beach, Fla., January 23.—(AP)—Dr. T. Gunter, county health officer, left here today for the Everglades to investigate reports that an outbreak of influenza which yesterday had rendered from 60 to 70 families helpless at Canal Point, had spread to Pahokee and other sections farther south along the banks of Lake Okeechobee.

Before leaving here Dr. Gunter telephoned town officials in Pahokee, forbidding public gatherings of any kind, and stated that he would discuss the advisability of closing the schools there after his arrival in the district.

Three state board of health nurses now are at Canal Point, where the school has been closed. They have reported to the Red Cross officials here that the cases have not become serious yet, but the extent of the outbreak there and the prevailing poverty resulting from last September's hurricane had created a serious situation.

Tex Learned Much of Ring At Reno Bout

Grudge Fights Bunk, Rickard Says; Kept Battlers Friendly.

This is the only autobiography written by Tex Rickard. It was prepared in collaboration with Bozeman Bulger, for publication exclusively by The Constitution and The North American Newspaper Alliance. Shortly before Rickard's death he discussed with Bulger plans for publication of these memoirs in book form. Following is the fifteenth installment of the autobiography, which is appearing in daily chapters.

BY TEX RICKARD.
(In Collaboration With Bozeman Bulger.)

It was in the Reno fight between Jeffries and Johnson that I began to learn the basic principles of promoting, of making a big affair like that successful.

An editor in the west has written to ask me if I ever knew of a real grude fight. Frankly I never did. Moreover, I don't believe there ever was one.

In the old days it used to be accepted as the proper form for one fighter to refuse to speak to his opponent while training. There were stories, probably encouraged by some booster, about the two fighters meeting accidentally while doing road work and almost coming to blows. This was supposed to convince the public that they were bitter enemies and, consequently, would put up a harder fight.

A Lot of Bunk.

That to me is a lot of bosh. I never believed in it and the more I see of the fight game the less I believe in it. The public likes to look on a fight as a sporting event. No man ever showed poor sportsmanship by being friendly to his opponent before and after the fight. That was my theory and I put it into practice with Jeffries and Johnson.

I used to make a point of going fishing or hunting with Jeffries and of visiting him at his headquarters. On other occasions I would get Jack Johnson's big racing car and ride with him. I never tried to keep anybody from seeing me do it either.

You ought to have heard the busybodies warning me about this.

"It's bad dope for you to be seen out with these fighters," they would tell me. "There'll be a lot of underground talk. Don't forget you are the promoter and the referee."

"Maybe you are right," I told one adviser, "but I'm going out fishing with Jeffries tomorrow. I like to talk to him."

Often Jeffries would ask me about Johnson.

"What kind of shape is he in, Tex?"

"Fine," I told him. "He'll give you quite a fight."

Then Johnson would ask about Jeffries. I would tell him the same thing. I would never try to flatter one of them by telling him he had a cinch. That would have been foolish.

In later years I have gone further in this line. I have made special arrangements for the two fighters to be seen together before the fight. The fans like that, and so do the fighters, for that matter.

Fight on the Level.

While we were getting ready in Reno there was much whispered talk to the effect that the fight had been fixed. That was all foolishness. Often I am asked about it to this day.

Jeffries had no idea that Johnson would win that fight. If anything, it was Johnson who lacked the confidence. He wasn't so sure. A proof of this is that Jeffries felt so sure of winning he insisted on sixty per cent of the purse going to the winner. Johnson felt the same way about it. If there had been any thought of Johnson laying down they would have split the purse nearer even. You can go and bet that Jim Jeffries thought himself sure of winning.

In justice to Jeffries, by the way, it is a fact that the sudden change of climate from San Francisco to Reno affected him very seriously. He contracted stomach trouble and diarrhea. That made him slow and logy and he could not entirely get rid of it by training.

A big item in that fight, apparently overlooked by many at the start, was the moving picture rights. Johnson and Jeffries were to divide their share of this equally. Johnson made a bad mistake in selling out his entire picture interest for $50,000. Jeffries held on to his and it netted him $66,600.

Lots of Fun at Reno.

At Reno the preliminary arrangements took on a different air. There was all sorts of fun. The newspaper men really had more to write about than if we had stayed in San Francisco. There was more of the romance of the Goldfield fight about it.

Johnson kept his admirers and others constantly amused with his racing automobile and his big bull fiddle. Some have an idea that Jack was not serious about racing that car. Don't you believe it. He thought himself the greatest racing driver in the world and would take any sort of chances.

Johnson also knew how to play that big bull fiddle. It was his delight to get a crowd of white folks at night or afternoon and make the old bull snort. He could actually do tricks with that big fiddle.

Another of his favorite pastimes was to have chicken dinners. Always he had a smile for everybody. It was a golden smile, too. It always looked to me as if Jack Johnson had more gold teeth than anybody in the world.

Jeff Was Ill.

There were frequent reports that Jeffries was acting ugly and surly, while Johnson was happy-go-lucky and friendly.

As a matter of fact, Jeffries is a big, friendly fellow. He was suffering from that stomach trouble. Try as he would he could not entirely get over it. That made him worry. He was not surly or sullen.

I watched these fellows train because I wanted to learn as much as possible about my job of referee. As the Fourth of July approached that refereeing business made me sit up and think.

Next—Jeff and Johnson in the ring.

Much Action Seen When Two Local Rivals Face in Atlanta Ring.

Mr. Edward Hanlon, of this city, has popped up again with another fight for Atlanta. Edward walked in Wednesday night with the announcement that on February 5 he was going to give Atlanta the best fight it had ever seen. Every fight that has ever been promoted here has always been called that, but Mr. Hanlon made a match that should strike the public fancy when he signed Ted Goodrich to fight Stiles Attaway in the main bout of his February 5 card.

It will be one of those return affairs. Attaway has been smarting under the sting of defeat since a couple of months ago when Goodrich pasted him about in such convincing fashion as to win a decision in a six-round affair. That happened at one of Mr. Hanlon's affairs, which he held at the auditorium.

In Good Shape.

Attaway, before he met Goodrich, had been knocking over practically everything that came his way and was rated as among the best in this section. He has, since his defeat by Goodrich, been hard at work at the Chevrolet plant here and kept in shape.

Goodrich has been traveling over the southeast meeting all manner of opposition and is in very good shape, so Mr. Hanlon says. Hanlon was enthusiastic about the match he had made and said he was looking for a knockout—to be scored by either one.

He also said that the bout had been enthusiastically received by Bob Cobb, newly-appointed chairman of the local boxing commission.

Hanlon, having secured his main event, is now busy working out the rest of his card and hopes to have it completed within the next few days.

HENRY KILLILEA, AMERICAN LOOP FOUNDER, DIES

Milwaukee, Wis., January 23.—(AP)—Henry J. Killilea, 62, one of the members of the little group that founded the American Baseball league in 1899, is dead.

The local sportsman, who also was owner of the Milwaukee club of the American association, died at his home here today of heart disease after a brief illness.

Mr. Killilea with his brother Matt, Connie Mack, Charles Comiskey and Ban Johnson founded the league at a meeting in the Killilea home here and for several years he acted as its counsel.

Mr. Killilea became president of the Boston Red Sox in 1903, when that club was tottering on financial difficulties, and won the pennant. For nearly a quarter of a century thereafter he took no active part in baseball. In 1928 he purchased the Milwaukee Brewers.

Much of the baseball magnate's early fame arose during his college days at the University of Michigan. His ability on the diamond won the approval of the Detroit Tigers, but he refused an offer to turn professional. He enjoyed a brilliant amateur standing as a football player.

It was at Michigan that Mr. Killilea met Miss Louise Meindermann, a co-ed, and his future wife.

Before taking up law at the University of Michigan, Mr. Killilea was graduated from the Oshkosh (Wisconsin) State Teachers' college and was a teacher at Oakwood, Wis. He was born at Poygan, Wis., on a farm in 1867. January 1, 1907, Mr. Killilea became solicitor general in Wisconsin for the Milwaukee railroad, in which capacity he served until his death.

He is survived by two children, Harry and Florence.

Loughran, Walker Ordered To Fight

Chicago, January 23.—(United News)—Four boxing champions must risk their titles within 60 days or the National Boxing association will cease to recognize them as titleholders, the association ruled today.

Paul Prehn, president of the association, addressed the order to Tommy Loughran, light-heavyweight champion; Joe Dundee, welterweight; Sammy Mandell, lightweight, and Mickey Walker, middleweight.

The National association has a rule which provides all champions must defend their titles at least once every six months.

Detroit Tigers Book Another Spring Game

Detroit, January 23.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers have added another practice game to their training schedule.

The Tigers have arranged to play the Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast league on March 20 in San Diego. With few exceptions, the other pre-season games are slated with the Pirates and Cubs.

Bill Carrigan Faces a Hard Spring Grind

Much Building To Be Done Before Boston Red Sox Will Be Ready.

BY WILLIAM R. KING.

Boston, January 23.—(AP)—Bill Carrigan is going to do a lot of building with the Boston Red Sox.

He has been building for two years and he believes it will take at least two more before he can get a combination of young ball players, with a cast off here and there, that will make any kind of an impression in the American league.

He has 37 players on his roster and only 13 of them were with the club last season. He has 13 pitchers, six catchers, 10 infielders and eight outfielders.

He has no idea who is going to play in his infield and doesn't expect to until the squad has been working out at Bradenton, Fla., for a couple of weeks.

Todt Only Sure Bet.

Phil Todt, the best fielding first baseman in the league last season seems to be the only infielder sure of holding his job, but Rothrock will be on hand to succeed him if he fails to hit better than he did last season. Bill Regan, who has held down second for the past two seasons, must outfight Jerry Standaert, late of Brooklyn, and Grant Gillis, who came from Washington in the Buddy Myers trade, for the job.

There are three outstanding candidates for the shortstop berth, Harold Rhyne, who came from Philadelphia on waivers; Wally Gerber and Bobby Reeves, who held down that position for Washington for two seasons.

Carrigan's biggest problem seems to be the finding of an adequate third baseman. His best bet is Bobby Barrett, who is coming up from the Buffalo Internationals and seems about ripe to blossom into a major league star. Barrett was with Brooklyn for a time several years ago but Uncle Wilbert Robinson thought he took too long a swing with the bat and shipped him to Atlanta in time to help that club win the Southern league pennant.

Of the eight outfielders due to report at Bradenton, four have seen service with the Red Sox. These are Ira Flagstead, Ken Williams, Doug Tait and Jack Rothrock, who would rather play first base. The newcomers include Elliot Bigelow, a demon minor league hitter who was part of the Myers' trade, and Loepp, Dumas and Scarritt, three minor league purchases.

Strong Catching Staff.

Carrigan knows catchers and he seems to have a strong staff with Alex Gaston, Charlie Berry and John Heving, who have been with the club, and Bob Asbjornson, recalled from Akron; Eddie Connelly, who played in the Eastern league last season, and a youth from Waterville, Me., named Danny Shanahan, who played ball for Colby college.

There will be five righthanded holdovers from the 1928 pitching staff, big Ed Morris, Charley Ruffing, Danny Macfayden, Jack Russell and Pat Simmons. Morris was the most effective of the quintet last season, winning 19 and losing 15. The other four functioned below the major league standard.

Among the new box prospects are Milton Gaston, Alex's brother, and Hod Lisenbee, both involved in the Myers' trade, Bill Bayne, with Cleveland last season, Frank Bushey, recalled from the Pittsfield Eastern league club and four rookies, John Shea, a former Boston college twirler, Bobby Carroll, Benny Frey and a youth named Durham, who could not escape the nickname "Bull." Bayne and Shea are the only southpaws in the lot.

They're Still Hoping.

Toronto's coliseum, where all fight shows are held, has a total seating capacity of 16,000 but the biggest crowd to date was 10,200.

A. A. C. Defeats Yellow Jackets, 43-26, To Keep Slate Clean

Cy Bell Stars As Bean Boys Trounce Tech

BY BEN COTHRAN.

All cyclones, tornadoes and hurricanes are supposed to blow with fury and leave a trail of devastation in their wake. Georgia Tech's Tornado blew out on the Atlanta Athletic club court Wednesday night and for the major part of one exciting basketball game seemed on the verge of completely wrecking the club team. But the club players worked with a speed and fury equal to that of the Tornado and when the final bell's clanging noise was heard through the din, the yells and screams, Georgia Tech had received its first defeat of the season. The score was 43 to 26.

The Athletic club Wednesday night came closer to defeat than it has at any time this season. Tech's defense was hard to penetrate, bordering at times upon the impregnable. But adept handling of the ball by those two good guards, Ridgway and McCrory, worked the ball through enough times for Brewer and Bell to get successful shots at the basket.

Bell High Scorer.

Bell led the scoring with 16 points and Brewer had 10. Pat Stephens, scoring ace, was somewhat off-form and 76 addition was closely checked by Tech. He made two points, which came from two free tries at the basket.

Two slim, fast and agile fellows—Wilson and Coker—did the greater part of Tech's scoring. Their shots came after long passes from downcourt, or a fast dash in towards the basket, a twisting jump upwards with two points resulting.

The Jackets scored the first point when Stephens was called for backing and Hudson—Tech center, who got the tip-off from Bell practically every time—shot in a free try. Shortly afterwards Bell charged in with two points and there began a ding-dong scoring battle that saw the half end with the A. A. C. ahead by 18-14. In the last few moments Tech, seemingly tiring, slowed down and the club went rapidly ahead.

Club Takes Lead.

Following Bell's field goal, Hank Hecke made one. Brewer made one and sent the club ahead by 6-3 when he made two charity chunks count. Both teams were guarding closely and when one side made a shot at the basket, an opposing player usually came out of the muddle with the ball. Shots were hurried and scoring plays were usually broken up before the ball was anywhere near the basket.

They battled on through the first half and into the second. Tech went ahead two or three times but never by more than two points. But after the beginning of the second half the club went into the lead and stayed there, although the margin at times was preciously slim. Then with the score 28-24, McCrory and Bell began sinking long shots. They had run the count for their side up to 32 before Coker made the last counter for Tech.

Thomason, Maree Enter Game.

Bell and McCrory continued their scoring and with a couple of minutes left, Mundorff, Tech coach, brought back memories of stirring scenes on Grant field this fall with the injection of Vance Maree and Stumpy Thomason. Maree came into the limelight when, in a toss-up, he batted the ball clear from one end of the court to the other.

It was the club's toughest game and they were forced to the limit to keep their slate clean.

COMING STORM OUTSTANDING IN DOG TRIALS

Grand Junction, Tenn., January 23.—(AP)—A steady downpour of rain failed to interfere with the third day's running of the national bird dog championship field trials, as the four pointers performing today found numerous bevies.

Of the quartet running today, The Coming Storm, owned by F. T. Bedford, of New York, turned in the best performance with seven bevies and several singles. Pitted against The Coming Storm was Outcast, owned by C. S. Jones, of Tulsa, Okla., which scored four bevies and four singles.

The afternoon cast found Rex Tarheelia, owned by T. C. Bailey, of Baltimore, pitted against Ireland's Greymist, belonging to H. Glenn Ireland, of Birmingham, Ala. This pair put up a snappy heat of two hours during which many in the galleries thought all records would be exceeded, but soon eased down and tied on five bevies and several singles.

MIKE GAZELLA

New York, January 23.—(AP)—Mike Gazella, former reserve outfielder of the New York Yankees, who was sold to Newark this winter, is not certain whether he will play this year or not. Mike has a position with a brokerage house that is paying him well and has not yet been able to make a choice between Wall street and the ball field for the coming season.

'MICKEY' SENDS 1929 CONTRACT BACK UNSIGNED

Voted the most valuable player to his team in the American league last year, Cochrane has been spending the winter on a vaudeville tour.

"I have not yet reached the hold-out stage and am in hope that we can come to terms before the team goes south," Cochrane said tonight. "But, if I do not receive the amount of money I think I am worth, I will consider retiring from the game."

WANER RETURN 1929 CONTRACTS UNSIGNED.

Pittsburgh, January 23.—(AP)—Sam Dreyfuss, treasurer of the Pittsburgh National league baseball club, tonight confirmed reports that the unsigned contracts of Paul and Lloyd Waner, star outfielders, had been received at the Pirate offices here. Dreyfuss said, however, that the brothers were not considered by the management in the light of "hold outs."

"Three-fourths of the Pirate team have signed contracts; some of the players are a little slow in lining up but we are confident that when the time comes to go south every player on the roster will have signed," Dreyfuss said.

LAKE RUSSELL NAMED MERCER GRID COACH

Macon, Ga., January 23.—(AP)—Lake F. Russell, of Carson-Newman, was elected head football coach of Mercer university at the meeting of the Mercer athletic board of control Wednesday night.

Mr. Russell has been coach at Carson-Newman for seven years. He is 30 years old and played football at both Carson-Newman and the University of Tennessee during his college days.

The selection of an assistant coach was postponed by the Mercer board to a later date, more time being required to consider the various applicants.

Russell came to Mercer highly recommended by a number of well-known southern coaches, including Dana X. Bible, who recently left Texas A. & M. to go to University of Nebraska as coach, and under whom Russell studied at his coaching school.

Russell is the third head coach Mercer has selected from the state of Tennessee during the last eight years. Josh Cody, of Vanderbilt, and B. H. Moore, of Sewanee, whom Russell replaces, were the other two. Moore now is assistant to Russ Cohen at L. S. U.

Mercer officials were informed that Russell had had unusual success in the Appalachian conference, his teams having won championships in that body in football, basketball and baseball. His basketball team at Carson-Newman has won 96 games in the last 112 games played.

St. Augustine, Fla., January 23.—(AP)—H. A. Henderson, formerly of Terre Haute, Ind., continued to hit his medal stride of yesterday to eliminate Al Hahne, Summitt, N. J., in the first round of match play today for the Florida east coast championship.

Henderson's victory was by the widest margin in the tournament, 7 and 6.

Other favorites, including Joe Capo, St. Augustine; Van Culver, Port Jervis, N. Y., and Bob Booker, Jacksonville, also won from C. C. Spades, Chicago; G. H. Sanning, Cincinnati, and J. Hogg, Brooklyn, N. Y., respectively, by wide margins.

Infantry Five Beats College Park, 29 to 27

Playing fast and snappy basketball, the 122nd infantry basketeers nosed out the College Park five, 29 to 27, Wednesday night at the fort. The soldiers led most of the way but never by more than three points.

The lead changed hands three times near the end and it was through fast passing that the soldiers broke a 27 to 27 tie just before the final whistle.

Tedesco and Sosebee were the outstanding stars for the winners and for College Park the playing of Baskin, Smith and Joyner was outstanding.

Paavo Nurmi Again Cleared Of Pro Charge

Claims Found To Be "Reckless and Unfounded" by A. A. U. Officials.

New York, January 23.—(United News)—Once again the name of Paavo Nurmi has been cleared of the taint of professionalism.

After a complete investigation of the latest charges against the peerless Finnish runner, the registration committee of the Metropolitan Association of the Amateur Athletic union tonight found the statements made by Jack Harris, deposed secretary of the Masonic games committee, to be "reckless and unfounded" and no official action was taken by the body.

Previously, Harris, who criticized men "high in track circles" and charged that Nurmi had been unduly persuaded to run in the Knights of Columbus games at Boston Saturday night, was forced to resign. The committee at its hearing announced Harris' letter was "unauthorized and the charges contained therein were the invention of an individual."

Nurmi, who appeared personally at the meeting, said in a statement: "I did not receive a personal invitation to compete in the Masonic meet January 26. Several friends, I am informed, were asked to have me enter, but made no promise that I would do so. No one is authorized to enter me in any meet. I will make all my own entries."

CONSTRUCTION OF MIAMI RING STARTS TODAY

Miami Beach, Fla., January 23.—(AP)—A second warning to keep on the ground instead of in an airplane was telegraphed today to Young Stribling by Jack Dempsey, promoter of the February 27 Sharkey-Stribling battle here.

Dempsey also wired Stribling and Sharkey to appear here for training immediately after January 25, on which night both have fights.

"I have wired Stribling to tell him that it is essential that he keep out of a plane until after the fight at Flamingo park here," Dempsey said. "I don't want him to take any unnecessary chances, and as I see it one of the surest ways to take one is to go for an airplane ride just before a fight like this."

Orders Men to Report.

Dempsey said that he had included in his telegram instructions to Stribling to leave for Miami Beach after he fights Jack Smith, Friday night, and that he had sent similar orders to Sharkey, who battles K. O. Christner the same night.

Work on the arena in Flamingo park will be started tomorrow, Dempsey said, with plans for a 40,000 seating capacity. He appeared in doubt that this size would hold the crowd that he expects to drop in between now and February 27 for attendance at the melee, but is resting easily with the assurance by Lionel Levy, Madison Square Garden seating expert, that the 60-acre tract can be made the foundation for an arena to seat 60,000 cash customers.

More than $20,000 in cash is in Miami Beach coffers of the Garden corporation as a result of advance ticket sales, Dempsey said tonight, whole more than $100,000 in tickets is represented in the reservations that have been made to date.

TARHEELS OFF ON 3-DAY TOUR; PLAY A. C. HERE

Chapel Hill, N. C., January 23.—The University of North Carolina basketball squad, fresh from victories over Wake Forest and North Carolina State left here tonight on a three-day invasion of Georgia and South Carolina. The Tarheels take on three tough games on the far southern jaunt, two of them with strong southern conference teams.

The first engagement is with the Georgia Bulldogs at Athens tomorrow night. The next is with the Atlanta Athletic club five in Atlanta Friday night, and the final with South Carolina in Columbia Saturday night.

Coach Jim Ashmore gave his charges only a light drill here this afternoon to top their 41 to 32 victory over N. C. State last night. That win raised Tar Heel stock several points, and the eyes of state basketball fans follow them southward. Coach Ashmore expects to use much the same team on the trip that started against Wake Forest and State. That line up included captain Hackney and Cathey, forwards; Harper, center; and Brown and Marpet, guards. Nine men made the trip tonight, including Hackney and Dameron, centers; and Brown, Marpet and Smith, guards. Coach Jim Ashmore and manager McLean Leath accompanied the squad.

Grantland Rice And Beach Win

Palm Beach, Fla., January 23.—(AP)—Favorites continued to hold the upper hand today as right and left-handed niblick wielders took their golf more seriously in the second round of match play in the annual artists'-writers' tournament here.

Rex Beach, who turned in low score in the medal round, had little trouble in disposing of T. Kajiwara, St. Louis, 6 and 5 today, while Grantland Rice, present titleholder, was eliminating F. Newland, Englewood, N. J., by the same score.

Jefferson Machamer, New York, defeated E. M. Benjamin, of the same city, 4 and 2, and A. W. Schepp, St. Louis, won from Sam Harris, New York, by default. Results of other matches today were:

John Lagatta, North Hempstead, L. I., defeated George Abbott, New York, 1 up.

R. K. Strassman, New York, defeated John Golden, New York, 8 and 7.

The third round of 18 holes will be played tomorrow.

Mr. Spiller Returns

Cracker Boss Expected Today; Club May Change Hands; Fast Growing Grass.

BY BEN COTHRAN

Baseball news of a sort is expected today when Mr. Spiller, owner of the Crackers, comes back to town following an extensive tour of Florida and also Havana, Cuba.

Wandering into Mr. Spiller's offices Wednesday, seeking something to put in the paper, we were informed that the Cracker head is expected to arrive this morning.

Spilled was supposed to have set out Wednesday morning from Brooksville, Fla., by automobile. He had been there conferring with the new manager, Wilbur Good. He was there for a couple of days and it is possible that the two have hatched up news of enough import to be given the press.

Rumors.

Nor is that all. It is expected that news concerning the club's ownership will be handed out. J. T. Selman, former drug store owner of the city, is on hand at Spiller's offices every day, looking after the routine matters and will do secretarial duty this year.

Rumors, which have clouded the town lately as much as the frequent fogs and mists, are persistent in saying that Selman has purchased an option on the Atlanta franchise, will spend a year learning the business and then at the end of that year will purchase the club.

We were told once that if you know what to ask then you have half your story. So we asked Mr. Selman if such as has been outlined above were true. Mr. Selman answered that he was working for Spiller. So we suppose that's half the story.

Prediction.

At any rate, Selman didn't deny it. Nor did he affirm it. But from what we have heard and from the way Mr. Selman talked, a strong suspicion is becoming implanted in this correspondent's mind that the club will change hands. You can put that down as a prediction and then make nasty cracks about us if it doesn't pan out.

That was about all the news that could be unearthed. Johnny Suggs, Mr. Spiller's right-hand man, and Mr. Selman told a hair-curling and fantastic tale about how fast the grass grows at the field.

Standing in front of the office, looking at the diamond, we started the whole thing by remarking that the grass seemed to be doing fairly well. The playing field was scattered with lusty, thick new-green patches of grass. It seemed to have been up a week.

"Yes," said Selman, calmly, "and yesterday there wasn't a bit of it up."

Maybe It's True.

We were raised to be polite, but couldn't refrain from laughing rudely. Then Johnny chimed in with, "Well, sure enough, there wasn't much of it showing Monday."

But if the grass we saw grew that fast in two days, then it is growing by the proverbial leaps and bounds. Large ones at that. But we guess Selman and Suggs told us the truth.

The field has been well worked over. All the elephant wallows left from last summer's circus have been filled in and a great lot of top-soil dumped on the field.

With Mr. Spiller expected today, there should be some sort of activity going on, for it's getting time.

Saving Nerves

Mac Smith tied for the U. S. open championship twenty years ago, back in 1909, when he was about twenty years old. At forty he is still a great golfer in tournament play, and he will still be a great golfer at fifty, because he has the easy, smooth, simple type of swing that doesn't wear out the nervous system. Golf is less of an effort with Mac Smith than any one I know. For this reason even nine rounds are frequently called monotonous. They are not monotonous to any one interested in the problem of smoothness or rhythm. The average golfer is about 90 per cent tension. Most of this tension is due to the fact that his swing is wrong and his conception of the game is wrong. One muscle is fighting another, and both are fighting against his nervous system. Yet none of this is necessary to hit a golf ball and get the required distance. Good golf is easy golf. It is almost impossible to keep relaxed with the fundamentals of the swing incorrect. In a way it is a double job, because relaxed efforts helps lead to the fundamentals, and the right fundamentals help lead to relaxed effort. They travel together. Mac Smith's style is a fine exampl for the average golfer to study, because it carries the idea of ease. It is much more of a swing than a hit. One can swing without tightening up easier than one can hit.

Nick Goes Fanning.

Dear Sir: Nick Altrock was fanning the other day. He cost the Chicago White Sox less than $200 and drew far less salary as a star pitcher than Clark Griffith now pays him as a clown. Nick had the greatest motion toward first base of anyone ever in the game. Pitching in the Pacific Coast league, he once walked eight batters and picked seven of them off first base. He also was the greatest fielding pitcher of all time.

Hal Chase was the greatest first baseman of all times, declare Altrock. Nap Lajoie the greatest second baseman, Jimmy Collins the best at third base, and Wagner the peer of all shortstops. He picks Cobb, Speaker and Ruth for his outfield, and Buck Ewing to catch. He picks no pitchers.

"Modern pitchers do not have the chance the old-timers had," he says. "All of the new rules of baseball have been against the pitcher. The rules makers have restricted at pitcher's motions in the box; every time you turn around there is a new ball in play and the batter gets all the favors. But speaking of pitchers, there never was a harder man to hit than Addie Joss. And how would you like to have Brown, Pfeister, Reulbach and Overall on your team, or Bender, Plank, Combs and Waddell?"

In more than 30 years of baseball Altrock declares the greatest play he ever saw was made by "Jigger" Donahue in the world's series of 1906. George Rohe, the White Sox third baseman, made a wild throw. Donahue picked the ball out of the air while lying on his side, stretched full length, with his toe glued tightly against the bag.

DECATUR LOSES TO BLUEBIRDS BY 18-15 COUNT

Scoring four points in an extra five-minute period, the University School Bluebird basketball team defeated Decatur High Wednesday afternoon on the Tech court by a score of 18 to 15.

The Bluebirds had staged a rally during the last half to tie the score at 14-all as the game ended and then in the extra period won out. The game was featured by close guarding of both squads, making it quite difficult for opposing forwards to break through for points. Decatur started off in the lead and held at the half, the margin being 14-12.

Carpenter, university forward, was high point man of the game with 11 to his credit while Richards, Decatur center, had eight.

Christner Has Garden Officials Talking in Scared Whispers

"K. O." Is Confident He'll Knock Sharkey Over Friday Night.

BY EDWARD J. NEIL.

This accident of fisticuffs is known to his family as Meyers Wilson Christner, to the fans as "K. O."—to his opponents as "Bad News." Already, at the ripe old ring age of 34, "K. O." has happened to 37 of his opponents in two years of amateur and professional boxing. Now he is ready to upset the biggest applecart of them all.

Wrecked Hansen's Hopes.

Two months ago, Knute Hansen, the melancholy Dane, who had all the physical attributes of a heavyweight champion, started west in his campaign for the title Gene Tunney left vacant. The first stop-over was in Cleveland and a bout with an unknown from the steaming rubber pits of an Akron tire factory. The unknown, growing slightly bald on the top of the head, tagged Knute lustily on the chin in the eighth round.

The right-hand punch that finished Hansen was one of the most important of the season. It snuffed out Knute's title campaign, drove Billy Gibson, pilot of Tunney and then Hansen, into permanent retirement, and shoved Christner into the spotlight. Furthermore that punch has garden officials talking in scared whispers about plans for the Sharkey-Stribling match in Miami Beach. To them Christner is as ominous as rain clouds on the night of an outdoor fight.

Breaks Man's Jaw.

Christner is one of the strangest of ring phenomona since Ruby Bob Fitzsimmons, with his bald head, middleweight's legs and heavyweight's shoulders, crashed into fistic fame. Christner saw only two rounds of boxing before entering the ring at 32, never had a glove on in four years in the army, and was "kidded" into entering the amateurs.

It seems that a fellow-worker, toiling with Christner in the 125 degree temperature of the rubber pits, tossed the remains of a glass of ice water down K. O.'s neck. It was all in fun, when Christner playfully slapped the big fellow in a shower at the end of the day's work, but not for long. Christner landed one right and lost his job when the hospital report the next day showed that his opponent's jaw was broken in three places.

Christner got his job back, but the men in the shop dubbed him "K. O." Promoters of amateur fights heard about that punch. In a few months he spent a winter evening winning the amateur heavyweight championship of Ohio after working all day and riding 50 miles to the tournament in an open car. He fought his first professional fight New Year's day, 1928.

Caught Ruth's Slants.

Aside from boxing, Christner has done about everything else in athletics. He caught Babe Ruth, when the Bambino was the star left handed pitcher of the St. Mary's industrial school baseball team in Baltimore. Joe Dundee, now the welterweight champion, was there at the same time.

Christner went to Akron later and for years played semi-pro baseball as well as professional football.

Christner has been married almost 11 years and has a son nine years old and a daughter six. He expects to knock out Sharkey as easily as he did Hansen.

"My trainer, Tiny Herman," he says, "has been everywhere in the world but Miami Beach.

"I plan to take him down there when I fight Stribling in Sharkey's place."

MILLER STILL IS UNDECIDED ABOUT CHANGE

Columbus, Ohio, January 23.—(AP)—In none too optimistic mood, L. W. St. John, athletic director of Ohio State university, returned tonight from a conference in Cleveland with Don Miller, sought as assistant to Coach Sam Willaman at Ohio State.

"Frankly I don't know what Miller plans to do," he said. "He seems especially interested in Georgia Tech's effort to retain him as backfield coach. He has promised to call me about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, before announcing his decision whatever it may be."

Two postponements have resulted in a week's delay in completion of the negotiations to bring Miller here as assistant to Willaman.

The idea of importing a member of Notre Dame's once famous "Four Horsemen," is popular in Columbus, but hope is rapidly vanishing that Miller eventually will decide to come.

Western Heights 'V' Plays Tonight

Tonight's round of play in the Dixie basketball league of the Y. C. A. A. will find two strong teams facing each other when the lads of the Western Heights Baptist lock horns with the fast Black and Gold five. This game which promises to be the feature game of the night on the Y. C. A. A. card will get under way at 6:40 o'clock.

The Heights lads have not lost a game and are leading the league by a good margin and will be fighting to win this contest to keep their perfect record for the season. However, in the game tonight the lads from the west side have no set-up by any means, for with such players as Johnny Phillips and the Smith brothers, the Heights five will be up against a hard combination.

There will be three other hard games on schedule for the night's play and those that journey down to the Y. M. C. A. should witness plenty of action.

"Matinee Basketball" To Be Given a Trial

Chicago, January 23.—(AP)—"Matinee basketball" will be given a trial at Columbus Saturday when Chicago plays Ohio State.

If afternoon games prove popular, other schools may follow the Ohio example, western conference officials said.

'Gabby' Harnett To Marry Soon

Chicago, January 23.—(AP)—Charles "Gabby" Hartnett, catcher for the Chicago Cubs, and Miss Martha Marshall, of Chicago, are to be married January 28.

Hartnett and his bride will spend their honeymoon on Catalina island. They will leave for the spring training camp of the Cubs with the first squad February 14.

Southern To Draw Up Two Schedules

Memphis, Tenn., January 23.—(AP)—The Evening Appeal says today that the Southern association will draw up two schedules for the coming baseball season, one to be used in the event Little Rock gets Sunday baseball. The club owners meet in Birmingham next Tuesday for the annual spring meeting.

Fight Looming in House Over Prohibition Fund; Georgians Plan Support

Delegation Holds Caucus and Decides To Fight for Measure; Republican Leaders Oppose Plan.

Washington, January 23.—(AP)—While the senate struggled today with other provisions of the deficiency appropriation bill, house members voiced varying opinions on the $24,000,000 added to the measure for use by the president in prohibition enforcement.

Although the republican leader, Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, declined to make any comment other than that he "supposed the house would vote on it," others were more outspoken. Representative Wood, of Indiana, and Cramton, of Michigan, both republican members of the appropriations committee, flatly opposed it. Wood will be in charge of the bill when it is returned to the house.

Approval Expressed.

Among the house democrats, Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, the minority leader, as well as others, expressed approval of the increase on the ground that if the money were available for enforcement, the department could not complain that it could not enforce the law because of lack of funds.

The deficiency bill was drafted by the house appropriations committee and as reported by that body and subsequently approved by the house, carried no funds for prohibition. The allotment for dry law enforcement is carried annually in the treasury-post-office supply bill and that measure, already enacted into law, provided $13,500,000 for the prohibition unit for the next fiscal year.

Today, Representative Byrns, of Tennessee, ranking democrat on the appropriations committee, disagreed with the views of Wood and Cramton. The Tennessean said testimony before the committee had been that there was a lack of money to enforce prohibition and he felt the $24,000,000 item should be approved by the house.

Conference May Occur.

If the house should refuse to approve the expenditure or should recommend a smaller amount, Wood, Cramton and Byrns probably would be the members of the house committee to confer with the senate in an attempt to compose differences.

Cramton said today he felt the appropriation should be made only after the treasury department had mapped out a program for its expenditure, and called attention to Secretary Mellon's view that the $13,500,000 already provided was all the department could put to beneficial use at this time.

"Mr. Hoover will have to spend most of this money, anyway," Cramton said, "and it seems to me that we should wait a while and see what he thinks about it."

At the same time, Representative Laguardia, republican, New York, a wet, declared in the house that the amendment was "the first step toward an annual expenditure of about $250,000,000 and an expenditure of over $1,000,000,000 before the American people will be convinced that the prohibition law cannot be enforced."

"In the meantime," he said, "friends of prohibition cannot escape the responsibility of accepting appropriations and making an honest attempt to enforce the law."

LaGuardia declared that Secretary Mellon "either seeks to avoid responsibility or else had not the courage to frankly state to the American people his conclusions after 10 years of prohibition."

No Real Dry Differences.

While these views were expressed in the house, the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist church issued a statement declaring there was only an apparent and no real difference of opinion among prohibition advocates regarding the proposal. Recently the board had said that while it was urgently in favor of enforcing the law, it appeared that all of the money could not be wisely used at the present time.

The opinion and policy of all temperance organizations at this time, it was said today, was to "put entire confidence in Mr. Hoover, a prohibitionist elected by the prohibitionists of the country." It also suggested that a provision for specific purposes was desirable but voiced the belief that such requirements would hardly aggregate the total provided until based upon a thorough understanding of the aims of the various agencies being used by the government in enforcement.

Harris Proposal.

During the day Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, author of the amendment, in an attempt to overcome opposition raised to the proposal on the ground it would not aid in relieving the congestion of prohibition cases in the federal courts, introduced a bill to give the federal courts authority to permit United States commissioners to try first offenders of the prohibition laws when the offenders desire a more speedy trial.

The measure, which Senator Harris announced had been suggested by Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of Atlanta, would give the commissioner the trial powers of a judge except when an offender demanded a jury trial. The commissioner could try only first offenders and his judgment would be subject to trial in the federal court in the regular manner, if the prosecutor or defendant demanded an appeal.

GEORGIANS TO FIGHT FOR PROHI MEASURE.

Washington, January 23.—(Special.)—Members of the Georgia delegation in the lower house of congress today agreed to give unanimous support to the deficiency bill amendment by Senator W. J. Harris, of Georgia, providing an additional prohibition enforcement fund of $24,250,000, and work for its final approval when the bill reached there.

Agreement to support the increased enforcement fund was reached during an informal series of conferences on the floor.

When the deficiency bill is referred back to the house for final approval spirited opposition is expected to be raised to the Harris amendment. Representative Louis C. Cramton, dry republican leader of Michigan, has already announced that he will fight to have it stricken out. As the second ranking republican member of the appropriations committee he undoubtedly will be named one of the conferees to work out differences in the measure as passed by the two houses.

36 Business Girls Enter Mary Pickford Contest

:: NEXT SIX DAYS WILL DECIDE TRIP WINNER ::

Thirty-six young Atlanta business women had qualified by noon Wednesday for The Constitution's Mary Pickford "Coquette" contest, and from now until January 29 there will be a merry race to see which of the group wins this paper's offer of a free trip to Hollywood to be the guest of Miss Pickford.

The winner will be named on February 3 and will leave Atlanta on February 8 for a week's visit to the film capitol of the land, where she will be honor guest in a whirl of entertainment arranged for her and will meet the celebrities of the silver screen in their homes and at their work.

Miss Pickford will greet the Atlanta "best girl" during her work with Johnny Mack Brown in filming the Broadway success "Coquette," her new all-talking picture. In addition, Atlanta's "best girl" will be a guest at Pickfair, Miss Pickford's palatial Hollywood home.

Subscriptions Alone Count.

The winner will be adjudged solely on the basis of how many new six months subscriptions to The Constitution she secures between now and January 29, when the contest will officially close. This is the only requisite involved in the competition, the girl with the greatest number of such subscriptions to her credit to be named the winner.

Each of the the contestants is notified by officials in charge of the contest that she has only six days in which to win her trip, and those who work hardest at securing new subscriptions to "the South's Standard Newspaper" will lead the list. Therefore, an intelligent and intensive campaign for new subscriptions is strongly advised.

The names of those who have qualified for the contest are as follows:

Rules of Contest.

The following rules and regulations will govern the competition to select the business girl for a trip to Hollywood as the guest of Mary Pickford:

(1) Candidates must be residents of Atlanta or its immediate suburbs, the latter including such suburbs as College Park, East Point, Hapeville, Decatur, Buckhead and intervening points, etc.

(2) Candidates must be 18 to 25 years old.

(3) Candidates must be regularly employed in some gainful occupation and should be able to furnish recommendations of ability and proficiency from their employers.

(4) The winning candidate is to be determined by the highest vote recorded, the count of which is to be made by an impartial committee and their count is to be final and conclusive. A complete and accurate list of subscriptions will be kept of each candidate. After the result has been published any contestant desiring to investigate the records may have this privilege, thus guaranteeing fair and impartial consideration to all candidates.

(5) Votes will be based on new subscriptions to The Daily and Sunday Constitution. The subscriber is to agree to take The Constitution for six months in order to secure the following votes for candidates:

(A) For one new six-month subscription (not paid in advance) 2,000 votes.

(B) For one new six-month subscription (paying $3 in advance) 2,000 votes.

(C) For one new yearly subscription (paying $9.50 in advance) 4,000 votes.

(D) Contract subscriptions will not be accepted for a longer period than six months.

(6) With each nomination on the regular entry blank the candidate will be credited with 5,000 votes.

(7) No votes will be received and credited to candidates after noon January 29, 1929—at which time the committee of judges will begin counting the votes of all candidates. Announcement of winner will be made on February 2.

(8) No employee of The Atlanta Constitution nor member of his or her family will be eligible for the competition.

(9) All subscriptions submitted in the competition are subject to verification and acceptance of The Atlanta Constitution. All subscriptions must be new, meaning those not now receiving The Constitution through regular carrier or dealer, and who have not been a regular subscriber in the past thirty (30) days, and which does not replace any other subscription. Any fictitious subscriptions turned in by any candidate eliminates that candidate from further participation in the contest. The decision by The Constitution as to whether a subscription is new is final and those entering the contest agree to this.

(10) All contestants in this contest who turn in to The Atlanta Constitution ten or more acceptable subscriptions in accordance with the rules printed above, and fail to win the trip, will be paid 25 cents for each subscription accepted. This rule applies to ten or more and not less. This assures any active contestant that her work or that of her friends will not be wholly in vain.

The contest subscription blank follows:

DO NOT SIGN THIS CONTRACT IF YOU ARE ALREADY A SUBSCRIBER, FOR IT WILL ONLY DISAPPOINT THE CONTESTANT PRESENTING IT. REMEMBER IN SIGNING THIS CONTRACT YOU POSITIVELY AND LEGALLY BIND YOURSELF TO TAKE AND PAY FOR, AND NOT TO DISCONTINUE, THE CONSTITUTION FOR SIX MONTHS OR MORE.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR KING'S SEA VISIT

London, January 23.—(AP)—Preparations were going forward today for the removal of King George to Bognor, in Sussex, as soon as his doctors decide that the time is opportune.

The king will travel the 65 miles to the coast resort in a large car fitted so that he can lie as comfortably as in his bed at Buckingham palace.

At Craigwell house, a mansion belonging to Sir Arthur du Cross, in Bognor, preparations for the king's arrival have been in progress for some days. Residents of the region who wondered what was happening were told that a "very rich man who has been ill is coming to stay." Nobody apparently suspected that this was the king.

Craigwell house is a large, comparatively modern white stone building, handsome but not on palatial lines. Since Sir Arthur bought it fifteen years ago he is reputed to have spent 100,000 pounds sterling improving the property and equipping it with the latest luxuries.

The work being done for the king's arrival includes connecting Craigwell with Buckingham palace by telephone, arranging for a large staff of royal servants and transferring a quantity of linen, tableware and other domestic equipment.

It is believed that the king's special room will be in one of the wings from which he will get a view of the sea through the pine trees which are a feature of the secluded grounds of 22 acres.

ANGLES FLOGGING CASE ENTERS SECOND DAY

Milledgeville, Ga., January 23.—(AP)—The state rested late this afternoon in the case of J. W. Hubbard, prominent Baldwin county farmer, charged with flogging Jim Angles last May, and the defense began to introduce its witnesses to tear down Angles' accusation.

The case, called this morning in the Baldwin superior court, extended through the entire day and indications pointed to the consumption of the greater part of tomorrow, as the defense has barely gone into the testimony. Hubbard, Levi Smith and Fountain Hardy were indicted by the Baldwin grand jury last July on charges of assault with intent to murder Angles after warrants had been sworn out by Angles for the arrest of the three men charging them with taking him from his home and brutally beating him with a tack studded leather thong. I. L. Barron was indicted at this term.

The entire morning was consumed in selecting the jury.

Angles was the chief witness for the state, testifying that the four men came to his home late in the night, carried him into the woods and beat him into unconsciousness, he said. He was left to die, but was found by nearby negroes and medical aid summoned in time to save his life. Mrs. Angles and her husband both positively identified the four men in their testimony.

The defense sent Barron to the stand to establish an alibi for him and later sent Smith. Hubbard had not taken the stand when the court adjourned tonight.

HOUSE IN 2 STATES, SHERIFFS COMBINE TO GET OFFENDER

Kenosha, Wis., January 23.—(AP)—The Illinois-Wisconsin state line runs right through the middle of Charles Crittenden's roadhouse. Sheriff Steve Robinson, of Kenosha, informed that a slot machine was being operated at the roadhouse contrary to the law and the statutes, went there to do his duty. Crittenden saw him coming and moved the slot machine over to the Illinois side of the house.

Sheriff Lawrence Doolittle, of Waukegan, Ill., learning of it, went forth to the roadhouse, bent upon enforcing the laws of Illinois. Crittenden saw him coming, too, and moved the slot machine back into Wisconsin.

JURY TO DECIDE FATE OF CAROLINA SENATOR TODAY

Charleston, S. C., January 23.—(AP)—Taking of testimony in the trial of Senator E. J. Dennis, of Berkeley, accused with six co-defendants of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law, came to a sudden conclusion here this afternoon.

The government, beginning today with Deputy Sheriff A. L. Woodward, of Berkeley, on the stand for cross-examination, concluded its case at 3 o'clock. The defense rested at 5 o'clock.

The case will be resumed tomorrow morning and after attorneys arguments and the judge's charge will go to the jury.

Senator Dennis, taking the stand in his own defense this afternoon, denied the story told by Deputy Sheriff Woodward of the sale to F. Jervey Villeponteaux of a hundred gallons of seized liquors and explained that he had recommended the appointment of Rourk, Myers and Raybourn Anderson as state constables because he believed that they would enforce the law conscientiously.

He had, he said, defended persons arrested on charge of violation of the prohibition law, but only in his routine practice of the law.

HONDURAS HEAD TO TOUR EUROPE WHEN TERM ENDS

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, January 23.—(AP)—When President Miguel Pas Baraona retires from office on February 1 he intends to depart for a tour of Europe, it was learned today. The government has prepared a new postage stamp to commemorate the incoming administration. It will be issued February 1 and will bear a portrait of Vincente Mejia Colindres, the new chief executive.

Very Painful Rash on Back and Shoulders. Healed by Cuticura.

"My husband had a rash break out on his back and shoulders, and the itching and burning were very annoying. It burned so badly that he used to rub and scratch until his back was one large, sore eruption of a wet nature. It was very painful when his clothing came in touch with the eruptions.

"I advised Cuticura Soap and Ointment so he purchased some, and after using about two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap he was healed." (Signed) Mrs. A. E. Thomas, Ellerslie, Md.

The thrill of the flavor of "Canada Dry" is like the taste of a rare old wine

JUST as the wines of France have their separate elusive and compelling perfumes . . . red . . . rich . . . dainty . . . or capricious, so is there a thrill, a subtlety, a finer, newer sensation to drinking this fine old ginger ale.

This mellow beverage awakens an Indian summer of delight. Its coolness is like a glimpse of pine trees through the snow. Its dryness is as refreshing as a mountain breeze. Its quality makes itself felt quietly, like the aristocrat it is.

Like the making of good wine, "Canada Dry" is made with care. Blended in exact proportions, this fine old ginger ale is carbonated by a secret process to give it zest and sparkle. The highest quality of Jamaica ginger enhances its flavor and makes it a real ginger ale. Give yourself the enjoyment of this better, finer, purer beverage. Order it today.

Miss Padgett Weds J. R. Cagle At Beautiful Home Ceremony

Dignity and simplicity characterized the wedding of Miss May Padgett to James Reid Cagle, which was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Robert Padgett, on North Highland avenue. A representative gathering of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. L. W. Collins, pastor of the Wesley Memorial Methodist church.

Roses and sweet peas in the shades of pink and white formed the decorative motif for the lovely home, which was thrown en suite for the occasion. The improvised altar of palms and luxuriant ferns was placed at the end of the living room before the mantel, which was banked with an artistic arrangement of roses and sweet peas. Large cathedral candelabra on each side of the altar held slender burning tapers which illumined the lovely scene. The white satin pre-dieu was tied with streamers of satin ribbon. Vases of pink roses and sweet peas were arranged throughout the home. Preceding the ceremony an appropriate program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. John Felder, pianist, and Miss Lillian Smith, contralto, who sang "Beloved It Is Morn" and "At Dawning." MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose" was softly sung during the ceremony. The wedding chorus from "Lohengrin" was used as the processional.

The Bridal Party.

Mrs. Benjamin Robert Padgett, mother of the bride, who acted as matron of honor, descended the stairs alone wearing a lovely sleeveless model of rose colored georgette crepe, fashioned with straight waist and modish skirt effectively draped at the side. She carried a magnificent bouquet of Ophelia roses and lavender sweet peas tied with streamers of nile green tulle.

Miss Etta Taylor, who acted as maid of honor, descended the steps next alone and was met at the foot by the groomsman, Ben R. Padgett, Jr., brother of the bride. She was lovely in a sleeveless model of nile green chiffon taffeta fashioned bouffant with tight waist and graceful scalloped skirt graduated to ankle length in the back, and offset at the right side with handsome chou of pink satin ribbon. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and lavender sweet peas tied with streamers of nile green tulle.

The Lovely Bride.

The lovely bride, whose brunette beauty was enhanced by her wedding robes of ivory satin, descended alone to the foot of the stairs, where she was met by her father, Benjamin Robert Padgett, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Kendrick Kelly. The gown was modeled with tight waist and full scalloped skirt, gracefully graduated to ankle length in the back. A feature of the gown was the lovely hand-made real lace bertha which formed a fichu effect in the front. The bertha has been worn by several brides in the family thus introducing a note of sentiment to the occasion. The long tight sleeves fell in graceful points over the hand of the bride. The silk tulle veil, which formed the train, was caught to the auburn hair of the bride in coronet effect at the back of the head. A bandeau of pearls extending across the front was caught to the veil at the side of the head beneath clusters of orange blossoms. Her slippers were of white satin. She carried a magnificent bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley tied with streamers of white satin ribbon.

The Reception.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table, which was overlaid with an Italian cut-work cover over pink satin, was ornamented with a graduated bride's cake embedded in a mound of pink roses and lavender sweet peas, surrounded at artistic intervals with silver candlesticks holding pink unshaded tapers which cast a soft glow over the scene.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Padgett in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Cagle, parents of the groom; Mrs. A. B. Andrews, and Mrs. B. R. Padgett, Sr., grandmothers of the bride, and Mesdames Hardy Padgett, A. F. Hammond, W. H. Lemmond, C. V. Weathers, H. M. Beutell and Russell Beutell, aunts of the bride.

Those who assisted in entertaining included Misses Ann Oakes, Leila Collings, Evie May Cagle, sister of the groom, and Mrs. R. C. Mathews, Jr. Miss Nell Lemmond and Miss Caroline Hammond kept the bride's book.

Handsome Costumes.

Mrs. B. R. Padgett, mother of the bride, wore a lovely model of rose-colored georgette crepe, fashioned with straight waist and effectively draped skirt. Her corsage was of Ophelia roses and lavender sweet peas. Mrs. Cagle was gowned in a stylish model of blue georgette featuring an overskirt of the same material elaborately embroidered. She wore a corsage of pink roses and lavender sweet peas.

Mrs. A. B. Andrews was gowned in gray satin fashioned along straight lines. She wore a corsage of palma violets. Mrs. B. R. Padgett wore gray georgette, introducing drapery in the side of the skirt. Her corsage was of orchids and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Hardy Padgett was lovely in blue georgette fashioned along graceful straight lines. She wore a corsage of pink roses and lavender sweet peas. Mrs. A. F. Hammond wore a sleeveless model of vari-colored chiffon with a corsage of sweetheart roses and sweet peas. Mrs. W. H. Lemmond was lovely in black satin offset with a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Weathers was gowned in a sleeveless model of tan lace and georgette. Her corsage was of sweet peas. Mrs. H. M. Beutell wore a straight line model of black velvet offset with a corsage of palma violets. Mrs. Russell Beutell was gowned in a straight line model of black lace offset with a corsage of pink roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley.

The Bridal Trip.

Following the ceremony the young couple left for a wedding trip, after which they will make their home on Ridgewood drive, Druid Hills. The bride's traveling costume was a spring ensemble of tan Kasha cloth, featuring a modish blouse of a lighter shade of tan. The coat was offset with a brown fox collar. She wore a close-fitting hat of brown felt with accessories of matching shade.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Reid and Miss Eula Reid, of Villa Rica, and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Fitzpatrick, of Madison.

It is easy now

Losing 20 pounds, to many people, means to gain 10 years. Not only in youth and beauty, but in health and vigor. Excess fat is one of the greatest blights which come to men and women.

Modern medical research has found a major cause. It lies in a deficient gland, which largely controls nutrition. Its weakness permits food to go into fat, rather than into fuel and energy.

Physicians the world over, in treating obesity, now try to correct that condition. As a result, excess fat has disappeared by the millions of pounds in late years. Normal figures are the rule. You can see that in every circle.

The factors are embodied at their best in Marmola prescription tablets. They were perfected by a famous medical laboratory to correct a great cause of fat. People have used them for 21 years—millions of boxes of them. Year by year the use has spread as the results became conspicuous. Now the use is enormous. It has doubled in the past year alone. In every circle one can see that excess fat is nowhere near as common as it was. People are fighting the cause.

Let Marmola bring like results to you. Not only reduction where excess fat appears, but gain in health and vigor. Let it prove to you the delightful results it has brought to countless people.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the reasons for results. You will know exactly why it brings you what everybody wants. Try a box and watch the action. Do it now.

Appearing in the first and last acts these aspirants to theatrical fame will serve as hosts and guests to a party, having minor speaking parts which will enable them to demonstrate their ability as fit co-actors with this popular company of players. Next week's performance will make the first in which local talent has taken part, although in other cities the Wagner Players have added to their ranks frequently from the talented young amateur actors and actresses. In Rochester, N. Y., the Junior league composed a cabaret scene in one of the company's plays.

MITCHELL ESTATE PLEA FOR STORE RENTALS DENIED

The supreme court Wednesday affirmed a decision of the Fulton superior court, denying a petition to recover $88,000 with interest since 1917, brought by the Samuel Mitchell estate against the Western and Atlantic railroad, lessses of the state owned railroad property.

The sum was claimed as rentals on the property at 1-2 Whitehall street, Atlanta, formerly used as a railroad ticket office but of recent years rented for store purposes. It is at present occupied as a retail jewelry establishment.

The plaintiffs contended that the property, part of that deeded to the state on July 11, 1842, by Samuel Mitchell, was given for use for railroad purposes only and that the railroad had no right, under the deed to lease it to outsiders for profit.

The property deeded to the state in 1842 included that on which the Union depot now stands.

The supreme court in its decision Wednesday held that the deed was in fee simple and bore no restrictions as to what use the state or the state's lessee should make of the property.

Now You Can Reduce 2 to 4 Lbs. in a Night

Eat what you please
Wear what you please
Do what you please
Take no risky medicine

Thousands of smart women have found this easy way to take off 2 to 4 pounds once or twice a week. These women take refreshing Fayro baths in the privacy of their own homes.

Fayro is the concentrate of the same natural mineral salts that make effective the waters of twenty-two hot springs of America, England and Continental Europe. For years the spas and hot springs bathing resorts have been the retreat of fair women and well-groomed men.

Excess weight has been removed, skins have been made more lovely, bodies more shapely and minds brighter.

The Hot Springs Are Now Brought to You

A study of the analyses of the active ingredients of the water from twenty-two of the most famous springs have taught us the secret of their effectiveness. You can now have all these benefits in your own bath. Merely put Fayro into your hot bath. It dissolves rapidly. You will notice and enjoy the pungent fragrance of its balsam oils and clean salts!

Then, Fayro, by opening your pores and stimulating perspiration forces lazy body cells to sweat out surplus fat and bodily poisons. Add Fayro to your bath at night and immediately you will lose from 2 to 4 pounds in an easy, refreshing and absolutely harmless manner.

Your physcian will tell you that Fayro is certain to do the work and that it is absolutely harmless.

Fayro will refresh you and help your body throw off worn-out fat and bodily poisons. Your skin will be clearer and smoother. You will sleep better after your Fayro bath and awaken feeling as though you had enjoyed a week's vacation.

The Baffle Stories

The La Joy River Homicide

NUMBER 20

Where Portos da Vega, the La Joya cowboy, met his death, the state police finally learned by very sensible methods of deduction. But they never caught the murderer because they did not determine quickly enough from which ranch his body had been thrown into the river. The slayer escaped and has never been heard of to this day. How would you have solved the problem which then confronted the state police?

Early on the morning of October 4, mill hands at the LaJoya mill saw a dark object washed over the low dam of the river and become lodged between two rocks only 50 yards from the east bank of the river. They investigated and found that it was the body of a man, and brought it ashore at 6:20 a. m. The actual time of the sighting of the body as it washed over the dam was established at 6:13.

It proved to be the strangled body of Portos da Vega, a daring horseman and crack shot who had previously worked at various times for many of the ranchers whose ranches abutted on the river. Since all the ranches were on the east side of the river, and since the body came down so close to the east bank, it seemed clear that the victim had been thrown into the water from one of the ranches. It was also clear that the man had been strangled by a piece of rope before having entered the water. The coroner found no water in the lungs; he body had been floating.

The coroner pronounced that the ody had been in the water "not less han 40 minutes and not more than our hours," and that death had occurred before immersion. A search of the dead man's pockets yielded two illuminating clues; his watch and a scrap of paper. The watch was a cheap one of standard make. Its water-soaked hands pointed to 5:25, and it proved to be nearly wound up—lacking only three turns from being fully wound. From tests made on the spot with other watches of the same brand and type it was determined that Da Vega's watch must have stopped within two or to four minutes after immersion.

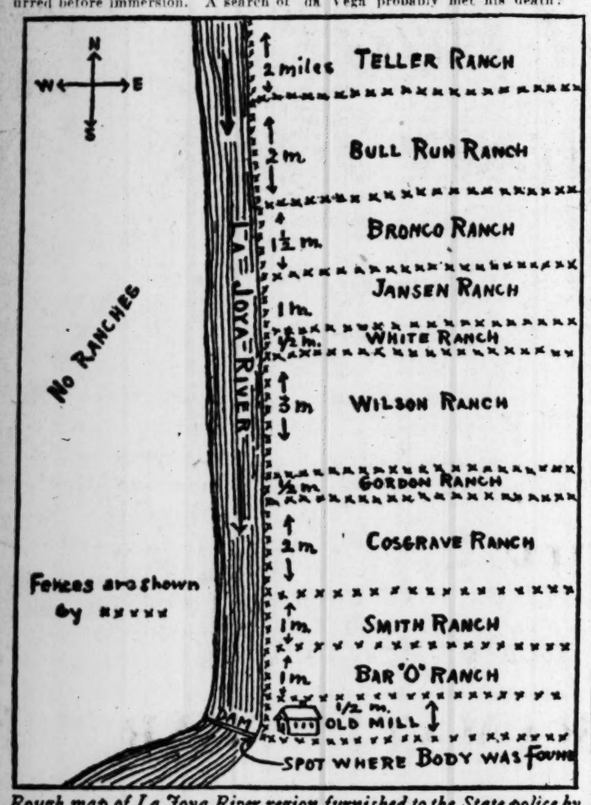

In the dead man's breeches pocket was found a small ball of paper, a fragment of a note handwritten in capital letters with a blue crayon pencil. Though soaked and smeared it was recognizable. The fragment said:

Ranch, northwest corner by river f ce, at 5:15 tomorrow morning if you want the straight dope on La Mollura. A Friend.

Now, it was well known that by "La Mollura" the unknown writer of the message had meant Molly Sanders, a girl of easy virtue who was a sort of "college widow" with the ranchers of the La Hoya region. Intrigues and quarrels over her were frequent, but this looked like murder, for Da Vega was a chivalrous though distant admirer of Molly and had been known to resent the general slurs cast upon her by various men.

Accordingly the state police obtained from the county engineer a rough map of the region, and the speed of the river current on the east side. This was found to be six miles an hour. The engineer said that the river was without snags or impediments on the east bank for a distance of 11 miles.

Had you been a detective, on which ranch would you have said that Portas da Vega probably met his death?

The question to be answered is: To which ranch would you have directed the search for further details?

Note: The solution to the above problem is printed herewith upside down, so that the reader will be enabled to follow his own ideas and make his own deductions, before referring to the published answer.

SOLUTION TO NO. 20.

The La Joya River Homicide.

Since the victim had been strangled before immersion, his body may have assumed to have floated and drifted with the current on the east side of the river, which ran at a speed of six miles per hour. Since the hands of the watch, when examined, pointed to 5:25 (and it had been recently wound up and therefore had been running) and since the immersion tests with similar watches indicated that the water caused it to stop within two to four minutes, the time of the body striking the water may be assumed to be about 5:21 or 5:23.

The body was sighted going over the mill dam at 6:13. It had, therefore, been floating down for 50 or 52 minutes at the rate of six miles per hour. It would, therefore, have traveled approximately five miles or a little more. The river, being free from impedimenta, can be assumed to have brought the body down from a distance of five miles. Measuring back on the map it is apparent that the Gordon ranch's northwest corner is just five miles from the dam. Had it come from the Wilson or Cosgrove ranches, the body would have arrived at the dam much later or sooner.

The murderer was never caught. The police, unfortunately, became confused and tried the Smith ranch, which proved a dud. Later, on the Gordon ranch they found a footprint record of a scuffle but were unable to fasten the crime on anyone in the vicinity. Molly was held guiltless.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

FARMER BROWN'S BOY FINDS SOME PELLETS.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Oh, you who would the truth divine
Give heed to every little sign.
—Old Mother Nature.

Farmer Browns' Boy had noticed that there did not seem to be as many rats and mice as there had been in the big barn. "Black Pussy," said Farmer Brown's Boy, "must have been busy out here. That is queer, too, for I've missed her of late. She doesn't seem to spend half the time hunting here that she did. Anyway, it is a good thing to get rid of those rats and mice." Just then Black Pussy came along and Farmer Brown's Boy stopped to pat her and talk to her. "You are a good cat," said he. "You certainly have cleaned out the mice here."

Black Pussy arched her back and rubbed against Farmer Brown's Boy's legs and purred, just as if she understood what he had been saying. If she had understood it, she probably would have had a laugh all to herself. For the truth was, Black Pussy was not catching any mice or rats in Farmer Brown's barn. It was only now and then that she ever caught sight of one.

Farmer Brown's Boy picked up the broom and began to sweep up the barn floor. Presently he paused and bent over to examine something on the floor. Then he picked it up and broke it open. It was a little pellet of fur and bones. The fur was mouse fur and the bones were mouse bones. There was a funny look on the face of Farmer Brown's Boy as he realized what he held in his hand. He looked up to the roof of the barn. Then he began to look on the floor gain. He discovered some more pellets—quite a number of them. He whistled softly. "Now, what do you know about this!" he exclaimed. "There is an owl in this barn, or at least there has been. I've seen these things too often not to know what they are. When an owl catches a mouse he cannot digest the bones and the fur. So, when everything else is digested, the fur and the bones are rolled up into little balls and he drops them out of his mouth. I have seen them many times under the tree where Spooky the Owl lives. Black Pussy, I guess I've been giving you credit that you didn't deserve. I thought it queer that the rats and the mice disappeared so suddenly. I shall have to look into this. I wonder if by any chance it can be that Spooky has moved over here to the barn."

So Farmer Brown's Boy, after he has finished his chores, tramped over through the Old Orchard to the tree where he knew the Spooky the Screech Owl had been living. He looked all around on the snow, but not a single little pellet did he find. Then he put his hand in the hollow in the tree where Spooky made his home. Of course, there was no Spooky there. Snow had blown into that hollow and it had not been disturbed. That meant that no one had been living there since the storm.

"It must be," said Farmer Brown's Boy, as he trampED back to the barn, "it must be that Spooky is there right now. I wonder how he got in." Then he happened to glance up and noticed the holes high up in the peak that had been made for pigeons one time. Instantly he guessed that that was the way Spooky had entered.

"The little rascal!" said he. "He certainly knows when he is well off. He must have come in here looking for mice and then decided that he couldn't do better than to stay. I wonder where he is."

Farmer Brown's Boy climbed up in the haymow. He looked along all the rafters and beams. Finally, away over toward the end of a long rafter he saw a little brown bunch. It was Spooky. Farmer Brown's Boy grinned. "I'm glad I know you're here," he. "It means hard times for the rats and the mice, so I hope you'll stay."

To all of which Spooky the Owl said nothing at all, for Spooky was fast asleep.

BANKHEAD HIGHWAY HEAD VISITS HERE

J. H. Rountree, director-general of the Bankhead Highway association, arrived in Atlanta late Wednesday following an extended tour along the highway east of Atlanta. He will leave today for Carrollton and Bowden and make an inspection of the highway through to the Alabama line.

Mr. Rountree brought reports of encouraging outlook all along the route of the highway from Washington to Atlanta. City, county and state officials have shown a splendid disposition to cooperate with the association in its efforts to have the long-desired road completed in the near future, Mr. Rountree said.

Mr. Rountree also indicated that he had gathered much valuable information which he will present before the military committee in congress when the bill asking that the highway be made a military road is presented there.

It is hoped by members of the association that inspection of the route may be virtually completed within the next few months so that reports in full may be presented at the special session of congress which, it is expected, Mr. Hoover will call.

The Bankhead Highway association will meet in conjunction with the United States Good Roads association in Memphis, Tenn., April 29 to May 3, Mr. Rountree said.

Stubborn Cough Quickly Ended by Famous Recipe

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up a stubborn, lingering cough. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs little, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that usually follow the "flu."

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe and heal the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of distressing coughs, chest colds, and bronchial troubles.

BAPTIST MISSION BOARD CLARIFIES BOTTOMS GIFTS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Southern Baptist Home Mission board today formally announced an arrangement of gifts by Mrs. George W. Bottoms toward completion of a school in Havana, Cuba, clarifying previous reports that the wealthy Texarkana woman planned a gift of $500,000.

It was pointed out in an official statement that Mrs. Bottoms expected to supplement present funds within a few years to add "a magnificent administration building" to the school. Just now, the announcement said, a $50,000 gift outright, and profits acruing since May 1, 1927, from a previous gift of $100,000 in lumber stock to the board will be used to erect two dormitories, one for boys and one for girls.

For several years, the announcement explained, it has been an open secret that Mr. Bottoms set aside $100,000 in lumber stock for the board, on condition that Mrs. Bottoms be permitted to stipulate where and how the money should be expended.

Before May 1, 1927, these profits amounted to $119,000. Since that time, the board has realized $38,000 on the stock, the announcement said. With the outright gift of $50,000 will be placed the $38,000 and the dormitories be started. The announcement added that it was agreed with Mrs. Bottoms, that as "soon as its financial condition would permit," the board would devote to the school the $119,000 "already used in the general work of the board."

"In two or three years," the statement concluded, "Mrs. Bottoms agrees to put up a magnificent administration building, and further, contingent upon her sources of income, to provide an endowment fund."

KENNESAW MOUNTAIN GROUP WINS SUIT

Rights of stockholders in the Kenesaw Mountain Battlefield association, a corporation chartered in the state of Delaware, and of the trustees for the association, are superior to those of a contractor's lien for labor and material used in construction of a road on the property of the association, the state supreme court held Wednesday in affirming a decision of Judge E. D. Thomas, of Fulton superior court.

R. L. Killian, a contractor, had sought to secure sale of the property of the association, which consisted of the acreage comprised in Kenesaw mountain and some adjacent territory, to satisfy a lien of $8,007, for a road partially constructed up the side of the mountain, and interest.

The suit to prevent the forced sale was brought by Harold Willingham and E. D. C. Hames, stockholders in the association, and it was argued that, while the property had a probable sale value of more than $200,000, particularly in view of the proposed Kenesaw National park movement which has been launched in congress, it might not bring more than $25,000 at forced sale now. It was argued that it was unfair to make the stockholders in the association suffer such a loss to satisfy a claim of only $8,000.

The Atlanta Trust company, as trustees for bondholders in the association, was also a party to the suit, which was won by the defendants. The association had been capitalized for $150,000, issued in $500 shares of stock. At present it is admittedly practically defunct, its only revenue being some tolls from the partially completed road Killian constructed, which had been projected from the Dixie highway to the summit of the historic mountain.

The court held that while Killian's claim was valid, it did not take precedence over the rights of the trustees or the stockholders.

ALLEGED PSUEDO FEDERAL OFFICER PUT UNDER BOND

Joseph E. Smith, a negro of 174 Raymons avenue, who was arrested Friday on a charge of impersonating a government officer, was placed under $2,000 bond by U. S. Commissioner Griffith Wednesday.

Smith was taken into custody by Postoffice Inspectors Fleming, Ellis and Akerman after he had tried to borrow $3.50 from Assistant Postmaster Martin, representing himself as being a postoffice inspector and saying that he desired the money in order to provide refreshments for a party which he said would result in the arrest of a number of mail thieves, it was testified.

The defendant stated that he did not remember having represented himself as an inspector and that if he had done so, it was purely by mistake.

Brookhart said he had been informed conditions in these states are similar to those found in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee and Mississippi. Six witnesses have been ordered to appear before the committee January 29.

LOUIS MARSHALL TO SPEAK SUNDAY TO ATLANTA JEWS

Louis Marshall, New York attorney and eminent publicist who took a leading role in the minority rights phase of the Versailles treaty, will make his first public appearance in Atlanta Sunday, it was disclosed in a telegraphic acceptance of an invitation to speak at the opening session of the B'nai B'rith, district No. 5, annual three-day convention received here Wednesday by Henry A. Alexander, member of the national executive committee of the fraternal order.

Efforts to bring Mr. Marshall to Atlanta on previous occasions were unsuccessful, Mr. Alexander stated. However, the prominent civic leader has been anxious to meet with the people of the south and expressed a desire to be able to speak to Atlantans in his telegram of acceptance, Mr. Alexander said.

Definite arrangements for the convention program, which will begin Sunday night, have not yet been completed, but the time and place of Mr. Marshall's address will be announced later, Mr. Alexander stated.

CEMENT RESEARCH GROUP CONCLUDES CONVENTION HERE

The final day's session Wednesday of the Portland Cement association, who have held a three-day regional conference at the Biltmore hotel, was featured by an address from A. J. R. Curtis, of Chicago, safety expert of the organization. He related the beneficent effects of the association's safety teachings in minimizing accidents in cement plants, stating that the number of such accidents in 1928 was 23 per cent less than in 1927. Despite the fact that the number of cement plants in the United States has increased 50 per cent in the last five years, according to Curtis, 1928 showed one-third the number of accidents as occurred in these plants in 1923.

The conference came to a close Wednesday night with a banquet to the visiting engineers at the Biltmore, with J. R. Fairman, of Atlanta, as toastmaster. Speakers at the banquet were Wm. Hudson, of Shreveport; W. E. Edgerton, of Raleigh; John Wilkerson, of Atlanta; Charles Postelle, of Birmingham, and J. J. Gaillard, of Macon.

The local members of the association were given a rising vote of thanks by the visiting delegates, who voted to return to Atlanta for their next year's meeting.

MOTOR FUND ACTION CALLED FRIENDLY SUIT

T. R. Gress, assistant attorney general for Georgia, on Wednesday drew attention to the fact that the suit filed by the state on Tuesday against the American Surety company, seeking return of more than $8,000 funds short in the accounts of the motor vehicle department two years ago, was merely a friendly action and in no way reflected against the insurance company.

The suit was filed against a bond of $10,000, issued by the American Surety company for the state against the late S. Guyt McLendon, secretary of state, during whose regime the shortage occurred. There was no intimation against Mr. McLendon, he merely being the bonded officer to whom the state looks to recover a shortage shown in the accounts of the department of which he was, ex-officio, the titular head as state motor vehicle commission.

In explaining the suit Wednesday Mr. Gress said:

"The American Surety company, in order to definitely fix the liability, requested us to institute action against it on Mr. McLendon's bond. Mr. McLendon had contended he was not liable for the shortage because he was bonded to discharge the duties of secretary of state and that no bond was required of him as motor vehicle commissioner. The state could not proceed against Mr. Cook, the cashier, who was also held blameless in the shortage, because he was not bonded to the state but rather to Mr. McLendon. The action in question is in the nature of a friendly contest to fix liability and the American Surety company is cooperating with us in getting the matter settled without delay.

"I think the foregoing should be made plain as a matter of justice to the surety company."

MAYOR WILL HOLD SMOKE ABATEMENT CONCLAVE TODAY

Abatement of Atlanta's smoke nuisance will be up for consideration of a special committee named last fall by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale when that body convenes at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in Mr. Ragsdale's suite at the city hall.

A proposed ordinance offered to council by Alderman W. Guy Dobbs, chairman of the bridge committee of city council, seeks to force railways operating in the fire limits to electrify their engines in that area. This will be one of the prime matters under discussion.

James R. Bachman is chairman of the board, which will study the problem. Other members are C. F. Deiter, chairman of the smoke abatement committee of the chamber of commerce; Frederick H. McDonald, representing the American Society of Civil Engineers; E. W. O'Brien, representing the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; H. L. Wills, representing the American Institute of Electrical Engineers; Councilman Ellis B. Barrett, of the fifth ward, and Councilman James L. Wells, of the eighth ward.

A. Anderson Dead.

Andrew Anderson, of Atlanta, a former warrant officer at Fort McPherson, died recently in Miami, Fla. The body is being returned to Atlanta and it is expected that interment will be in the national cemetery at Marietta. He is survived by his widow, who lives on Cascade avenue.

The Baffle Stories

NUMBER 20

Where Portos da Vega, the La Joya cowboy, met his death, the state police finally learned by very sensible methods of deduction. But they never caught the murderer because they did not determine quickly enough from which ranch his body had been thrown into the river. The slayer escaped and has never been heard of to this day. How would you have solved the problem which then confronted the state police?

Early on the morning of October 4, mill hands at the LaJoya mill saw a dark object washed over the low dam of the river and become lodged between two rocks only 50 yards from the east bank of the river. They investigated and found that it was the body of a man, and brought it ashore at 6:20 a. m. The actual time of the sighting of the body as it washed over the dam was established at 6:13.

It proved to be the strangled body of Portos da Vega, a daring horseman and crack shot who had previously worked at various times for many of the ranchers whose ranches abutted on the river. Since all the ranches were on the east side of the river, and since the body came down so close to the east bank, it seemed clear that the victim had been thrown into the water from one of the ranches. It was also clear that the man had been strangled by a piece of rope before having entered the water. The coroner found no water in the lungs; he body had been floating.

The coroner pronounced that the ody had been in the water "not less han 40 minutes and not more than our hours," and that death had occurred before immersion. A search of the dead man's pockets yielded two illuminating clues; his watch and a scrap of paper. The watch was a cheap one of standard make. Its water-soaked hands pointed to 5:25, and it proved to be nearly wound up—lacking only three turns from being fully wound. From tests made on the spot with other watches of the same brand and type it was determined that Da Vega's watch must have stopped within two or to four minutes after immersion.

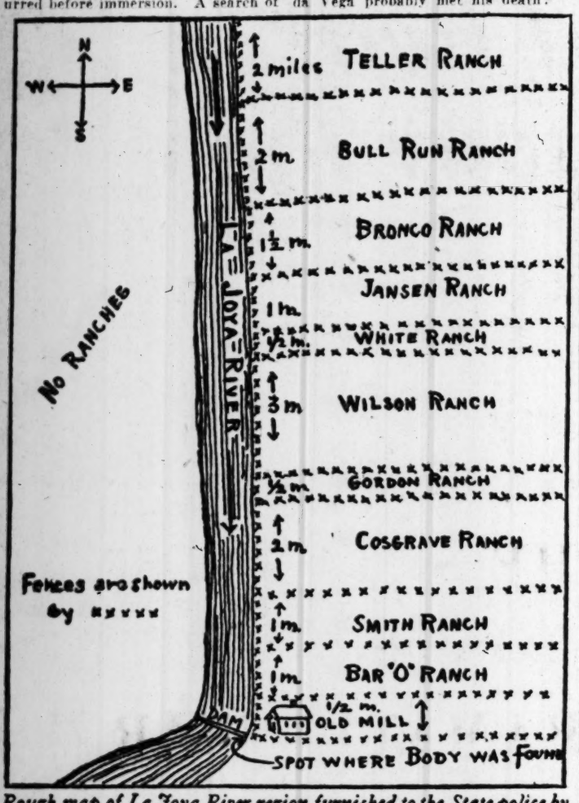

In the dead man's breeches pocket was found a small ball of paper, a fragment of a note handwritten in capital letters with a blue crayon pencil. Though soaked and smeared it was recognizable. The fragment said:

Ranch, northwest corner by river fence, at 5:15 tomorrow morning if you want the straight dope on La Mollura. A Friend.

Now, it was well known that by "La Mollura" the unknown writer of the message had meant Molly Sanders, a girl of easy virtue who was a sort of "college widow" with the ranchers of the La Hoya region. Intrigues and quarrels over her were frequent, but this looked like murder, for Da Vega was a chivalrous though distant admirer of Molly and had been known to resent the general slurs cast upon her by various men.

Accordingly the state police obtained from the county engineer a rough map of the region, and the speed of the river current on the east side. This was found to be six miles an hour. The engineer said that the river was without snags or impediments on the east bank for a distance of 11 miles.

Had you been a detective, on which ranch would you have said that Portas da Vega probably met his death?

The question to be answered is: To which ranch would you have directed the search for further details?

Note: The solution to the above problem is printed herewith upside down, so that the reader will be enabled to follow his own ideas and make his own deductions, before referring to the published answer.

SOLUTION TO NO. 20.
The La Joya River Homicide.

1. Search for further clues should have been directed to the Gordon ranch.

Since the victim had been strangled before immersion, his body may have assumed to have floated and drifted with the current on the east side of the river, which ran at a speed of six miles per hour. Since the hands of the watch, when examined, pointed to 5:25 (and it had been recently wound up and therefore had been running); similar watches indicated that the water caused it to stop within two to four minutes, the time of the body striking the water may be assumed to be about 5:21 or 5:23.

The body was sighted going over the mill dam at 6:13. It had, therefore, been floating down for 50 or 52 minutes at the rate of six miles per hour. It would, therefore, have traveled approximately five miles or a little more. The river, being free from impediments, can be assumed to have brought the body down from a distance of five miles. Measuring back on the map it is apparent that the Gordon ranch's northwest corner is just five miles from the dam. Had it come from the Wilson or Cosgrove ranches, the body would have arrived at the dam much later or soonr.

The murderer was never caught. The police, unfortunately, became confused and tried the Smith ranch, which proved a dud. Later, on the Gordon ranch they found a footprint record of a scuffle but were unable to fasten the crime on anyone in the vicinity. Molly was held guiltless.

Poems That Live

"THE NIGHT HAS A THOUSAND EYES"

THE night has a thousand eyes,
And the day but one;
Yet the light of the bright world dies
With the dying sun.

The mind has a thousand eyes,
And the heart but one;
Yet the light of a whole life dies

ROY DICKERSON SEIZED AFTER LONG PURSUIT

Deputy Warden on Way to Salt Lake City To Get Escaped Convict.

Montgomery, Ala., January 23.—(AP) Frank A. Boswell, deputy warden at Kilby prison here, and G. H. Bush, a state officer, tonight were en route to Salt Lake City, Utah, to return Roy Dickerson, bank robber, to the Alabama penitentiary. Dickerson was arrested there yesterday when federal authorities found him in possession of a stolen automobile.

The bank bandit's arrest ended another long chase for law enforcement officials, who repeatedly have had Dickerson within their grasp only to see him slip away. Search for the notorious criminal had been nation-wide since his daring break from Kilby prison with two confederates last October 2.

Governor Graves' office late this afternoon received word from Governor George H. Dern, of Utah, advising that Dickerson was held in the Salt Lake jail for violation of the Dyer act on charges brought by federal officers. He stated that the United States district attorney had consented to release Dickerson to Alabama officers and that bond had been placed at $25,000.

Reports to Hamp Draper, chief of state department of convicts, earlier in the day from Chief of Police J. E. Burbidge, of Salt Lake, said that Dickerson had been identified by finger prints. Descriptions of the Alabama escape were forwarded by air mail immediately. Another man said to have been arrested along with Dickerson had not been identified, Mr. Draper's message said.

A reward of $400 previously had been offered for Dickerson's capture. Dickerson's spectacular escape last October in company with Frank Cook and Ivanhoe Silva, reputed Birmingham bootlegger, was followed by a general shakeup in the official personnel of the prison.

Three accomplices of the convicts overpowered a guard on the prison wall then tossed an improvised ladder to the trio. After scaling the wall the prisoners entered a closed automobile and drove away.

State law enforcement officers believed that Dickerson returned to a familiar path along the Pacific coast after his escape, a path he followed prior to his capture in Tacoma, Wash., in January, 1927. His most daring robbery in Alabama occurred in 1922 when in company with confederates he staged a daylight holdup of the Phenix-Girard bank. After several escapes from arresting officers he was sentenced to 25 years for his part in the robbery. He escaped from Kilby November 14, 1922, and was at liberty until his capture in Tacoma.

SEEK TO PUT COAL BILL UP TO SPECIAL SESSION

United Mine Workers' Attitude Laid Before Senate Committee.

Washington, January 23.—(AP)—Consideration of the bill to regulate the bituminous coal industry in the forthcoming special session along with farm relief and the tariff was declared to be the desire of the United Mine Workers today by Henry Warrum, counsel for the organization, before the senate interstate commerce committee.

The attorney said every discussion of the textile industries and farm relief in the recent campaign included the bituminous situation, and he urged the committee to report the bill to the senate now even if it contains defects.

Warrum was told by Senator Hawes, democrat, Missouri, that all bills on the senate calendar this session automatically die on the March 4 adjournment, but Warrum contended that to report the bill now would attract attention to it and the need of its early consideration. The senator said the special session should be confined to farm relief and the tariff, and that he saw little chance of discussing such a controversial measure as the coal bill.

"I understand there will be an attempt to do so," Hawes replied.

FORRESTER RITES TO BE CONDUCTED THIS MORNING

Milledgeville, Ga., January 23.—(AP)—George Forrester, prominent Atlanta business man, died at 2:45 a. m. today from pneumonia. He had been ill several days and Monday was taken to the Milledgeville city hospital.

The funeral of George W. Forrester will be conducted in Spring Hill chapel at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The body was brought to Atlanta Wednesday from Milledgeville and taken to the H. M. Patterson & Son chapel.

The services will be conducted by the Rev. E. M. Poteat, supply pastor of the Second Baptist church. They will be private.

Mr. Forrester rose from a railway telegraph operator to solicitor and rate expert for the N., C. & St. L. railroad. He next became identified with the American Manufacturers association, the Cotton Manufacturers association of North Carolina and the Cotton Manufacturers association of South Carolina, as manager of the traffic department. In this executive position, he represented 350 cotton mills and was credited with being one of the country's outstanding traffic experts.

HOPE ABANDONED FOR FOUR HUNTERS LOST FIVE DAYS

Wilmington, N. C., January 23.—(United News.)—Every possible means of rescue having failed after a search of five days, hope today was virtually abandoned for the safe return of four young hunters who disappeared into the marshes of the Cape Fear river Friday.

Elliott, Racdolph and Jesse Huggins and their New York friend, Fred Englert, are believed drowned. Their boat, from which they hunted ducks, was found capsized.

Yesterday 100 pounds of dynamite was exploded near the spot where the boat was found in an effort to bring the bodies to the surface.

Erlanger.

But three days remain of the engagement of the Charles L. Wagner company at the Erlanger theater in that screamingly funny comedy, "The Torch Bearers," which is the talk of the town. Charming Leneta Lane, dashing Kenneth Thomson and the other members of Mr. Wagner's sterling company have firmly established themselves as prime favorites in Atlanta. Don't fail to see "The Torch Bearers."

Keith's Georgia.

The vaudeville portion of the program at Keith's Georgia this week offers a wide variety of entertainment with the Monge troupe opening the show with an acrobatic and tumbling turn that has thrills galore. Two young men by the names of Hurst and Vogh are seen in a skit entitled "Before the Bar." These two boys have a line of chatter and gags that keep the audience laughing all the time they are on the boards. The feature picture stars Esther Ralston and James Hall in "The Case of Lena Smith," a Paramount picture.

Howard.

Petite and winsome Nancy Carol, with Gary Cooper, is winning new fans for herself in the delightful opus, "Shopworn Angel," playing at the Howard this week. This story tells of the poignant love of an awkward Texas doughboy for a spoiled Broadway butterfly. On the same bill are Chic Sale, who will be remembered in "The Star Witness," and Gertrude Lawrence, an English actress, both offering enjoyable and entertaining numbers.

Metropolitan.

Richard Barthelmess, dynamic star of the screen, is scoring another hit with Atlanta's audiences this week in his latest and one of his most dramatic productions. It is "Scarlet Seas," in which the star appears as a cynical sea captain, who had seen the best and the worst in life, in love with a woman he wanted to hate, and helping her when he wanted to ruin her. Betty Compson plays the role of the woman. Johnny Burke is seen in "Clucked on the Corner," a hilarious Sennett comedy.

Rialto.

The Rialto offers this week, "The Spieler," featuring Renee Adoree. This colorful story is laid in a traveling carnival and depicts a torrid romance woven into a network of jealous intrigues. The star plays the role of a high diver, a part admirably suited to her, she being born of carnival parents and living with a carnival during her youth. Also on the bill are two good Vitaphone subjects, diverting and humorous.

Cameo.

The theme of "Jazz Mad," the feature attraction at the Cameo today, is outstanding because of its beauty and sincerity. There are no blood-curdling situations, no visions of life on its ugly side—only great drama at its highest pitch as Jean Hersholt so ably portrays it. Marian Nixon and George Lewis play the featured roles of Elsa, the musician's daughter, and her sweetheart. Their youthful appeal is notable in contrast to the older musician.

Empire.

Alamo No. 2.

Yet, in "Thanks for the Buggy Ride," which will be shown at Alamo Theater No. 2 on Thursday, the story is built around the ability of Tryon to rattle off jazz tunes, and Miss La Plante to sing them.

Ponce de Leon.

At last the perfect type of New York show girl has been discovered and presented for our delectation upon the screen. She is Alice White, who will dance into our midst today in "Show Girl." From the moment that Alice White, as "Dixie Dugan," enters the scene in her humble home, to the triumphant moments when she queens it as a Broadway musical comedy favorite, she is to the manner born. The stage lost a real star when Alice elected to cast her lot with the movies. The show is one of the cleverest we have ever offered. The titles throughout are knockouts. Friday you will also see Alice and amateur night also.

81 Theater.

Headlining the most famous colored comedian in the country, Doc Fogo, the brand-new New York production, "The Birth of the Blues," will be seen Friday night at the 81 theater in what is expected to be one of the most widely attended midnight frolics. Manager Tom Bailey announced that a number of fine seats still are on sale at Jacobs' pharmacy, despite unusually heavy demand.

In addition to the sensational new colored comic, the cast of this new show is said to be one of unusual talent and excellence and to present the show in shipshape manner. "Birth of the Blues" was written by two skilled musical comedy producers and the producers have provided the show with able talent. The Friday night performance begins at 11:30 sharp, it is announced.

Widow Tells of Friendship With Her Husband's Slayer

:: DEFENDANT UNMOVED DURING RECITAL ::

Nashville, Tenn., January 23.—(AP) Mrs. Eva Helen Cunningham, testifying in the trial of Walter L. Liggett, charged with murder in connection with the slaying of her husband, Turney Cunningham, today related to a jury her six-year association with the defendant.

Throughout the testimony of the 35-year-old widow, Liggett, a prominent young grain dealer here, seemed unmoved, as the woman kept her eyes centered on him throughout the time she was on the stand.

Cunningham, manager of a local hotel, was shot down in the back yard of his home the night of October 29, when he met Liggett leaving after a meeting with Mrs. Cunningham. Liggett entered a plea of self-defense.

Mrs. Cunningham testified that Liggett had urged her to get a divorce and once had told her "he could get someone of the Memphis underworld to knock off her husband."

Under a searching cross-examination, Mrs. Cunningham told of her meeting with Liggett six years ago when he picked her up in his automobile while she was waiting for a street car on a down-town street. She also related visits to a house in the central part of the city with the defendant, of two week-end trips, one spent at a hotel at Columbia, Tenn., and the other at Sewanee, Tenn., and numerous meetings in the garage of her home and on the campus of a near-by college.

Mrs. Cunningham testified that few days during the six years passed without Liggett calling her on the telephone, except for a brief period about two years ago when Cunningham discovered the affair and, at a conference with his wife, Liggett and the defendant's mother, extracted a promise from him to stay away from her.

The widow's testimony was given before a courtroom that was packed to capacity. She was still on the stand when court recessed for the day.

AIMEE M'PHERSON AND JUDGE HARDY CALLED IN PROBE

Los Angeles, January 23.—(AP)—Subpenas for Aimee Semplel McPherson and Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy were issued here today at the order of Chairman Walter Little, of the state legislative investigating committee, which has undertaken an examination of Judge Hardy's acceptance of a $2,500 check from the evangelist for "legal advice."

The subpoenas also commanded the evangelist and judge to bring a mass of documents before the committee which will seek to learn why Hardy should not be recommended for impeachment for the receiving of fees while in judicial office. Appearance before the committee of Judge Hardy and Mrs. McPherson was set for Saturday.

Judge Hardy recently was dropped from membership in the American Bar association because of the McPherson fee. The jurist has contended that the money received from the evangelist was in payment for past legal services, and in his judgment the transaction was ethical.

Getting Up Nights Is Nature's Danger Signal

Jos. F. Boedefeld, R. 30, Baden Station, St. Louis, Mo., says, "I will tell or write about my complete relief with Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula). How I was relieved of getting up nights and the terrible burning. Noticed a change in 3 days." It acts on bladder as epsom salts do on bowels. Drives out foreign deposits and lessens excessive acidity. This relieves the irritation that causes getting up nights. The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores, Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio, or locally at Jacobs' Pharmacy Co.—(adv.)

He had carried off the first prize for the best display of all varieties at the Georgia State Exposition here.

2. Entrants in 'RITHMETIC will be required to correctly add the numbers on any one or two or all three illustrations, each illustration representing a truck load of coal. Each illustration is known as a "Problem" and the "Problem" will be designated as "Problem No. 1," "Problem No. 2" and "Problem No. 3."

3. Three lists of prizes, which will be known as "Prize List No. 1," "Prize List No. 2," and "Prize List No. 3," will be awarded. The person or persons correctly naming the total represented by any one or any two or all three of the three problems shall be eligible for first prize in whatever prize list (whether 1, 2, or 3) such contestant is competing. The person or persons submitting the next nearest correct answer to any one or any two or all three of the "Problems" shall be eligible for the additional prizes in order of the correctness of the answers providing conformity is made to all the rules of 'RITHMETIC.

4. To qualify for a prize in 'RITHMETIC, each contestant must qualify his or her answers as follows:
PRIZE LIST No. 1 requires 2 annual subscriptions to The Daily and Sunday Atlanta Constitution, one of which must be new, at $9.50 each and accompanied by $19.00 in the form of money order, check, or cash.
PRIZE LIST No. 2 requires 1 annual subscription to The Daily and Sunday Atlanta Constitution either new or a renewal accompanied by $9.50 in the form of money order, check, or cash.
PRIZE LIST No. 3 requires 1 6-months subscription to The Daily and Sunday Atlanta Constitution either new or renewal and must be accompanied by $5 in the form of money order, check or cash. No solution unaccompanied by remittance as stated in Prize Lists Nos. 1, 2 and 3 will be recorded.

5. The contest will be closed to the public on February 14, 1929, at which time all solutions accompanied by the subscription requirement must be delivered to the office of The Atlanta Constitution by midnight, February 14, 1929, or mailed at any postoffice in Georgia or adjoining states bearing postmark of no later date than February 14, 1929. The result will be published as nearly as possible within from ten to fifteen days thereafter.

6. Any contestant is privileged to compete for an award in any one or all three of the prize lists and any contestant may win an award in each prize list. However, no contestant can win more than one prize out of each prize list. Any person upon entering or upon sending in an answer to 'RITHMETIC agrees to accept as final the decision of The Atlanta Constitution upon any or all questions that may be raised in the conducting of 'RITHMETIC and in the making of awards.

7. For each additional annual subscription, either new or renewal, and accompanied by $9.50 and over and above the requirement for each prize list, a contestant is privileged to submit an additional answer to the "Problem" in which that contestant is qualified. In other words, a contestant would be permitted to submit two sets of answers to "Prize List No. 1" if the two answers were accompanied by three annual subscriptions, whereas a contestant in "Prize List No. 2" would be required to submit two annual subscriptions in order to submit two sets of answers to "Prize List No. 2."

8. A contestant is privileged to advance from one prize list to another or to direct that his qualifying subscriptions be applied to whatever prize list he may choose, providing such notice is given in writing to The Atlanta Constitution on or before 12 days following the close of the contest.

9. In case of ties as many prizes will be reserved in each prize list as there are people tied in that prize list before any prizes are awarded for a less correct solution; that is, if two or more people should tie in submitting correct or nearest correct answers to any one of the problems, the first two or more prizes will be reserved for those persons so tying, and the prizes will be awarded in the correctness of the answers to such contestants to a second problem which will consist of adding another series of numbers. If any ties still remain, a third problem, consisting of numbers arranged in parallel and horizontal lines, and which is to be solved by starting at some number in the left-hand column of the numbered chart, drawing a line perpendicularly and horizontally across the chart through from three to five numbers, between each turn, until the line reaches a number on the opposite side of the illustration; then adding the numbers through which the line passes, will be presented to the tying contestants. The contestant whose line passes through the numbers according to the rules and who has the largest sum total, correctly added, will be declared the highest, etc. If necessary to eliminate further ties, the same numbered chart with slightly changed rules will be submitted, and this repeated if necessary, as many as four times, after which, should any ties exist for any award, each tying contestant will be given a duplicate prize.

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN,
Associated Press Market Editor.

Chicago, January 23.—In big trading, wheat soared today to new high prices for the season, but then heavy profit-taking sales brought about a setback. Reports of sub-zero temperatures and of numerous areas of winter wheat unprotected or under ice were largely responsible for the upward swing of the market.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 3-4c lower, with corn 1-2c to 7-8c down, oats ranging from 1-4c decline to 1-8c advance, and provisions showing 12c to 37c gain.

Wheat buying on a broad scale today with corresponding sharp, upturns in price developed in the face of Liverpool wheat quotations very unresponsive to advances which had taken place yesterday on this side of the Atlantic. Official reports, though, that growing wheat in parts of Kansas were frozen in the ground and that throughout much of the main section of the western wheat belt the planted acreage is bare of snow led promptly to aggressive action among believers in higher prices, and as a result the market here jumped away from declines which had been registered at the opening.

Especially attracting notice were advices that snowfalls in many sections had melted into sheets of ice which had sealed up the wheat fields and were preventing proper aeration. On the other hand, 14 3-4c a bushel rise in wheat values shown to have been attained since January 5 led to considerable change in trade sentiment near the end of the day, and there was much talk that a reaction was in order.

Corn, oats and rye were swayed largely by the course of wheat. In the corn market, there was active spread trading against wheat at times but also lively undoing of spreads. Cables reported rains in the Argentine corn belt, mostly over Buenos Aires province. Meanwhile, country offerings of corn to Chicago were limited. Deferred deliveries both of oats and rye went temporarily to above the season's previous top.

Provisions showed increasing activity, and reflected hog market upturns to the highest point reached since October.

New York, January 23.—(AP)—Metal and some utility issues were pushed to record levels today in mixed trading on the bond market, only to lose part or all their gains in late afternoon profit-taking. Sales for the second time in two months exceeded $12,000,000. Further importation of gold from England and buoyancy of the stock market seemed to stimulate buying of speculative issues.

Anaconda Copper 7s reached a new peak at 205, only to fall back to 202 before the close for a net loss of one point on the day. Chile Copper 5s at 95 1-2 also established a new high and managed to hold most of their gain. A new high was attained by Wickwire Spencer Steel convertible 7s with an advance of 2 1-8 points to 50 1-2, reflecting predictions of record business in the industry for the first quarter of 1929. Weakness was displayed by National Dairy Products 5 1-4s and Hudson Coal 5s and Kayser & Co. 5 1-2s, the latter two dropping to new low levels.

Utilities showed improvement, although Public Service of New Jersey 4 1-2s closed net 4 points lower on the day after touching its previous peak price of 202. This slump followed reports the company was issuing more stock. International Telephone convertible 4 1-2s resumed their upward march into new high ground, closing with a net gain of 2 1-8 points.

St. Paul adjustment 5s led the advance in the irregular rail group, establishing a new peak at 80 on a heavy turnover. Ulster & Delaware convertible 5s and refunding 4s with gains of one and eight points, respectively, set new high records. Weakness cropped out in Northern Pacific 6s B, Hudson & Manhattan refunding 5s and Rock Island 4 1-2s and refunding 4s.

Oils were fractionally lower. Humble Oil 5s, however, improved. Italian industrials dominated the irregular foreign list. Montecatini 7s with warrants advanced 2 points and Pirelli 7s improved on a large turnover.

PROFIT-TAKING AT HIGHER LEVELS CAUSES IRREGULARITY ON CURB

Increase in Copper Prices Helps Metal, Mining Issues

New York, January 23.—(AP)—Profit-taking at the higher levels caused widespread irregularity in the curb market today, although a number of issues again invaded new high ground under the leadership of the utilities. Money rates held firm, but banks called about $5,000,000 in loans and there appeared to be some nervousness over expectations that tomorrow's brokers' loan total will show a wide increase.

Increase in copper prices and a comparatively bright outlook for other metals encouraged buying of mining and metal shares, although a few yielded to selling pressure. Oils also moved to lower levels, liquidation in this group being encouraged by production reports showing weekly crude output at record January levels.

Gains in the utility group again were wide, running 9 points or more. Electric Bond & Share attracted much of the buying, and with Electric Investors, American Light & Traction, Italian Superpower, United Gas Improvement and others moved to new top prices for the year.

A 3-point break in Noranda on disclosure of a rather unfavorable earning situation and heaviness of Shattuck Denn seemed to augment selling of the mining and metal shares, although most issues held their gains, such as Consolidated Mining & Smelting, up 10 points net: Falcon Lead up 6; Lake Superior, New Jersey Zinc and Mond Nickel, all of which established new peaks.

Aluminum Company of America, American Cyanamid B. Bristol-Myers, United Piece Dye Works, U. S. Freight, Gotham Knit-Bac Machine, Hazeltine, Zenith and Williams Oil Heater were among the specialties to reach new highs. Substantial gains were made by Aviation Corporation, Deere & Co., Skinner Organ, Royal Typewriter and Republic Brass.

Oils generally were weak, but stocks of investment trusts specializing in oil company securities forged ahead on buying inspired by organization of additional trusts of this type. Oil Stocks Limited A and Tri-Continent when issued established new highs. United Gas advanced more than a point to a new top at 29 3-4 on announcement the company will participate with Standard of New Jersey in building a pipe line from the Louisiana gas fields to St. Louis.

New York, January 23.—(AP)—Larger ginning figures than expected were followed by considerable selling and liquidation of old long accounts in the cotton market today. The bulk of the declines were recovered in the late trading. March contracts, after selling at 19.89 rallied to 20.10 and closed at 20.08, compared with 20.15 at the close of yesterday. The general market closed firm, net 7 points lower to 2 points higher.

The market opened easy at a decline of 8 to 19 points under selling brought in by relatively easy Liverpool cables and the report of the census bureau showing 13,891,857 bales ginned prior to January 16. These figures apparently were a disappointment to holders of contracts, running about 200,000 bales above recent private estimates. The selling movement became active and general as prices worked lower.

Some stop orders were uncovered on the decline and while trade buying was in evidence on a scale down from the 20-cent level, the decline extended to 19.90 for January and 19.53 for July. At these prices old crop positions showed net losses of about 25 to 27 points, while the new crop sold 22 to 23 points net lower. The volume of offerings tapered off at these figures, however, and the market was less active with the tone steadier during the afternoon.

The buying by trade interests on the early declines seemed to have improved its technical position and there was covering or rebuying by some of the early sellers on the rallies which followed. January advanced to 20.13 and July to 19.76 in the late trading, or within 2 to 5 points of yesterday's closing quotations. The close was within a point or two of the best.

There appeared to be difference of opinion on interpretation of the given figures. Some traders said they were about in line with the government's estimate of the crop. Others thought they tended to eliminate all crop ideas of below the government's estimate and that if anything they pointed to a slightly larger outturn. Still another view was that any difference between final ginning figures and the crop estimate was not likely to be sufficient to have much if any distant influence on values. Exports today 12,760 bales, making 5,444,120 for this season. Port receipts 22,642. United States port stocks 2,261,425.

MARKET EASES OFF ABOUT $1.50 BALE.

New Orleans, January 23.—(AP)—The cotton market eased off practically $1.50 a bale today following issuance of the census bureau's ginning total which was larger than expected but a good trade and outside demand developed in afternoon trading and fully a dollar a bale of the loss was recovered. March contracts sold down to 19.25, then rallied to 19.45 and closed one point under the latter figure for a net loss of 12 points. The general market closed steady at net declines of 7 to 14 points.

Liverpool cables were slightly lower than due at the start here but as the census figures showing 13,891,857 running bales ginned prior to January 16, were larger than expected first trades here showed losses of 24 to 26 points. Prices continued downward after the start under rather aggressive selling and although offerings were absorbed at one time on realizing by satisfied shorts and prices rallied 8 to 14 points, January eventually eased off to 19.19, March 19.25 and May 19.26 or 30 to 31 points net down.

Near noon the market turned quiet and ruled within the early range but always near the lows until near the close there was considerable trade and outside buying as well as covering by shorts and before the demand was supplied January recovered to 19.37, March 19.45 and May 19.47, or 18 to 21 points up from the lows of the morning. Final prices were one point under the top on active positions with January showing the maximum loss of 14 points.

Associated Press Financial Writer.

New York, January 23.—(AP)—A powerful bull campaign inspired by further taking of gold from London ran into rather heavy liquidation on the stock market today. Although a wide assortment of issues reached new high ground, the general list made only moderate headway.

While the inveterate bulls were inclined to make the most of the resumed inflow of British gold, totaling $7,500,000 with today's taking of $5,000,000, opinion as to the probable volume of the movement varied sharply. With tomorrow's federal reserve brokers' loan total generally expected to reach a new high record, there was a fairly widespread disposition to take profits.

The selling was readily absorbed, however, and nervousness over the brokerage loan announcement was less marked than in recent weeks. Banks have been paying off their loans at the reserve institutions, and any plan for a higher rediscount rate is regarded as highly unlikely especially as it might encourage the gold movement from London.

The prospects of a heavy inflow of gold were regarded as less bright, with the announcement that Montague Norman, governor the Bank of England, sailed for New York today, presumably to confer with the federal reserve authorities. He usually makes a visit at this time of year, however. The Bank of England is generally understood to hope to prevent a flow of gold to New York that would impair its reserves, and the federal reserve authorities are not anxious to see an expansion of credit through gold imports.

Call money held at 6 per cent. But the tone was somewhat firmer than yesterday. Time money held firmly at its abnormally righ rates. Call money a year ago was as low as 3 per cent.

The day's news included an unusually cheerful weekly review of the steel industry by "Iron Age," which pointed to higher steel scrap prices and keen demand for finished steel as the important features of the steel market this week. Copper was advanced to 17 cents a pound, domestic, and still higher prices were talked of. News from the oil industry was less favorable, with an advance in crude production to record levels, with easing gasoline prices. A stock exchange seat sold for a new record price at $625,000, and the exchange announced expansion of its telephone quotation facilities.

Utilities were prominent in the day's advances, the Associated Press index of 20 of this group advancing more than 2 points to a new high. The indices for 50 industrials and 20 rails also were carried to new high levels, in gains of around a point.

Chemical shares made wide gains, Allied Chemical and Union Carbide making extreme gains of 10 and 13 points, which were reduced to 4 and 6 at the close. National Cash Register was a strong feature, mounting nearly 15 points to a new high record at 127.

Some of the coppers forged ahead. Greene Cananea mounted 9 points, but lost half its gain. International Nickel touched a new peak on consummation of the merger with Mond. Steels encountered profit-taking, United States Steel closing more than a point lower. General Motors old stock made an extreme gain of about 5 points, but other motor shares failed to follow.

Columbia Gas, Consolidated Gas, American Power & Light, American Telephone and International Telephone sold up 3 to 9 points. Public Service of New Jersey was an exception to the general trend in the utility group, sagging more than 2 points. Canadian Pacific led the rails with a spurt of more than 7 points, touching 250. New York Central sold up more than 4 points, but cancelled most of its gain. Westinghouse Electric and General Electric made extreme gains of 5 and 8 points.

Oils were generally heavy. Shell Transport losing nearly 3 points and Marlin and Standard of New York about a point. Rio Grande, however, was strong, jumping more than 4 points. Baldwin Locomotive sold down 8 points, while American Radiator, Best & Co., Goodrich and National Biscuit receded about 2 points each.

The commodity markets were easier. Cotton sold off on the government ginnings report, which was somewhat larger than expected, but rallied somewhat later. Wheat sold up during most of the session, but encountered profit-taking toward the close.

Foreign exchanges were steady, although sterling failed to rally above the incoming gold point.

Cottonseed Oil.

NEW YORK.

New York, January 23.—Cottonseed oil was more active and firmer today, closing at net advances of 5 to 10 points. The rise was influenced by strength of lard, a rally in cotton and firmness of crude oil. Refiners bought March and sold July, while commission houses did the reverse. Sales 33,800 barrels. Prime crude 8.87½; prime summer yellow spot 10.25; January closed 10.30; March 10.52; May 10.73; July 10.93; August 11.00.

NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, January 23.—Despite the census report showing larger ginnings than looked for the market for cottonseed oil futures ruled firmer today owing to a further advance in lard. Prime summer yellow oil closed at 9.40, up 10 points, and prime crude closed at 8.50 to 8.75. Futures closed firm, January 9.35; March 9.48; May 9.60; July 9.80; September 9.87.

Sugar.

New York, January 23.—There was no change in raw sugar prices today. Offerings were more liberal and demand less active. The only sales reported were 15,000 bags of Cuban to an operator and 25,000 bags to an outport refiner, but for early February shipments at 3.83 duty paid.

Early steadiness in raw sugar futures was followed by an easier trend in the later trading and final prices showed net losses of 1 to 5 points. The market opened unchanged to 2 points higher on covering and a little trade buying. The failure of demand to broaden in the spot market, restricted any aggressive demand and prices weakened later under liquidation and selling by houses with Cuban connections.

Final prices were the lowest of the session. There appeared to be sufficient uncertainty over the tariff situation to restrict outside interest. Trading was fairly active, but it consisted principally of exchanging from the near to the later positions, with buyers of near months selling the distant deliveries. Approximate sales 69,800 tons. January closed 1.98; March 2.03; May 2.13; July 2.17; September 2.20; December 2.21; January, 1930, 2.19.

The market for refined was quiet and unchanged at 5.10 for fine granulated, although withdrawals on old contracts were fairly active.

Market Gossip

Stock Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

New York, January 23.—(Special.)—The market today showed well distributed strength except in motors and oils. The fierce competition in the automobile business expected this year intensifies the speculative character of most automobile stocks.

As to the oils, continued reports of overproduction, gasoline price cuts and indications of an impending cut in crude prices, strengthen our belief that holdings in this group should be liquidated with a few exceptions.

Abundant supply of call money at 6 per cent or less is helping to keep the market going but in the event that brokers' loans show a sizeable increase the market may be expected to soften by the end of the week.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

New York, January 23.—(Special.)—After a strong first hour this morning and a period of hesitancy around noon, stocks moved forward again in the early afternoon this time under the leadership of several of the high grade rails, such as Canadian Pacific and New York Central. In Wall street rumors are placing the strength in Canadian Pacific at the door of the Cutten group. Another feature of the strength was the recovery in some of the motor shares under the leadership of Chrysler, which sold above 122 only to lose several points of its gain near the close.

Many stocks lost a good part of their day's gain in the last hour as traders took advantage of strength to prepare for the usual uncertainty that pervades Wall street each week before the Thursday afternoon developments, money remained at 6 per cent but a firmer tone was reported. Banks called a little money. The weekly iron and steel trade reviews pointed to increasing pressure on steel mills for specifications.

JACKSON BROS., BOESEL & CO.

New York, January 23.—(Special.)—There is always a certain amount of irregularity in the stock market in anticipation of brokerage loan figures. The statement on loans is due after the closing today. We estimate that an increase of around $50,000,000 will be shown. Even this amount would bring the total loan account to a new record high.

We see nothing disconcerting in this, particularly in view of the fact that the rediscounting privilege of federal reserve member banks is not responsible for the increase in brokerage loans. We would maintain a constructive position and add to holdings of stocks previously recommended on minor reactions.

Cotton Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

New York, January 23.—(Special.)—The ginnings returns were larger than had been expected and market dropped $1.50 a bale after the figures of the bureau were announced, owing to liquidation and short selling.

Trade interests came into the market as large buyers and checked the decline within a few minutes after the report was received. Thereafter the market held steady with little change until in the late afternoon when early sellers tried to cover and gave it a fair-sized rally. Resistance of the market to pressure and lack of renewed liquidation apparently induced the covering.

The census bureau reports 13,891,857 bales ginned to January 16, leaving about 481,000 to be ginned to make good the government estimate. Ginnings in Georgia and the Carolinas are slightly larger than the government estimate but weight of bales in these states is considerably under 500 pounds, and difference is small. Indications are that the other states will make good the government prediction, but it is not generally believed there will be much difference between the two final figures when final report is in.

There is also not likely to be much difference between weights of 500-pound and running bales.

Trade reports favorable, New England reported running overtime to make up spring orders. The future of the market depends upon the attitude of the trade. If it continues to buy freely market is likely to hold. If not it may decline.

H. & B. BEER.

New Orleans, January 23.—(Special.)—Census bureau returns, as to cotton ginned to January 16 showing larger than generally expected 13,891,857 bales vs. 12,591,447 to corresponding date last season, or 743,446 bales for the last period against 428,684 for same period last year caused a sharp decline in the cotton market this morning.

Numerous states, especially the Atlantics had nearly as much or more cotton ginned to the sixteenth instance than the government estimated per state last December.

Liverpool cabled: Hedge selling and long liquidation. Good calling of cotton at the decline. Manchester reports active China business and fair sales to South America and the near east.

The larger ginnings than generally looked for are likely to take the edge off the market for the present, or until there is a revival in the spot demand, which has been quieter of late.

The impression prevails that census ginnings to sixteenth instance, fully confirms the December government crop estimate for a yield of 14,373,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Cotton goods were steady and quiet in New York yesterday in the gray goods division. Printed goods and fine converted goods sold well. Colored cottons were more active.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, January 23.—(Special.)—The ginning report issued by the government indicating the ginnings to January 15 of 13,891,857 proved more or less a surprise to the trade as they had anticipated ginnings not over 13½ million bales. Consequently when this report was issued heavy liquidation took place which caused a decline in the market of some 25 points under yesterday's close, but as is usual in declines of this kind the trade absorbed a great number of contracts so that late in the afternoon the market was very scarce of contracts and when fresh buying came into the market toward the close a sharp rally followed, putting prices practically to last night's close and overcoming the decline witnessed during the early part of the day.

It will take a few days for the trade to digest this report and it is now a question of whether they will continue to pursue the old policy of waiting to buy cotton on declines or whether the improvement in the trade warrants their paying over 20 cents for cotton.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

New York, January 23.—(Special.)—While today's ginning figures of 13,891,857 bales suggested a crop practically in conformity with the government estimate of 14,373,000 this fact that the figures slightly exceeded general expectations unsettled the market and precipitated considerable liquidation which, combined with local and southern selling resulted in a break of about 25 points. The contracts were absorbed largely by the trade which checked the decline and induced a covering movement, bringing about a sharp recovery.

Final prices showing losses of only 2 to 5 points on old crops while new crop months were practically unchanged. We see nothing in the situation to alter our opinion that the existing conditions point to higher prices.

ORVIS BROS. & CO.

New York, January 23.—(Special.)—The census report on cotton ginned prior to January 16, was slightly larger than the trade anticipated from earlier private estimates and brought a large volume of long liquidation and some short selling. Prices declined to under 19.90 for the near months before buying developed in sufficient volume to bring about a rally of 7 to 8 points. The market held steady during the early afternoon and in the late trading advanced sharply on short covering to close at the highs of the day only 3 to 4 points below yesterday.

The ginnings of 13,891,857 indicated a ginning of 744,956 for the period since December 13, compared with 428,684 last year and a four-year average of 671,630 bales. They represent 96.7 per cent of the last crop estimate of 14,373,000 and as the average proportion for the past four years was 96.3 per cent do not signify any increase over the government's prediction of final yield.

Reports from textile centers indicated some improvement in the demand for yarns and goods with sellers holding firm for asking prices. Exports so far this week are 119,705 against 95,599 last year, and for the season show a gain of practically 950,000, compared with this date a year ago.

The market will probably encounter renewed liquidation on any substantial advance from this level, but its action today indicates the advisability of purchases on declines to under 20 cents for the near months.

March Liverpool due 10.33.

MILDER WEATHER IS BIG BENEFIT TO CROPS IN FLORIDA

Jacksonville, Fla., January 23.—(AP)—Exceptionally mild weather, with temperatures ranging from 5 to 14 degrees above normal, prevailed in Florida during the past week and was highly beneficial to crop growth, said the weekly crop and weather report issued today by A. J. Mitchell, government meteorologist here.

Rainfall, which occurred on several days, was unfavorable on lowlands of the extreme northern and western counties, but was beneficial over the central portions, while in the south, where there has been a drouth, it was insufficient.

Farm work generally made favorable progress, although in some sections of the western and southern portions of the state it was retarded either by too much rainfall or a lack of precipitation.

LIFE INSURANCE SALES ESTABLISH NEW HIGH RECORD

New York, January 23.—(AP)—Life insurance sales increased last year $1,365,000,000 over 1927 in the United States to a new high level for all time of $18,500,000,000 the Association of Life Insurance Presidents announced today. All branches—ordinary, industrial and group insurance—showed increases over 1927. It was the seventh consecutive year to show increases over the preceding year.

These figures bring the total of life insurance in force on January 1 in legal reserve companies to $95,000,000,000. This is an average of $1,462 for each of the 65,000,000 policyholders, or $787 per capita for the entire population of the United States.

The amount of the ordinary insurance of all companies at the close of 1928 was $11,990,000,000, compared to $11,405,000,000 at the close of 1927, a gain of $585,000,000. The total of industrial insurance was $4,595,000,000 against $4,464,000,000, an increase of $131,000,000. The group insurance total increased to $1,915,000,000 from $1,266,000,000.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 16

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan had early learned to form ropes by twisting and tying long grasses together. By constant experimenting, he learned to tie rude knots and make sliding nooses. Then, with painstaking practice, he learned the art of roping. He would catch some playfellows thus, to the other apes' unlimited amusement.

To Tarzan the closed and silent cabin was always a source of never-ending mystery and pleasure. His own connection with the cabin had never been told him. Kala had explained vaguely that his father had been a strange white ape. He didn't know that Kala was not his own mother.

The apes avoided the deserted abode. Only too well they remembered its deadly thunder-stick! One day Tarzan found the door, spending hours examining it and fussing with the hinges, the knob, and latch. Finally he stumbled upon the right combination—the door swung creakingly open before his astonished eyes.

Tarzan slowly and cautiously entered. He saw three skeletons, giving but passing heed. The other contents riveted his attention! He opened chests, examining minutely strange tools, weapons, books and clothing. Finding a sharp hunting knife, he immediately cut his finger. A child's illustrated alphabet interested him greatly. Dusk was approaching.

Tarzan departed, taking the hunting knife to show his fellows. Suddenly a great form rose up—it was Bolgani the huge gorilla! Tarzan knew he must stand and fight for his life. He met the brute mid-way in its charge. They rolled upon the ground in the fierce frenzy of combat.

ATLANTA IS GROWING
WOULD you like for the growth of Atlanta to make you a profit? Then start right by buying a home and paying for it on disappearing mortgage plan.

WEST END HEIGHTS—Corner of Lawton street and Donnelly Ave., is a good place to buy that home.

I HAVE just finished some real, five and six-room houses, brick veneer, hardwood floors, tile bath, furnace, copper screens, sleeping porches, and if you paid twice as much as I am asking you would not get better materials or workmanship.

YOUR payments are the same each month, no interest coupon to look out for, no reductions on loans, just the same each month, no more than the house would rent for. T. C. Holmes, owner, 1134 Donnelly Ave. WE. 0172 or DE. 0182.

The Day in Finance

By R. L. BARNUM

Another shipment of $5,000,000 Gold From England Has Favorable Influence on Stock Market.

New York, January 23.—Another shipment of $5,000,000 gold is coming from London. This makes $7,500,000 gold engaged at London during the past two days. This, together with today's news that the governor of the Bank of England is coming to New York, had a favorable influence on stock market sentiment.

Wall street assumes that gold imports will continue and that the head of the Bank of England is coming here to talk over the international gold movement with officials of the federal reserve.

It was learned today that a very large investment trust is now being formed to handle only automobile stocks. Shares in the new investment trust handling only oil shares were offered to the public today.

Int sts behind the new investment trust to deal only in automobile shares have been active in the recent bull market for automobile shares, accumulating large lines. Cutten, of Chicago, is believed to be one of those interested in the new automobile share investment trust. It is no secret in informed Wall street that one object of the many recently formed investment trusts is to market in a new way stocks that have been accumulated.

Investment Trusts Factor.

The investment trust also solves the problem of how cake may be eaten and held too. By selling investment trust shares holders of stock not only market their holdings and get back their money with a profit but voting control of the stock thus marketed continues to be held as a result of the stock deposited for collateral for the investment trust shares sold to the public.

Undoubtedly buying of stock in the open market by new and old investment trusts is one of the factors in the resumed bull stock market. In the first half hour today no less than 933,000 shares of stock changed hands, the opening being largely in blocks of 5,000 and 10,000 shares. Afterwards the volume of trading fell off but the market continued firm.

A new high record was made today for all time in the average price of 50 representative stocks. Price changes, however, were less sensational than recently.

Public utility shares were the feature under the leadership of Public Service of New Jersey. This company increased its annual dividend from $2.25 to $2.50. It also offers the holders of preferred and common stock the right to subscribe for new common stock at $65 a share. The rights were figured worth $1.25 a share early in the day.

Public Service of N. J. Active.

Public Service of New Jersey made an astonishing showing for 1928. Figures made public today indicate that the surplus for dividends last year was $22,972,000 against $14,334,000 for 1927. For the year there was a gain of 70 per cent in net income. For December alone there was a gain of no less than 100 per cent compared with the same period of the previous year. Public Service of New Jersey for years has been plowing back earnings into the property and in recent years has succeeded in getting large increases in the rates charged the public for gas and electricity, all of which is reflected in today's preliminary earnings statement for 1928.

Goodrich Tire & Rubber reports only $1.50 a share earned for 1928 against $15.44 for 1927, which at first made Wall street wonder why the company's shares recently have been advancing. The detailed statement shows that $5.11 was earned during the last six months against a deficit of $1,575,000 for the first six months. Evidently the company charged off large inventory losses the first part of the year, resulting from the collapse in the price of crude rubber and then started the last half of the year with a clean slate.

Stewart Defeat Seen.

Friends of Colonel Stewart, chairman of Standard Oil of Indiana, now admit he has lost his fight with the Rockefellers, already having 45 per cent of the votes to be cast at the March election. However, they argue that if Rockefeller wins it will mean disruption of the Standard Oil of Indiana organization which stands behind Stewart.

The average trader in the stock market these days probably has some of the feelings of "a poor boy at a party." On January 4 the average price of 50 stocks made a new high for all times at 237.47 against the 1928 high of 231.45 made on December 31. From the January 4 high of 237.47 there was a decline to 228.38 on January 8, followed by a recovery that touched 237.17 on the opening day of this week, within a small fraction of the January 4 high with the average yesterday at a new high for all time at 239.96. On the same day actual count, however, showed more stocks with a minus sign for the day than with a plus sign. Hence the feeling on the part of many traders of being in the cold on the outside of what is going on. The reason for this is that the average price of 50 stocks is made up of many high-priced fast steppers not held by the average trader.

Bonds on Downward Grade.

While the average price of 50 stocks continues to climb to a new high level for all time the average price of bonds continues to climb to a new high level rection. Early this week Liberty bonds dropped below par for the first time in five years. Then there was a slight recovery in these issues, not because the bond market had changed its mind about the money market but because foreign governments have the right to pay our government interest or principal on the wartime loans made in Liberty bonds accepted by our government at par. When Liberty issues drop below par naturally foreign governments having payments to make to our government are buyers, thus supporting the market for Liberty bonds.

It was recently pointed out that with the exception so far of 1920 time money in this market for the last half of 1928 was the highest for any six months in the history of the country. For seasonal reasons this year there has been an easing in the market for call money. But there has been no change in time money. The existing high rates for time money are responsible for resumption of gold imports. High money here has also checked the sale of foreign bonds in this market part of the proceeds of which was taken in gold more than off-setting our gold imports last year. Moreover we had a favorable foreign trade balance last year of over $1,000,000,000, the largest in five years, all of which points to continued gold imports by us.

Unemployed British Workers Start March To Demand Work

Glasgow, Scotland, January 23—(AP) March of unemployed workers on London began today when 150 Scottish shipyard workmen and miners left here. Similar parties plans to start from other points in Scotland and South Wales converging on London with the hope of influencing the government to increase assistance to those without work.

The trades union congress is officially discouraging the march. It is stated that the journey in bad weather entails great hardship on men already suffering from the effects of long unemployment and is likely to achieve no useful object. A similar march was organized in 1927 by A. J. Cook, the miners' leader.
